MARRIED LIFE THE SECOND YEAR

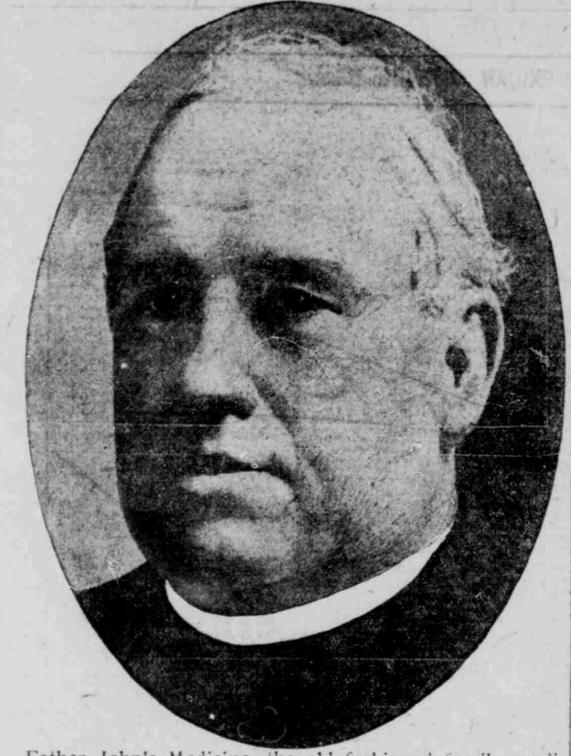

By MABEL HERBERT URNER.

No. 9—THE DALTONS.

The Daltons were very rich and Helen thought—very ordinary. But Will Dalton was an influential man, and one who might be very handy in a business way. And since Mrs. Dalton had repeatedly invited him to come up some evening, Warren felt they should go. Helen did not want to go, both because she frankly did not like Mrs. Dalton and because Will Dalton drank a great deal, and she thought his companionship anything but good for Warren.

However, when he insisted that they go one evening she reluctantly agreed. They took the subway to the Riverside apartment, where the Daltons lived, and where they were greeted most effusively. Mrs. Dalton was in an elaborate dress and Helen felt that she was a little out of place. Although Helen knew she was not there because she was tired, and because it was ineffective. She was an admirably handsome woman of rather coarse type. And her apartment was an exact reflection of herself. It was lavishly and inharmoniously furnished. Everything seemed to have been bought because it was expensive and looked so.

HOW A DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION WAS GIVEN THE NAME IT BEARS

Father John's Medicine, the old fashioned family medicine which has had over 50 years' success in the east, is now being introduced here for the first time.

Wherever it has been advertised and established it is the leading selling preparation on account of its recognized merit and impressive endorsements by clergy, hospitals, doctors, etc. A partial list will be printed later.

Father John's Medicine will cure coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles, prevent consumption, and make flesh and strength if taken faithfully. It is not a patent medicine, and does not contain alcohol or poisonous drugs.

Father John's Medicine was originally prescribed for Rev. Father John O'Brien, of Lowell, Mass., in 1855, by an eminent physician. He was very much "run down" and suffering from a severe cough and cold.

The medicine produced such wonderful results in his case that he afterwards recommended it to his parishioners and friends.

In this way it became popularly known as Father John's Medicine and many thousands have since been benefited by this valuable prescription.

As a guarantee that this story of Father John's Medicine is absolutely true, the sum of $25,000.00 will be given to any charitable institution if it can be shown otherwise.

Father John's Medicine is for sale in South Bend by Coonley Drug Co., cor. Washington av. and Michigan st., also Public Drug store, Woods & Streibel, 113 S. Michigan st., and practically all other drug stores in the city. If you have any difficulty in getting Father John's Medicine from your druggist, write to Father John's Medicine, Lowell, Mass., enclosing one dollar for a full sized bottle.

paying $175 for this gown—and I've often paid Willier $200. You really can't get a dinner gown for much less."

Helen wanted to say that she had never paid more than $65 in her life. But instead she murmured, "I suppose not."

And then Mrs. Dalton launched into details of other gowns and other extravaganzas. "Well, I wonder if those men think we don't want something to drink, too?" she demanded finally.

"Oh, not for me!" Helen said hastily. "Why, of course—it'll rest you. Will! Will!" she called loudly. "Will!" louder still.

Helen is shocked. "Hey there! and Mr. Dalton appeared in the door much flushed and with a cigar in his hand. Warren was just behind him, also smoking and also flushed.

"What are you going to bring us—you selfish people?"

"Why, of course—of course! You must pardon me, Mrs. Curtis, we were so busy talking—"

"Oh cut that out and get us something to drink!" Mrs. Dalton demanded.

Helen looked at her in amazement. How could any woman look like that? But evidently her husband thought nothing of it, for he only laughed and asked, "Well, what will you have?"

Mrs. Dalton turned to Helen. "A highball, or would you rather have cognac?"

"Nothing at all. Really I do not wish anything."

"Of course you do. Bring us two Scotch highballs. I'm sure Mrs. Curtis will change her mind when they come."

Helen flushed. If Mrs. Dalton thought that was hospitality, she thought it was exceedingly rude.

In a few moments Mr. Dalton brought in the two glasses, and drew up a little table to place them on. Helen made no further protest, but her glass remained untouched.

"Oh, now you're going to drink some of it?" Mrs. Dalton pleaded.

"To be sure she is," urged Mr. Dalton. "Why, yes, Helen, a little won't hurt you," agreed Warren.

"No, thank you. I really prefer tea." And then fearing her answer had been rather stiff, she softened it with: "But I should like a glass of vichy."

And this was brought her. But don't stay in here; let's all go in the library," suggested Mr. Dalton. It's much more comfortable there."

The library was much more comfortable. It was not quite so ornate and ostentatious. A bottle of Scotch and one of vichy, some vichy, a box of cigars were on the center table.

Helen felt that already Warren had had too much to drink and she was anxious to go home. She waited a few moments and then asked the time.

Delay and Highballs. "Oh, it's early yet," Mr. Dalton said cheerfully. "Just a little after ten."

"And Mrs. Dalton was very tired when we came (the excuse given for

A CLERGYMAN'S EXPERIENCE

Came Near Losing His Life—How He Escaped.

The following letter was received by The Peruna Co., from Rev. G. W. Roberts, R. R. 2, Box 27, Hartwell, Alabama, under date of April 2, 1904, which is exactly nine years ago. He says: "I take pleasure in informing you of what your Peruna has done for me after three years of suffering. I had tried the treatments of several doctors, also home remedies, but they failed and all hope had gone. My friends, like myself, thought I was in the last stages of consumption. My daughter brought me a bottle of Peruna and plead with me to try it. I had got so weak I had lost my voice, and I thought it no use. That was in May, 1902. I began to take it according to directions. I wrote to you, and you gave me your kind advice. "I soon felt better, my cough began to give way, and the expectoration lessened. I have taken fourteen bottles, I feel well, eat hearty, sleep soundly, weigh as much as I ever did, do considerable work on my farm, and attend to my other business. My friends seem astonished at my recovery. "I wish to thank you for your kind advice and the books you have sent me. I shall ever praise your medicine and hope that you may enjoy a long life." It will be observed that Rev. Roberts waited two years after he began to use Peruna, before he wrote the above letter to The Peruna Co. So that his apparent recovery could not possibly have been temporary relief. In a later letter to The Peruna Co., dated September 22, 1906, Rev. Roberts says: "I am a great friend of
