

SELFISHNESS IS CAUSE OF EVIL

Overflow Meeting Necessary When Dr. David Hill Speaks on "The Devil and Where Did He Come From."

An overflow meeting was necessary at the First Evangelical church, Lafayette and Monroe sts., last night when Rev. David Hill spoke on "The Devil and Where He Came From."

Rev. Mr. Hill explained that selfishness was responsible for the origin of the devil. Up to that time he had been an angel of light, but he could not be satisfied. He wanted to become like unto God. The mere desire put him out of harmony with heaven and he was cast out.

Then he began his fight which he has waged on man ever since. He tempted our first parents and by his success in accomplishing their downfall was able to bring further suffering to man which was a great boon to Satan, who like all selfish people want others to suffer more than they.

Mr. Hill said that the only way to rid the devil of his power was through Christ. He said that there was no way of ridding the world of selfishness other than through religion. Neither education nor legislation will do it, he said. Neither will the people be able to vote it out.

Tonight Rev. Mr. Hill will speak on "What does the Bible say about the sinning Christian?" The meetings are to be continued next week.

Title Insurance

Like Fire Insurance is a form of insurance for the protection of Real Estate Owners. There are certain risks that the owner must either carry himself or he must have some responsible company carry for him.

When you buy Real Estate require the title to be insured by the Indiana Title & Loan Company. It will then examine the title so carefully that it will be willing to issue a policy guaranteeing that you will never suffer a loss by reason of a defect in the title.

BEGIN TRIAL TO SET WILL ASIDE

Mrs. Laura J. Everitt Alleges Sister Left Property to a Cousin: While She Was in Serious Condition.

LAPORTE, Nov. 15.—The will case of Laura J. Everitt, Indianapolis, against Thomas Marr, was begun here. The plaintiff seeks to have the will of her sister, Mrs. Annie Black, set aside, alleging that the will which left everything to the defendant, who was only a distant cousin, was drawn when Mrs. Black was sick and unable to transact business, the will being written only a month before she died.

A struck jury will try the case. The case will probably consume three weeks.

Annie W. Black married when a young woman to Philip Black. With him she operated a hotel at Peru, Ind., where they accumulated considerable money. About the time of her husband's death, twenty years ago, she became acquainted with her cousin, Thomas Marr. They immediately merged their business interests and while they never married, lived together and traveled together. Marr, according to the plaintiff, had very little if any money at that time and there business ventures, which were mostly of a speculative nature, were made on the money of Mrs. Black.

Among the properties which it is alleged they accumulated, was a large flat building. At the time of the death of Mrs. Black her estate was estimated at about $50,000.

For a few months before the death of Mrs. Black in January, 1910, she had been in ill health. October 13, 1909, a contract was drawn between Mrs. Black and Marr, by which at the death of either of the parties to the contract the entire estate of the two was to have gone to the other, but at the time of the death of the survivor the estate was to be divided into two equal parts, one part to go to the heirs of Mrs. Black and one part to the heirs of Mr. Marr.

December 29, of the same year, a will was prepared by Mrs. Black, in which she left all of her property to Mr. Marr, estimated at nearly $50,000, stating, however, in the will, that the instrument should not be construed as to invalidate the contract. Mrs. Black died the next month.

Three months after the death Marr filed the will for probate, but gave no bond, he being named as the executor, but went to California. However, he came back later when the heirs of Mrs. Black asked that the contract be made a part of the will. This was done. This action was followed by the filing of the suit to break the will.

TWO REPORTS TO BE GIVEN SENATE

Democrats on Currency Committee Finish Their Work—Republicans Incorporate the Amendments in Bill.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The administration currency reform bill as it probably will go to the senate with the approval of Pres. Wilson was completed Friday night by six democrats of the senate banking and currency committee. Sen. Hitchcock and the five republican members of the committee continued into their draft of the measure amendments which the white house has disapproved. Arrangements probably will be made Friday to send both bills to the senate for consideration next week.

The democrats completed their draft after working all day and well into the evening in an effort to hurry the bill along. As completed, the measure provides for a system of eight regional banks, to be capitalized by enforced subscriptions from the National banks of the country, with unlimited powers of rediscount and currency issue and the power to hold reserve, the entire system to be under the control of a federal reserve board.

In today's session the democrats, Chairman Owen and Senators Pomerehne, Hollis, Reed, O'Connor and Shafroth, made minor amendments to the bill. They cut down the federal reserve board from nine, as fixed by a former vote of the committee to seven as originally fixed in the house bill. The secretary of the treasury and six members to be appointed by the president "with regard to the financial, commercial and geographical divisions of the country" would compose the board. Each member would take office for six years, one term expiring each year, and would receive $10,000 a year salary.

MEN BROUGHT TO HARD PLACES THROUGH SIN

"Sin brings men to hard places," said Rev. J. L. Gardiner in his talk at the "Win-My-Chum" services held at St. Paul's M. E. church Friday night. "It brought the prodigal son to want," he continued, "and it drove Jacob from home and forced him to pillow his head on stones. The way of the transgressor is hard."

The speaker then gave a brief history of Jacob, dwelling particularly upon the sin of his robbing his brother Esau of his birthright, and of obtaining from his blind father the blessing that belonged to his brother. He also gave his hearers a picture of the ladder which reached from heaven to earth, and said: "This story of Jacob's ladder teaches us that heaven is not far away. Jacob saw through the open door into heaven."

The service closed with a testimony service in which a large number of people took part. On Sunday morning the pastor expects to receive a number into the church by means of letter and confession of faith. The topic of the sermon for Sunday morning will be "Seeing the Invisible."

TOM WISE IN FALSTAFF.

James O'Donnell Bennett the famous dramatic critic suggests the following cast for the "Merry Wives of Windsor":
Falstaff—Tom Wise. Yes, the Tom Wise that has been delighting South Bend with his inimitable acting for the past three weeks. Slender—Raymond Hitchcock; Marie Dressler as Mistress Ford; W. J. Ferguson as Dr. Caius; Louise Dressler as Mistress Page; Frank Daniels as Sir Hugh, and so on.

No better cast could be found and no better man to head it than Tom Wise. One of the greatest treasures gathered in this actor's remarkable career is a letter signed by King Edward regarding Mr. Wise's performance of Falstaff in the Merry Wives at the Duke of York's theater. It says in part, "Shakespeare himself could not have imagined Falstaff more perfectly than you portray him."

EVELYN THAW.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, has recently created a dance that is now being taken up by all New York society. "The North American Tango," is the name Mrs. Thaw has given her dance which she introduced one afternoon at Hammerstein's Victoria theater. Those who saw the graceful motions of the dance told others and soon Mrs. Thaw was deluged with requests to teach the steps to the society folk. Every morning she held a class on the stage of the theater which a number of the most prominent people attended. Mrs. Thaw comes to the Oliver Monday, matinee and night.

"A PEACEFUL VICTORY."

A strike story, in which good use is made of contrast between the rich and poor. The plot is very interesting and has a very human touch toward the close. The scenes were rather hurriedly put together in places but this does not greatly mar the interest of the piece. William Russell and Florence La Badie play the parts of father and daughter. An entertaining number.

The Saving of Money by the use of Royal Baking Powder is considerable

Royal is economical, because it possesses more leavening power and goes further. Royal saves also, because it always makes fine, light, sweet food, all digestible; never wastes good flour, butter and eggs.

More important still is the saving in health. Royal Baking Powder adds anti-dyspeptic qualities to the food.

There is no baking powder so economical in practical use, no matter how little others may cost, as the Royal

STEEL CARS AGAIN SHOW THEIR WORTH

STEARNS, Ky., Nov. 15.—The Royal Palm limited, running between Chicago and Jacksonville on the Queen & Crescent railroad, was derailed at Annadel, Tenn., late Friday afternoon, according to a report received here Friday night.

The report from the scene of the wreck states that the engine and all coaches except the observation car left the track and overturned, the fireman, Oscar Davis, being the only person killed. A few passengers were only slightly injured, due to the fact that all the cars were of steel construction.
