Sketches of the New City Officials

ULYSSES GRANT MANNING.

Mr. Manning was born in 1855 in New Paris, O. Removed to South Bend when about ten years old. Educated in the local schools. Left the high school at age of 15 to go to work as a drug clerk. Was connected with various drug stores in the city for ten years. Was engaged for a while in the manufacture of chemical and medicinal specialties. Later engaged in advertising and publishing business in connection with which he was for several years editor of the advertising and business department of the Pharmaceutical Record of New York. Mr. Manning disposed of his advertising business about two years ago to a St. Louis concern, expecting to retire from business for a while, but as the Chamber of Commerce was at that time in need of a secretary he was induced to take it. He was married in 1892 to Mary E. Latson of Edwardsburg, Mich., who died in 1907. He has one daughter, Margaret, now a senior in the high school. Resides at 138 Park av.

BURR F. AUGUSTINE.

Mr. Augustine, the elder, appointed to the presidency of the new board of public safety, is 44 years old. He was born on a farm in Olive township, near New Carlisle in 1869, later removed with his parents to a farm in Warren township which was his home until he graduated from the South Bend high school in 1888. He then entered the employ of the Michigan Central railroad, where he held freight offices at Michigan City and South Bend, serving five years, after which he went to Kansas City, Mo., where he became sales manager for F. M. Leonard's, later for the Louis Werner Sawmill Co., at St. Louis, Mo., remaining four years, and obtaining some first-hand knowledge of the Joseph W. Folk house-cleaning business there. Seven years with the latter firm he has since been engaged in the wholesale lumber business for himself. He resides with his parents at four children in the family. The residence is at 1215 Riverside drive. He is a high degree mason, member of South Bend Lodge No. 294, Kansas City Chapter No. 29, Kansas City Commandery No. 10 and Kansas City Lodge of Perfection No. 2—Scottish Rites. In politics Mr. Augustine is a progressive, formerly a republican, but this is his first offense at holding public office.

DR. FRED P. EASTMAN.

Dr. Eastman, president of the board of health, is a native of New York state, born at Seneca Falls, October 1860. After graduation from the schools of that city he engaged in the newspaper business for a time, then entered the Detroit, Mich., College of Medicine, from which he graduated in 1892. He practiced in Detroit for a year then came to South Bend in 1895, where he has since resided. In 1895 he took a post graduate course with the New York Polytechnic Institute. He is a member of the American, the Indiana and the St. Joseph county Medical societies, and always active in the work of those organizations. His only previous experience as a public official has been on the board of school trustees under appointment of the Schuyler Colfax administration. Dr. Eastman resides with his family at 330 S. Main st.

JOHN B. WEBER.

Mr. Weber, member of the next board of public works, is one of South Bend's substantial business men and manufacturers. He was born in Berrien county, Mich., 46 years ago. His scholastic education has been limited to that of the country schools and the high school at St. Joseph, Mich. He came to South Bend 20 years ago, first month and entered the retail confectionery business on E. LaSalle st., but sold out three years later to enter the confectionery wholesale and manufacturing business. In the past 17 years this business has grown from a modest beginning to that now represented by his factory and salesrooms at 216-18 W. Division st., where 40 people are now employed. A year ago the Chamber of Commerce honored him with the presidency of that body. He has never held any political office or solicited one. In politics he is a democrat, but during the recent campaign said to have been one of the citizens' school, his name, in fact, having been mentioned at one time as a candidate for the nomination for mayor. He is married and lives with his wife and four children at 737 N. Scott st.

DR. WALTER H. BAKER.

Dr. Baker, another member of the board of health, has been a practicing physician in South Bend since 1907, with offices in the J. M. S. building. He resides with his wife and young son at 1429 S. Michigan st. He is 27 and is another of those farm products generally successful in making their way in the world. It was in Nobles Co., Ind., that he first saw his home until he reached the age of 18. Aside from his common school training he was graduated from the Tri-State Normal Training school at Angola, Ind., studied at DePauw university, and completed his medical education at the Indiana Medical college at Purdue in 1907, after which he came to this city. In politics Dr. Baker is a progressive.

DR. CHARLES S. BOSENBERRY.

Dr. Rosenbury, appointed secretary of the board of health, is a native of New Jersey, born at Belvidere, July 13, 1877. He was educated in the common schools of Jersey City and New York city, then came with his parents to Richmond, Ind., where they located in 1891 and where he graduated from the high school in 1895. In 1899 he finished the scientific course at Purdue university and the same year became instructor in chemistry and bacteriology at the Indiana Dental college at Indianapolis, serving two years, though devoting a part of his time to the study of medicine at the Rush Medical college. From 1901 to 1902 he completed his course at Rush college and at once became interne at the Cook county hospital, Chicago, where he remained until coming to South Bend in 1905. Since that time Dr. Rosenbury, besides pursuing his practice as a physician, has served three years as secretary of the St. Joseph County Medical society, and one year, 1910, as its president. For the year 1912 he was county physician, being succeeded by Dr. Calvert a year ago. He is married and resides at 1655 Woodward av., his office being in the old Stanfield residence, corner of Washington and Lafayette aves. In politics Dr. Rosenbury is a republican.

MISS MONICA MAKIELSKI.

To Miss Makielski is extended the honor of being the first woman member of the South Bend board of health her particular qualification for the place resting in her education and extensive experience as a nurse. She was born in South Bend, Sept. 12, 1884, passed the eighth grade in the local schools, and turned her attention at once to preparation for her chosen profession. To this end she took a three year course with the Epworth training school, did private duty as nurse for a year, and then spent 10 months in Europe, where she studied at hospitals in Paris and London, besides acting as hospital nurse for seven weeks at a noted Paris specialist. Returning to the United States about 18 months ago, she was picked out by the Visiting Nurses' association, an organization of local ladies, and has since served the city in their employ. Miss Makielski is a registered nurse, and her consent to serve the association in the capacity of visiting nurse, at an income considerably less than she might earn in a private capacity, marks her generosity in connection with her work. Arrangements may be made by which she may become a continuous teacher of the health office, as assistant to the secretary, as well as a member of the board.

JOHN A. HIBBERD.

State Sen. Hibberd, the second member of the board of public safety, is so well known to South Bend as to need little introduction. Though a native of New York, born in Syracuse, Oct. 12, 1845, he has been a St. Joseph county man since 1867. This city furnished Sen. Hibberd with the foundation for his education, his law education, however, having been secured at the Union College of Law, Chicago, where he was a fellow student of William Jennings Bryan, graduating in 1882. He also read some law in the office of Arnold & Creed, of South Bend. He has been a practicing lawyer here for 30 years, has until 1912 been a republican in politics, has served several years as a member of the school board, and, in 1910 was elected to the state senate where he has served through two sessions. Fraternally he is a Royal Arch Mason, member chapter No. 29, and identified with the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and Elks societies. He was one of the organizers of the Citizens' National bank, of which he is vice president, and also founder a local branch of the Citizens Loan Trust & Savings Co. The senator resides with his family at 609 W. Washington av.

ARTHUR H. RICE.

Councilman Rice, as he will be known until Jan. 5, when by the mayor-elect's appointment he becomes a member of the board of public works, was born in Newaygo, Mich., Jan. 8, 1875, and about the first thing he did was to raft logs down the Muskegon river. He counts this the beginning of his career—age 14. Later he attended business college at Flint, Mich., completed a commercial course at Valparaiso university, and entered the employ of the Consolidated Street Railways, Grand Rapids, as cashier and accountant serving for two years. This was followed by a return to Valparaiso where a teacher's course was completed, and then an experience at school teaching for two years. His next step was to prepare for the law at Valparaiso, taking a stenographic course in connection. He practiced law for three years at Valparaiso, two years as deputy prosecutor. He was admitted to the bar of the supreme court of the state while Judge Timothy E. Howard was on the bench, and the United States circuit court at about the same time. Retiring from the practice of law, Mr. Rice acted as general manager for Michigan, for the Hartford Life Insurance Co., with headquarters at Grand Rapids, two years, and came to South Bend, entering the employ of the Studebaker Bros. Mfg. Co., in 1901. His present position with the Studebaker corporation is manager of repositories and change of business with the United States government. He is a republican in politics, having been elected by that party to the office of councilman from the seventh ward, four years ago. He resides with his wife and daughter at 928 Dayton st.

ELI F. SEEBIRT.

Mr. Seebirt, appointee to the office of city attorney, came to South Bend in 1904 and began the practice of law following graduation from the law department of the University of Michigan. He was married in 1909 to Edith Elizabeth Gunn, and has one child, a girl, born July 4, 1912. Mr. Seebirt was born on a farm in southeastern Ohio, near Cadiz and the West Virginia line, April 12, 1878. Aside from his education in the common schools, he was graduated from Mt. Union college in 1901 with the degree of A. B., and thereupon entered upon the study of law. He has a splendid record as a practitioner in this city. At the time of his appointment he is serving as special judge of the St. Joseph county superior court, in the stead of Judge Vernon Van Fleet, who is in ill health. He was active in behalf of the citizens' party from the start, and one of the leadership in the campaign throughout the campaign. In politics he is a republican.

CLEMENT SMOGOR.

Mr. Smogor, appointed to the board of public safety, was born in Wauzrowice, Poland, 37 years ago, and immigrated to America with his parents when he was four years old. South Bend has been his home practically all the while since that time. He was educated in the parochial schools of the city and at Notre Dame university, where he took a three years' course, walking to and from his home. About 18 years ago he became interested in the lumber business and is now the head of the Smogor Lumber Co., corner Laurel and W. Division st. He resides with his wife and four children at 103 Laurel st. Mr. Smogor is also a member of the firm of A. Smogor & Sons, coal dealers, 811 W. Division st. In politics Mr. Smogor was a progressive last year, but is reputed to have been a Joyce man at the recent election.

ERNEST M. MORRIS.

Mr. Morris, named president of the board of public works, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Morris, and was born in Polk township, Marshall Co., Ind., Dec. 17, 1882. Since the age of 11 he has virtually made his own way in the world, including the earning of the necessary funds for securing his education. At 17 he was taken into the home of Hiram Rupel, a farmer living south of South Bend, and with whom he still makes his home, now in this city. From the common school Mr. Morris entered the Valparaiso university, later teaching school for three years in Center township, this county, and then took up the study of law at Valparaiso, but finished at Notre Dame. This was in 1906 and the following year he added to his LL. B. degree, that of LL. M., which was conferred by the Indiana College of Law at Indianapolis. In 1907 he began the practice of law in South Bend, and in 1908 was appointed by the county commissioners to fill the unexpired term of John H. Pulling, justice of the peace, requiring a service of one year. Since making South Bend his home, now for a period of 12 years, Mr. Morris has kept in close touch with city affairs, has acquired many real estate holdings, and is interested in the city's welfare from both the civic and economic standpoints. He is a progressive in national politics, was chairman of the executive committee of the citizens' party, and is the bachelor member of Mayor-Elect Keller's cabinet.

to the board of health, the mayor-elect regards in keeping with his campaign promise to do something special for the people in the west end, and to grant women representation in his administration. Miss Makielski has the endorsement of a large number of women throughout the city, who have been interested in her work as visiting nurse. This, however, is not calculated to preclude the appointment of a woman to the board of education when the time comes, or the possible addition of one to the police force. "All I have to say is," said the mayor-elect in handing out his appointments Friday, "that these men, as I have investigated them and know them, measure up to the standards of efficiency that I deem necessary to a proper administration of the city's affairs. I have no doubt but that we shall get along together very nicely, and that the city's work will move forward after the first of the year in good shape." He seemed delighted to have so much of his hands.

Men Who Must Move Out.

The men whom the Keller appointees, thus far, are to succeed are Controller Patrick A. Joyce, City Atty. Iden S. Romig, Pres. Otto C. Bastian, Francis E. Lambert and C. F. Niedbalski, of the board of public works; Pres. Jos. E. Williams, Louis Nickel, Jr., and John Mountain, of the board of public safety, and Joseph A. Werwinski, sinking fund commissioner. Among the sub-appointees named by the board of public works, City Engineer W. S. Moore holds his job; Street Commissioner James P. Butler gives way to D. C. Layton, assistant secretary of the citizens' party during the campaign, while Deputy Commissioner John W. Eites gives way to Alexander S. Langel, under the title of street foreman. Langel was the citizens' candidate for city clerk, being defeated by Harvey F. Rostizer. The board of public safety in naming Irving W. Sibrel chief of the fire department have settled the controversy with regard to the retention of Chief Wilfrid Grant. Sibrel was chief under the Schuyler Colfax administration, being reduced to captain of the chemical by the Fogarty administration that followed. He has stayed by the department, however, and now returns to his old post, not a new man, as the board sees it, but one of experience.
