

ADDITIONAL MISHAWAKA

SIX MORE ALLEYS FOR ELLSASSER PIN HALL

New Addition to Building Already Completed and New Alleys to Be Installed at Once.

Saturday morning the six new bowling alleys for the Ellsasser bowling hall which was recently completed, arrived, and Monday morning workmen from the factory will start installing them.

Two years ago E. C. Ellsasser endowed with the idea that Mishawaka and South Bend would respond with patronage if an up-to-date bowling hall was established here.

There is also some talk that the promoters of the South Bend and Mishawaka factory baseball league would attempt to organize a bowling league to be comprised of men from the various factories which were represented in the baseball league.

ALLEGES FALSE ARREST

SUES FOR $10,000

Clarence Hushower Taken During Billy Sunday Revival—Says He Was Beaten By Officers.

Trial of the suit of Clarence Hushower against William Cassidy and Lawrence Lane for damages for alleged false arrest will begin in the superior court Monday before a jury.

Hushower was arrested near the Billy Sunday tabernacle last spring during the revival meetings. In an answer filed Saturday Lawrence Lane one of the defendants presents the officers' version of the case.

Lane, who was detailed to watch for sneak thieves and pickpockets in the crowds at the tabernacle, declares he saw Hushower approaching in an automobile, engaged in an altercation with Detective Cassidy, who was on the running board of the machine.

Lane alleges he saw Hushower strike Cassidy, and arrested him at the direction of his chief.

On the way to the station he alleges Hushower resisted and caught hold of a telephone pole, hugging it so tightly that Lane had to wrench him loose to compel the prisoner to go on.

Lane declares he used no more than necessary force to get Hushower to accompany him.

In his complaint Hushower alleges he was arrested falsely and that he was badly beat up by the officers.

surprised her husband with a stag party Friday evening. The affair was in honor of Mr. Bill's birthday anniversary. Cards was the main feature of the evening, followed by a choice luncheon.

The funeral of Iva May Long who died Thursday night was held Saturday. Short services were held from the residence of her father, Frances Long, 808 N. Ninth st at 11 o'clock.

At 12.45 the body was taken over the Lake shore road to Hamlet, Ind., where services will be held at Olive Bethel chapel Sunday at 10 o'clock.

Henry Barber of Marion, Ind., is here visiting relatives and friends.

Wallace Dodd of Sixth st, who has been ill for several months has had a change for the worse and is in a serious condition.

Assuming an attitude of unsettledness with regard to the rebuilding of the Grand Trunk carshops at Port Huron or elsewhere, A. B. Atwater, assistant to the president of the road, has written the Chamber of Commerce from Detroit, asserting that immediate negotiations with regard to locating in South Bend will be useless.

Mr. Atwater asserts that nothing will be done toward rebuilding the burned plant anywhere just at present, due to the enormous expense that it will involve, and that the company will have to get along with the car shops that they already have at Eidsdon, Ill.

The letter comes in response to an inquiry from Sec'y Grant Manning, asking an audience for a committee to be named by the chamber, in the hope of securing the shops for South Bend. Whether the reply is a bait thrown out by the road in the hope of ascertaining how anxious South Bend is, or whether there is genuine sincerity in it, remains a conundrum. However, as it stands it is probable that no negotiating committee will be named just at the present time.

INDIANA BRIEFS. GARY—Rose Ryan, whose mysterious disappearance some time ago gave rise to the fear that she had fallen in with white slavers, returned to her home here. She had been working in a Chicago restaurant but left because the work was too hard, she said.

EVANSVILLE—Joseph Jung, 80 years old, filed a petition before Judge Givens of the circuit court asking to be permitted to adopt Mrs. Katherine Failing, 31 years old. The aged man desires to leave his property to the woman.

GREENCASTLE—Edward Barrett, state geologist with a soil expert, made an examination of the land offered by the city of Greencastle west of the limits for the state penal farm.

LAFAYETTE—A nineteen year old boy, twice an inmate of the Plainfield reformatory, confessed to stealing a suit case belonging to Mrs. Henry Butcher, a Decatur society woman

REALIZE DREAM FOR ORPHANS

A hospital for the orphans' home, the dream of the directors for years, is at last within sight, due to the $5,000 gift recently made to the home of Mrs. George Wyman.

The need of a hospital has long been felt. In cases of sickness, it was almost impossible to isolate the patients so that the health of the others would not be endangered. With an orphans' home population ranging over 130 children—there are now 157 in the home—the problem was serious.

Several times the matter was taken up with the architects, but the building of a hospital on the premises was not such as was needed, would require at least $5,000.

With Mrs. Wyman's gift it will now be possible to build this annex.

This situation and others were discussed at a meeting of the directors Saturday. Another thing wanted at the home is a printing outfit for the boys who are taking manual training work. The youngsters have completed work in wood turning and are anxious to go ahead. They have raised about $100 from the sale of articles they have made and need about $125 more.

The following donations were acknowledged: B. C. Stephenson, one barrel pears; Mrs. Sherman Barber, one case oranges; Mrs. Derebeck, 12 yardsingham; Mr. Ford, 12 pounds honey; Madison school, two bushels of apples, two bushels of oranges; Henry Studebaker school, canned fruit and canned fruits; Lincoln school, canned fruits, jellies, vegetables and cookies.

TOO VIOLENT WOING PUTS MAN IN JAIL

Because he was in love with Mrs. Bessie Hartman, who runs a boarding house on N. Main st., Willard Van Druff began a term of 15 days in the county jail Saturday morning.

Willard became too violent in his love making, last week and his affections grew to blows. Mrs. Hartman complained and as Willard lacked money to pay his fine he had to serve a sentence of $5 and cost in jail.

THE BEST NEW NOVELS. A Companion Volume to HEARTS AND MASKS. DEUCES WILD By HAROLD MACGRATH. The most whimsical, the most brilliantly executed adventure story you have read in a decade. There is a popular artist who yearns to be a detective. There is a young millionaire archaeologist who collects mummies and cracks safes for a pastime. There is a young woman who lives in an apartment filled with curios amounting to millions. There is another young woman, the innocent cause of all the trouble. And there is Mr. Haggerty, a real detective, that and no more; no biologist, chemist extraordinary, just human. Not to mention the archaeologist's valet. And six pairs of old shoes. Fittingly illustrated in two colors by R. M. Crosby. Cloth, decorated jacket. $1.00 net. LAHOMA By the Author of FRAN. A girl reared by rugged, elemental men of the great Western frontier, living out her childhood in mountain hollow and cabin; sent to a great city to learn its ways; blossoming into a most beautiful woman—that is Lahoma! She wanted to become "civilized" just as Fran, the little circus girl of Mr. Ellis' earlier story, "wanted to belong to somebody." Lahoma was different—she was Lahoma, and she did things in Lahoma's own way! That's the reason she is such a fascinating, bewitching, lovable bit of femininity, and her love story is such an utterly delightful, sympathetic, and wholesome bit of story-telling.
