Ring out the old, ring in the new. Ring happy bells across the snow. The year is going, let him go; Ring out the false, ring in the true.

Today is the last day of the old year, a day of sorrow and a day of gladness, sorrow in the memory of wasted hours and lost opportunities, and gladness in the hope of new hours and fresh opportunities. But withal it is a day of celebration in almost every clime and every country, with customs as varied as the winds.

old types of furniture, including the Hepplewhite, Sheraton, Chippendale and furniture of the French renaissance and of colonial days.

Miss Langley is a member of the art department of Chicago university. It was through her that the arts and crafts movement was introduced into the university curriculum and it is she who plans and supervises the decoration and furnishing of the university. She was the designer of the interior decoration of the Woman's hall of the State Normal at Carbondale, Ill., which has attracted favorable comment in art journals all over the country.

"For Hope shall brighten days to come And memory gild the past."

A delightful tea for 275 guests was given at the Oliver hotel Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. F. A. Miller and Mrs. A. H. Cushing. The guests were received in the pink parlor which was adorned with pink roses, and tea was served in the Turkish room, the beautifully appointed table bearing a centerpiece of poinsettias in an empire basket. The hostesses were assisted in the parlors and dining room by Mesdames F. A. Stephenson, C. C. Schafer, Charles Terry, C. C. Herr, John Schurtz, L. S. LaPierre, James A. Judis, Rome C. Stephenson, George McCreedy and Miss Virginia Tutt. Mrs. F. A. Bryan, Miss Blanche Dunn and Mrs. Arthur Russell presided at the tea table. Throughout the afternoon music was furnished by a trio composed of Miss Nellie Woolman, cellist, Irvin Deak, harpist, and Hal G. Van Aiken, violinist.

One of the gayest affairs of the season was the Pan Hellenic promenade which took place Tuesday evening in American hall after many weeks of anticipation. The hall was the first affair of the kind essayed by the association, which has hitherto limited itself to an annual banquet. The prettily decorated hall, with its walls hung with pennants and banners in profusion, Christmas bells suspended from the ceiling and red streamers festooned to the corners of the room made a lovely setting for the brilliant company of 100 young people who were in attendance. The young women in their many colored gowns were in themselves a picture worth remembering and the dances which were limited largely to the new steps were gracefully performed. The music furnished by Brownell's full orchestra from Benton Harbor, was alluring. The dancing began at 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Hering leading the grand march. It continued until 1 o'clock. A delicious supper was served at midnight. The committee, which arranged the affair included Elmer Peak, Harry Wheeler, Dr. A. R. Messick, Clyde Haeske and Miller Hamilton.

The success of the affair created so much enthusiasm that a business meeting was held following the supper and preliminary plans made for a banquet to be held in June and another holiday ball next Christmas time, the ultimate purpose of the association being to organize a University club for South Bend.

Old types of furniture and a general presentation of the art of interior decorating will be the interesting subject presented Saturday afternoon at the general meeting of the Progress club. Miss Euphrosyne Langley of Chicago university, an expert on antique furniture and interior decoration, will discuss the subject, and will show a large collection of illustrative slides. She has a number of lectures, each devoted to some special phase of her research work, but her talk Saturday afternoon will be a blending of all of these and she will speak of

CHURCH AFFAIRS

At a delightful banquet in the church parlors Tuesday evening the Junior Endeavor society of the First Christian church elected and installed officers for the new year. The following were named: President, Miss Clemmie Miller, vice president, Myrel Vance; secretary, Miss Inez Burns; treasurer, Miss Emma Maddern; pianist, Mrs. Herman Hazelbeck. Rev. G. W. Henry installed the officers, giving a brief address based on a story from the "Tales of a Wayside Inn." The dinner was served by the Ladies' Aid society at a table beautifully decorated in red and white with a centerpiece of red carnations, from which red streamers were drawn to each place. Toasts were responded to by Leslie Keppler and G. W. Seybold, who are at home for the holidays from Northwestern university, Edgar Seybold, Miss Irma Dale, George Omacht and Herman Hazelbeck.

The study department of the C. W. R. M. of the First Christian church was entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. A. Martin, 213 S. Franklin st. The study of "The Melting Pot" was continued with Miss Rolene Abbott as leader, and Mrs. Marsh gave an excellent paper on "The Polish America." The next meeting of the department will be the fourth Tuesday of January with Mrs. R. Miller, W. Wayne st.

The volunteer class of the United Brethren Sunday school was entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Emma Arnold, 301 E. Milton st. At the business meeting the following officers were elected: Miss Agnes Gordon, teacher; Mrs. Stark, president; Mrs. Sutherland, secretary; Miss Merle Stude, treasurer. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Stark, 117 Keasey st.

OLD MENU IS FOLLOWED

Grace M. E. Members "Got Their Rabbit" First.

A rabbit supper for which the game had been secured by the men of the church was enjoyed by the Men's league of the Grace M. E. church Tuesday night. A number of the members of the league went into the country Tuesday afternoon and succeeded in bagging a number of rabbits. These were prepared by the wives of the members into stews, baked and fried dishes and were presented to the men in the form of a banquet.

ENTERTAIN FOR OFFICERS

With a banquet for 60 members in the corps rooms in the old court house, the outgoing and incoming officers of Autek Relief corps were entertained Tuesday evening. The table was beautifully appointed. The centerpiece was a large cluster of poinsettias in a silver receptacle, from which red streamers were drawn to the corners of the table. Red shaded candles completed the effect. The committee which planned the affair consisted of Mesdames Clara Hoffmann, Harriet Weaver, George Goetsch, Walter Muesel, Clara Stout, Luella Shock, Minnie Newman and Herbert Frantz.
