UNITED STATES WILL BE FORCED TO INTERVENE

Mediation Sure to Fail, Shepherd Leffler Tells Studebaker Civic Club Members.

The mediation will fail and the United States finally forced to intervene in Mexico, was the belief expressed last night at the meeting of the Studebaker Civic club, by Shepherd Leffler of the high school history department. Mr. Leffler said mediation would fail mainly because the constitutionalists are not included in the proceedings. The speaker predicted that the mediatory proceedings will perhaps not be ended before two weeks.

The next move Mr. Leffler said would perhaps be a demand by Pres. Wilson that Pres. Huerta abdicate. This will be refused he said, and intervention would follow. Mr. Leffler also gave a general resume of the conditions in Mexico and of the relations between that country and the United States during the last few years.

Mrs. Clem Garwood entertained with readings while several numbers were rendered by the quartet and a piano solo by Miss Vera Kelley.

United States Will Be Represented There by Ambassadors in the Future.
