

MAY OBTAIN A NEW LOCATION FOR THE BABIES' DISPENSARY

For the purpose of investigating the possibilities of obtaining a new location for the Children's Dispensary a committee has been appointed by the Dispensary association.

In her report Miss Bailey told of five new cases brought to the dispensary the past month. Eighteen children are at present being supplied with milk.

Cooperation with Epworth hospital in its new children's ward was also discussed at some length.

CHILDREN'S WARD AT EPWORTH WILL AID DISPENSARY IN WORK

Plans have been completed by the board of directors of Epworth hospital for the opening of a children's ward which will cooperate with the Children's dispensary and the Visiting Nurse association to care for sick children who are unable to pay.

The committee which has been in charge of investigating the proposition is composed of Miss Margaret Parker, superintendent of the hospital; Dr. H. M. Miller and Dr. C. E. Hansel.

The portable house which is to be erected will cost about $540. The ward, it is hoped, will be ready to receive sick babies by the first of June when the hot season begins.

COURT CHANGES MIND AND REFORMS FINDING

W. H. Nichols Escapes Fine in Auto Case by Showing Negligence of State.

Holding that the state cannot hold an automobilist guilty of operating his machine without proper license numbers when the numbers have been applied for and the state has been negligent in delivering them, and apparently preferring not to have a case appealed to a higher court on this point, including a question of speed, Judge Herbert D. Warner Thursday found W. H. Nichols, local automobile owner, not guilty of either offense.

He had first found Nichols guilty, taking the position that though he had applied for a license which had not arrived, he had no right to operate the machine until they did arrive. Suspended sentence followed this finding, but when the accused man asked to have the suspension of sentence set aside, declaring he would appeal the case to get rid of a police record, the judge suspended his finding of guilty also.

Nichols showed that he had applied for license numbers early in April and produced acknowledgment from the state. He was engaged at the time of his arrest at demonstrating a car to P. C. Klein of the law firm of Zink and Klein, both attorneys being in the car with him, and testified in his behalf with regard to the speed limit. All three claimed it was not to exceed 15 miles an hour, though the traffic officer said the speedometer registered 20 miles an hour. The court took the word of the men as against the machine.

The trains carrying the 19 cars arrived early in the morning over the Vandalla from Logansport. The paraphernalia was unloaded and the cars transferred to the Lake Shore. Tomorrow the circus shows in Laporte.

SERMONS IN "MOVIES" APPEAL TO PEOPLE

TERRE HAUTE, Ind.—Rev. Clarke R. Parker, pastor of the First Baptist church, believes in keeping step with the times. He uses moving pictures to illustrate his Sunday evening lectures now, and his church is always crowded. The "standpaters" said a lot of harsh things about Parker when he began using the films to illustrate his sermons, but the mass of people liked the idea, and men and women who had forgotten what the inside of a church looked like are now regular attendants at the "movie" sermons.
