

BULL MOOSE SAY G. O. P. CAMPAIGN IS FIZZLING OUT

State Chairman Toner Puts Out Statement Declared Based on Registration Results and Attendance at Meetings.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14.—That the finish of the campaign in Indiana will be between the progressives under the leadership of Albert J. Beveridge, their nominee for United States senate, and the democrats was the substance of a statement made today by Edward C. Toner, chairman of the progressive state committee. Toner maintains that he has reports which show beyond question that the republican campaign has collapsed and that the fight is between the progressives and the democrats as it was at the start several months ago.

This claim on the part of Toner is not recognized by the republican leaders and as a matter of course they are trying to shoot it full of holes. They say that the progressives are not going to poll as many votes as they did in 1912 and that they have practically no organization for the coming election. However, Toner's statement is borne out by others who have been making a careful investigation of the situation in Indiana, and who find the progressives are much better organized than they were in 1912.

The progressives have their county ticket in every county this year and have also nominated tickets in three-fourths of the townships of the state which naturally gives them a much better organization than ever before. Two years ago they had in the neighborhood of 10,000 voters with practically no organization and no representation on the election boards.

Republican Boards Crooked.

Beveridge and his associates in the progressive campaign have claimed all along that fully 40,000 votes that were cast for Beveridge and Roosevelt in 1912 were not counted for the reason that in at least one-half the counties republicans controlled the election boards.

According to the progressive leaders at least 200,000 votes were cast two years ago and they are confident that at least that many will be cast this year.

Chairman Toner in his statement calls attention to the big meetings that Beveridge is having and compares them with the meetings of the republicans. As a matter of fact Toner is not having any trouble in proving that the progressive meetings are much larger than those of the republicans are holding as practically nothing has been heard from Hugh T. Miller since the campaign opened and very few large meetings have been held by the republicans.

Miller is Side-Stepper.

Republicans in fact have been going along as though they had no candidate for United States senate as Miller has not attempted to deliver a key-note speech and has not stated fully to the voters where he stands on the big issues of the campaign.

The situation in the republican party is different from what it has ever been before. In former campaigns speakers were not afraid to go before the people and say squarely where they stood on the state and national issues. Even two years ago, when it was a foregone conclusion that the republicans would not elect their ticket they made a vigorous fight and Col. Durbin, their nominee for governor, toured the entire state and in every speech he made very clear where he stood upon the principal issues.

But this time Miller has not delivered a key-note speech for his party and as far as it is possible to learn he has no views on any of the big questions now being considered. The statement issued by Chairman Toner has served to call attention again to the fact that the republicans are making one of the most unfair campaigns in the history of the state, consisting very largely of abuse of the nominees on the democratic ticket and of claims that the progressives are coming back to the republican party in droves.

Stick to 'Come Back' Yarn.

Beveridge maintains, with truth, that whenever he advances an argument as to why the progressive ticket should be successful at the polls republicans answer it merely by saying that the progressives are coming back into the republican party. Up to this time the republicans have made no effort to reply to Beveridge nor have they made any effort to have their speakers reply to the charges made forth by Gov. Ralston and democratic nominees. The returns from the registration of voters last week are now practically concluded and they show beyond question that the republican campaign has collapsed in many counties. It has been a part of the plan of campaign of the republicans to claim that they were making gains at the expense of the democrats as well as the progressives but their registration in most places failed to indicate where they have made any gains. In a few counties the republican registration appears to be better than it was in 1912, but in this county where the republicans had been figuring on making large gains the registration is not nearly as good as that of the democrats. In this county the most remarkable campaign in the history of the state is being made by the republicans. Nothing like it for bitterness has ever been displayed. Republicans have dragged into the campaign here the religious question and are flooding the city with malicious literature for the purpose of arousing the anti-Catholic element against some of the democratic nominees who belong to the Catholic church. In fact the whole campaign of the republicans here is pitched upon a very low plane and is being made with the deliberate intention of injuring men on the democratic ticket because they belong to the Catholic faith.

However, it now appears that this sort of campaign is reacting on the republicans and is going to injure them in this county instead of helping them, as the average voter here as elsewhere is hard to convince that a man's religion should be taken into consideration in political matters.

In Fort Wayne, Evansville and other larger cities of the state it appears that the republicans are not going to do as well as they are claiming as the registration shows their vote has fallen off a lot since 1912.

NEWMAN'S FIRST TALK DEALS WITH EGYPT

Audience is Taken in Trip Down the Nile by Famous Photographer.

The first of a series of five travel-talks was given by E. M. Newman before a good sized audience at the Oliver opera house last evening. His subject was "Egypt, Yesterday and Today," and aboard his chartered boat his hearers were taken along the famous Nile to many a hidden and curious spot seldom frequented by inquisitive tourists.

Mr. Newman is a fluent speaker, has an ease of manner and an agreeable personality that makes his five travel incidents doubly interesting to listen to. His clear motion pictures and naturally colored slides, coupled with his intelligent descriptions, made his two-hour talk pass all too swiftly.

Visits were made to the hidden tombs of departed kings; glimpses given of the sacred temples and historical buildings revealed that dated back into the distant centuries. At Luxor and Karnak were shown the most imposing of Egyptian monuments. Not only were the principal places of interest shown but also the quaint mud villages, with their shingled brown skinned natives, engaged in the most primitive methods of water hauling and agriculture.

WILL RAISE FUNDS TO AID GERMANS

Meeting of Local German-Austria Red Cross Society to be Held Tonight.

In an effort to increase the fund already donated by the locals of the city, a meeting of the local German-Austria Red Cross society will be held in Turner hall Wednesday night and all members of the society are urged to attend. The money collected at the meeting will be sent to the sick and wounded in German battlefields.

Already upwards of $1,000 have been collected among the older German residents of the city and that amount is expected to be increased to $2,000 before tonight's meeting is over.

The German society, according to Simon Greenbaum, one of the prominent members of the organization, will register a protest at this meeting decrying the attitude several American newspapers have taken in referring to the German nation as "barbarian."

WOMEN ORGANIZE ORIGINAL CLUB

Membership Will Be Limited to One Representative from Each Profession—Will Have "Who's Who" Program.

With a first meeting Tuesday evening in the Eagle magazine rooms at the Dean building, the Women's Dining club was organized. There are 12 charter members with officers as follows: Miss Eva Hatzepiller, president; Miss Elizabeth Reimold, secretary; Miss Bertha Darr, treasurer, and Miss Gertrude Vaughn, historian.

The purpose of the organization is to promote sociability and friendship. The officers are elected for six months and it was voted to hold a banquet on the first Tuesday of each month beginning with November. The first banquet will be a "Who's Who" program, when each member will tell who she is and give an outline or description of the work in which she is engaged. Fashioned after the Rotary club, the organization limits its membership to only one representative from each profession or special line of business.

The club was organized originally in Kansas City, Mo., by Dr. Mary Andrews and belongs to the National Federation of Women's clubs. It is composed wholly of business and professional women, who either have arrived, or are arriving, in some special line of business or profession. It numbers among its membership, lawyers, physicians, artists, insurance ministers, writers and newspaper women, principals of schools or teachers who are specialists in some branch or science, welfare workers and women engaged in business, such as printing, stationery, insurance, house decorating, credit women and the only live stock commissioners in the United States, also bookkeepers, stenographers or office assistants who are specialists in their business and are identified as having some prestige therein.

Charter members from different branches in South Bend are as follows: Miss Bertha Darr, Comfort shop; Miss Sylvia Kreider, George Wymen Co.; Miss Eva B. Hatzepiller, Eagle magazine; Miss Coral Stewart, Robertson Bros Co.; Miss Beatrice Wolfe, Northern Indiana Gas and Electric Co.; Miss Etta Vandusen, Brandon-Durrell; Miss Frances Thurman, Studebaker estate office; Miss Bess Staples, Herr and Herr; Miss Sabra Ann Fralick, M. SURE WAY TO GET RID OF DANDRUFF

End Itching Scalp and Stop Falling Hair—At Once.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to keep your hair looking rich, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

Baseball and Clothes

NO man would prefer a bush league game to one between teams in the big league if he had his choice. The bush league games might be interesting, the individual plays might shine as brilliantly until the performance was compared with the team work of the more expert and polished operators in the National or American. When all hands in the end-of-the-season form, the bush leaguers would not shine in competition with the Boston Braves, who have just won the world's championship in a record-breaking contest.

There are bush league clothes and there are Big League Clothes.
