

THIS WOMAN'S SICKNESS

Quickly Yielded To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Baltimore, Md.—"I am more than glad to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I suffered dreadful pains and was very irregular. I became alarmed and sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly until I was without a cramp or pain and felt like another person, and it has now been six months since I took my medicine at all. I hope my little note will assist you in helping other women. I now feel perfectly well and in the best of health."—Mrs. AUGUST W. KONDRER, 1632 Hollins Street, Baltimore, Md.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc. If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

IT RUINS HAIR TO WASH IT WITH SOAP

Soap should be used very sparingly if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

ALKANO FOR THE BLOOD

Says No One Need Remain Thin Now

Physician's Advice for Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skininess and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequalled for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this peerless preparation, which is endorsed by eminent physicians and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient. A month's systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying highly concentrated fats to the blood. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten and the additional fats that thin people need are provided. All leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitalizer, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least 10 pounds of flesh.

AETNA INSURES ENTIRE REGIMENT CANADIAN TROOPS

Company Considers Toronto Soldiers Good Risks—Premiums Aggregate $45,000 a Year.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 5.—At its regular rates the Aetna Life Insurance Co. of this city, issued policies on the lives of 1,150 Canadian soldiers who will go to the front as part of the second expeditionary force, for which Lord Kitchener has just called on the Dominion. The policies are 20-year endowment for $1,000 each. The 1,150 soldiers compose one entire regiment of the Toronto contingent and part of another. The premiums aggregate $45,000 a year. The city of Toronto will pay the premiums for three years, at the expiration of which payments must be assumed by the insured to keep the policies in force. For the three-year period the policies are payable in trust to the city of Toronto, which in the event of death will see that the beneficiaries receive the insurance.

Held Good Risks. The insurance was written in the expectation that the insured soon would be called into active military service. English, vice president of the Aetna Life Insurance Co., said today. Since early in the war, he said, the Aetna had written various forms of individual insurance for Canadian soldiers bound for the battlefields in Flanders, many of whom reached there before the policies were issued. This is the first time, however, it has placed insurance on a body of troops who, it is expected, will go into battle together.

"We have written something under $2,000,000 in insurance on Canadian soldiers," continued Mr. English. "In our negotiations for insuring men who probably will be exposed to the Germans' fire we made no calculations regarding the length of the war. We consider Canadian soldiers good risks, whether the war is of long or short duration."

Mr. English said the opportunity to insure German soldiers probably would not present itself, and that if it did the Aetna would not be in a position to assume such a risk. Conditions would have to be reversed, he declared, before his company could consider the placing of insurance on the enemies of the allies.

Relative Mortality Small. The action of the Aetna, which is said to be the only company that has insured soldiers for the war except at an advance over the regular rates, is based on the combined experience tables of American and English insurance companies. The figures of the actuaries who compile these tables show that soldiers under 30 years old are better risks in time of war than men 40 years old who are engaged in peaceful pursuits.

Seven-eighths of the 2,000 Canadian troops the Aetna has insured are in the 20's, or younger. "Of course, all our calculations would be upset," Mr. English added, "should the Germans wipe out the Toronto regiment we have insured, but we consider that possibility decidedly remote. The mortality in this war actually is appallingly enormous, but relatively to the forces in daily combat it is less than that of the other great wars of history."

NO BOND CUT FOR TERRE HAUTE MEN

Appeal for Reduction of Eleven Convicted Men's Bail Denied By Judge Baker in Chicago Court.

CHICAGO, May 5.—The appeal for a reduction of bonds made by Terre Haute's eleven officials convicted of vote frauds, was denied Tuesday by the United States court of appeals. The case was brought here in an effort to secure the release, temporarily at least, of the men, who are now in Leavenworth penitentiary their bonds remaining at $10,000 for each year of prison sentence. Judge Francis E. Baker, presiding over the court of appeals in handing down the decision, suggested that the attorneys for Mayor Roberts and the other Terre Haute men should have appealed first to Federal Judge Anderson at Indianapolis, before the case was brought here.

FACES NEW CHARGE. INDIANAPOLIS, May 5.—Guy Powell, one of the Terre Haute election conspirators, who escaped being sentenced to Leavenworth prison by joining the United States army, is to face a charge of fraudulent enlistment, according to an announcement made public Tuesday by Captain Thomas F. Ryan, recruiting officer. Six months imprisonment and a dishonorable discharge are the penalty for the offense. An investigation revealed the fact that Powell enlisted under the name "James G. Powell" and failed to tell the recruiting officer of the fact that he had pleaded guilty to a felony charge.

PROCEEDINGS UPHELD. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 5.—Frank Carmack, special judge in the impeachment proceedings against Donn M. Roberts, mayor of Terre Haute, Tuesday afternoon upheld the action of the council, which voted to oust Roberts by a vote of 7 to 3.

Purdue university; Percival B. Coffin, of the Chicago Audubon society and president of the Chicago civil service board; W. S. Blatchley, former state geologist; Brother Alphonsus, Notre Dame; Judge Timothy E. Howard and Amos W. Butler of Indianapolis. A large delegation from the Illinois Audubon society has promised to come. During the day excursions to Rum village, Dragoon heights, Thrushwood and other surrounding beauty spots will be taken.

Theaters

AT THE MAJESTIC. Today the Majestic, continuing its second week of pictures, shows one of the biggest productions of recent release in "Money," a sensational five-part melodrama with many stirring scenes. The story concerns a brutal millionaire, who has beaten his workmen down to the last cent and then, when they are starving, flaunts his wealth and power in their faces by giving a million-dollar banquet. The enraged men strike and attack the mansion of the employer. The coolness of the foreman and the good sense of the rich man's daughter save the day. The banquet, strike and mob scenes are very realistically pictured.

AT THE ORPHEUM. Final performances will be given at the Orpheum today of the present bill featuring the unusual comedian Stan Stanley, assisted in an odd act by his relatives, Jarvis and Harrison—a clever comedy couple; the Saxo sextette, play melodiously; Doyle and Elaine, comical cut-up girls, and Princess Kalamia, a Hawaiian singer and dancer of ability.

Beginning Thursday the Stendel brothers, high class musicians, promise a new program of pleasing melodies; O'Neil and Walmsley, are two eccentric comedians, known as the lightning bugs; Paul Levan and Doobs are acrobatic comedians; Lewis and Norton have a comedy sketch, "Those Days," and Kinzo is a Japanese juggler.

THE AUDITORIUM. A two-reel picture of the well known story by Blackmore, "Lorna Doone," is the attraction at the Auditorium today. "Mr. Jarr's Magnetic Friend," being number five of the celebrated Jarr Family series featuring Harry Davenport and Rose Tapley, "The New Exploits of Elaine," with Arnold Daly, Pearl White and Edwin Arden in the cast, and "Capturing the Cook," a Lubin comedy, complete the bill. On tomorrow's bill are "The Girl and the Bachelor," a two-act romantic Kalen comedy, with Tom Moore and Marguerite Courtot in the cast, the Selig weekly of current news and "The Return of Richard Neal," a three-reel Essanay, featuring the popular player, Francis X. Bushman, who takes the part of Richard Neal, the psychological expert. Gideon Hall, a reckless young man in love with Doris Blake, is saved from suicide by "Count" Nikola, a clever criminal with an original method. Hall introduces the "Count" to Doris and she feels a strange attraction for him. Nikola hypnotizes her and tells her that she must try to attract to her father's art gallery and steal a famous painting and drop it out of the window. Then he tells her to bring a large sum of money to house the next day. Neal leads to the secret from Hall who is also under the influence of Nikola, and they set a trap for him. The trap works, the two minds clash and Neal's stronger will wins.

LECTURE ON TWILIGHT SLEEP. Women of South Bend will, within a few days be afforded an opportunity of learning the whole truth about twilight sleep, at present the most widely discussed subject among the women of America, not even excepting the European war. It is announced that a lecture by Dr. Karl E. Schlossling, recent assistant at the famous Frauenklinik of Freiburg, Germany, where twilight sleep was discovered, will be given at the Oliver Monday, May 10, at 8 o'clock at night. Not only does Dr. Schlossling's lecture describe "twilight sleep" in all its interesting features and explain in detail the methods practiced at his Freiburg clinic, but his lecture is to be illustrated with several thousand feet of motion picture film, showing actual twilight cases and the complete technique of administering the treatment leading up to the actual birth of the "twilight baby," a bouncing 10-pound boy.

Two performances will be given in this city, the first being for women only, while the evening performance is for the general public.

AT THE LASALLE. In making the screen version of "A Fool There Was," the picture shown at the Lasalle today, the director has introduced several distinct novelties, some of the most striking of which occur in the "introductions" of the various characters. Quite noteworthy indeed are some of the Powell effects in Porter Emerson Brown's drama of "The Vampire-woman."

Miss Theda Bara, the leading woman of the Gymnase and Antoine theaters in Paris, and equally well known in Berlin and Vienna, appears literally at first as the "rag and a bone and a hank of hair" of Kipling's poem. Gradually the evolution of the vampire takes place till Miss Bara herself is seen about the premises in a wonderful gown that accentuates the serpent-like characters of the siren, holding a white rose. The rose gradually becomes fiery scarlet and then dissolves into a splash of crimson blood.

Quite as effective is the "introduction" of Edward Jose, who enacts the vampire's luckless victim. He is seen at first, in the prime of a vigorous, healthy manhood. Gradually, as the grip of the siren tightens on him and his will and purpose are sapped by drugs and drink, and the wiles of his enchantress, his features become lined and worn. His palsied hands feebly reach out for the woman who has made him hers. The wreck of a human being appears in the place of the healthy, virile "man that was." The ghostly pallor, shrunken cheeks and burning eyes of the fool make a striking picture and, with the vampire's "introduction," forms a striking overture to the drama itself.

FEW WILL MAKE OWN COMMENCEMENT GOWNS

Few senior girls, of the high school graduating class, if any, will make their own commencement gowns this year. At least if they intend to, they have failed to confide it to any of their classmates.

It was believed that when the girls had decided to wear plain white dresses, there would be a flurry to have them of home manufacture, but just the opposite seems to be the case. Careful estimates secured from girls in the senior class and from sewing teachers at the high school place the cost of a ready-made dress, or one made by a dressmaker, at close to $12. Girls in the high school sewing classes are now making dresses, said to be good enough to be worn at any commencement exercises, for about $3.
