VETERANS OF WAR MEET IN REUNION

Members of 73rd Indiana Infantry Gather Here—No Marching This Year.

Greeting of comrades marked the opening day of the 39th annual reunion being held in South Bend by the members of the 73rd Indiana regiment, which met today in the morning. Twenty-five members of the regiment had registered at the headquarters at Auten Post, No. 8, hall in the old court house at noon. Many more are expected on the afternoon train.

Little was scheduled to be done this afternoon, save the renewal of old acquaintances, and talking over the events in which the regiment participated during the war.

"For the past 29 years at each reunion we have marched through the streets," said one of the comrades Wednesday morning, "but if there is any marching to be done at this reunion it will be done by the younger generation, as a large number of us are getting past that stage. We have done our marching only at the reunions in the battle."

The attendance this year will probably not number more than 100, which is 50 less than was present at the last reunion. Comrades have registered ranging in years from 68 to 89 years of age. There will be men present from nine or ten states.

The program for tonight includes an old-fashioned camp fire and an important address by the Hon. Washington Gardner of Albion, Mich. Mr. Gardner was formerly a congressman from the Albion district and in 1915 was elected commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. He was a member of the 65th Ohio and brigaded with the 73rd.

The program this evening also includes an address of welcome by Mayor Keller and a response by E. A. Jernean.

The program follows: Bugle Call—Assembly, William Longenecker. Invocation, Rev. John M. Alexander. Song, "The 73rd Indiana." Quartette Address of Welcome, Mayor Fred W. Keller. Response, E. A. Jernean. Song, "The 73rd Indiana." Quartette Address of Welcome, Washington Gardner. Song, "The 73rd Indiana." Audience Short addresses by comrades and guests.

The South Bend members of the regiment are: William E. Gorsuch, John M. Caulfield, John Y. Slick and Christian King. All save Mr. Caulfield were members of Co. C from this city. He enrolled in the company that was organized near Logansport, and later removed to this city.

One of the interesting features of the reunion here will be an automobile trip over the district where No. 5 Horse house now stands in Chapin park, where the camp grounds were located. The old site which is now dotted with houses and bisected by paved streets was used in 1862. This trip will be made Thursday afternoon, following the business session of the morning and a dinner at Kables at noon.

MARRIAGE BRINGS ONLY TEARS FOR THIS WIFE

Eulalia O'Brien Planned on Little "Nest" and Then Learned Money All Went for License.

Love's young dream was rudely shattered for Eulalia O'Brien immediately following her marriage on March 9 ultimo. Eulalia, whose name is now Eulalia Warner, has petitioned the superior court to grant her a divorce from Frank Warner because, according to her complaint, she has wearied of living in the booby of her relatives and her husband's relatives. She and her husband parted in May. The petitioner says that before she and Frank were married he assured her that he had sufficient funds with which to rent rooms and start house-keeping. After they were married, however, so the petitioner says, she learned that her bridegroom had been compelled to pawn his dress suit case in order to secure the money with which to pay for a marriage license.

As a consequence of such financial circumstances, the petitioner further alleges, she and her husband lived in a short chase, for two weeks and then they visited with Frank's mother at Fairmont, Ind., and spent a month "living off of her bounty." Then, it seems, Eulalia decided to return to her mother and in order to pay her fare back home she had to pawn a piece of jewelry. She lived with her mother two weeks and in the meantime Frank, so Eulalia says, got a job in the county for $30 a month and board and room. However, she declares, in spite of this job he refused to care for her and now he resides at the county jail when he is not in the county house to provide for her.

Eulalia says that, all told, she has received just $4 from her husband since their marriage on March 9th.

FIGHT RESULTS IN ARRESTS OF THREE

Saloon Brawl Sends Police Officer on Chase After Battlers.

A fight in the Owl saloon which occurred about 9 o'clock Tuesday night, resulted in three arrests being made. Joe Kelley, Notre Dame st., was arrested by Detective Shirk after a short chase. Kelley having attempted to get away when the police were called.

Bill Kowalski of Benton Harbor was arrested by Officer Parker, and Harry Hunt of 116 N. Scott was taken by Officer O'Connell. The two men were arrested at the corner of Colfax av. and Michigan st., where they went to elude arrest.

According to witnesses of the battle, Kelley, who possesses an extensive police record, attacked Hunt, seemingly without provocation. It is alleged that Kowalski attempted to act as peace maker, but the result that he received a severe cut under the chin from Kelley.

Nicholas Torok, 1119 S. Franklin st., was fined $11 in city court Wednesday morning for assault and battery upon Joseph Kovatch. He was alleged to have broken the complaining witness's nose because of the latter's attentions to a sister-in-law of Torok. The girl and Kovatch were married last Monday.

Alex Ratz, 314 S. Mendt st., at whose home Torok rooms, declared that he had committed the assault himself, but he did not wish Kovatch's attentions to the girl, who is a relative of his. The court failed to believe his story, however.

WOMEN VICTIMS OF FOXY AGENT

Shrewd Peddler Operates Smooth Scheme Among Residents of East Side.

South Bend women, particularly those residing on the east side, have been victimized by a house-to-house canvasser who carried on all of his dealings "within the law," with one possible exception. He was a peddler taking orders for very good Turkish towels at reduced prices and disposing of silk dress goods at prices that were greatly in excess of what they are in the city stores.

All this was perfectly legal, but it is said the young man did not have a license to dispose of his wares and this part of his proposition was the only thing that was not wholly legitimate. He is alleged to have been working all over the state and Muncie housewives were among those who paid heavily, all because of curiosity.

Here's the way the strange, good-looking peddler worked. He carried a large leather suitcase and in it he had samples of linen toweling, selling at two and one-half cents a yard, table linen and fine Turkish towels for 50 cents a dozen. These prices were enough to make any economical woman with the love of a bargain in her, want to buy large quantities of the goods.

When he unpacked his towels, et cetera, he allowed the women to barely see the fine, silken goods at the bottom of the case. But he was selling towels and not silk goods. He secured orders for towels to be delivered a week later, but would accept no money. Oh, my no, he would take no money until the goods were delivered.

As he left the house, the women invariably asked about the good looking dress goods. Yes, he would show them, but he did not care to sell any of it. By much urging he was induced to sell the dress goods even though the prices were very high. In one case on St. Peter st., he offered it for $6.00. He sold large quantities of dress goods at the time he took orders and some of the goods were to be minus the fine silken threads they appeared to have.

So far he has failed to return with the fine linen toweling, the choice pieces of table linen and the large Turkish towels. But he "reluctantly" disposed of his dress goods at high prices and large profits.

LOCAL TRACTOR WINNER

Product of Hoke Tractor Co. Plows Field in Hurry.

Reports emanating from Champaign, Ill., where a big tractor demonstration has been going on, declare that the product of a local firm beat a field of 40 entries in the demonstration held there the first of this week. A tractor manufactured by the Hoke Tractor Co., an infant industry of this city, which took part in the competitive trials, won out ahead of 40 other machines.

Each machine was given a certain section of land to plow, the machine that plowed and returned to the fair grounds first, winning. The tractor sent to Champaign by the local concern came in far ahead of the others. A number of local farmers who attended the demonstrations returned with high praise of the showing made by the South Bend firm.

The Oliver plow works also had an exhibition of plows at the tractor demonstration.

PETITION COURT TO SET ASIDE JUDGMENT

Ida M. and Walter Schultz, S. Rush St., Hold They Should Not Be Forced to Vacate Property.

Action to have a judgment of the superior court set aside was brought in that court Wednesday morning in behalf of Ida M. and Walter Schultz, South Rush st. In the bill of review it is set forth that Catherine Baker was given a judgment against the Schultzes in a suit to foreclose on a vendor's lien and the latter were ordered to vacate the property on Rush st. within 45 days for failure to keep up the payments on a land contract. It is in that the court order is void for the reason that a foreclosure was asked and not a vacation and that under a complaint to foreclose a sale of the property should have been ordered. A restraining order against the sheriff is asked.

ASSESSMENTS NOT TO BE LOWERED

State Board of Taxation Fails to Cut Figures on Farm Lands.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 11.—Efforts of local boards of revenue to have five counties of the state to reduce the assessment for taxation on farm lands, exclusive of farm personal property, came to naught today when the state board of taxation refused to allow reductions in Jefferson, Adams, Martin, Vermillion and Orange counties. In 87 counties the board decided to approve the assessments made by the local boards of revenue.

The board today definitely announced the assessment of the Indiana Steel corporation at Gary, Ind., will be $11,800,000. The Indiana Steel company is assessed on a valuation of $14,400,000. American Bridge company $562,860, and the American Sheet and Tin Plate company on a valuation of $755,200.

The members of the board pointed out that H. S. Norton, the steel corporation admitted the companies should be valued at least at $53,000,000 and the county assessments in Lake county are based on estimates of 26 cents on the valuation. This caused the final decision of the board.

Aside from the assessment of railroad property in Indiana, it is believed the steel corporation assessment will be the largest of any one corporation.

CALIFORNIA WIDOW SUES FOR $250,000

Says Herman C. G. Luytjes, Head of Drug Concern, Went Back on Promise.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 11.—Herman C. G. Luytjes, wealthy president of a big drug manufacturing concern, was sued today for $250,000 breach of promise by Mrs. Kathleen E. Gowdy, 23 years old, a young California widow, and the daughter of a retired army officer.

Her attorneys claim to have stacks of letters Mr. Luytjes wrote to Mrs. Gowdy, inviting her to come to St. Louis, also letters giving the names of physicians to consult. Mrs. Gowdy has been in St. Louis since last May, when she came here at the urgent request of Mr. Luytjes, she alleges in her petition.

Mrs. Gowdy declares in her petition that she became engaged to Mr. Luytjes at his request Feb. 25 last, and that she will be ready and willing to marry him, but that he has failed to keep his promise. She says she was induced by Luytjes to go to his home under what she believed to be the honorable conditions of a visit from her, and that Mr. Luytjes would marry her promptly.

MUST HOLD BELGIUM SAY "INTELLECTUALS"

Manifesto.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—The Figaro prints a Berne dispatch today stating that the following manifesto has been issued by the German "intellectuals."

"We do not want to dominate the world, but demand the ability of extending our culture and our industrial and commercial power over the earth. This is the firm determination of the German people. To this end we must remove the French menace and danger. We must modify our western frontier from Belfort to the coast. We must, if possible, conquer the French channel coast in order to fortify ourselves against Great Britain. We must expect big indemnity from France and hold Belgium in our hands politically as well as from a military standpoint."

The manifesto also urges the annexation of the Russian territory now in the hands of the Germans. The chief signers of the manifesto are Prof. Meinkofe of the Berlin university; Prof. Onken of Heidelberg, and Herr von Schwerin, president of the municipal council of Frankfurt.

SCOTT'S MISSION IS CARRIED OUT

Villa Promises to do as Requested and Envoy Starts for Nogales, Sonora.

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 11.—Major Gen. Hugh L. Scott's mission to the border—the prevention of confiscation of foreign mining properties in Chihuahua by Gen. Villa and the bringing about of a restoration of confiscated foreign merchandise in the state capital—was accomplished Tuesday after a three-hour conference in El Paso between Gen. Villa, Gen. Scott, George C. Carothers and Alberto Madero.

Gen. Villa assured the American chief-of-staff that the foreign merchandise which he seized last week would be returned to its rightful owners, who must sell it under a schedule of prices fixed by the Villa officials. The meeting of mining men, who had been instructed to appear before Gen. Villa on Aug. 9, has been indefinitely postponed and Villa has assured Scott that there will be no confiscation or molestation of their properties. One hundred million dollars of mines and smelters, principally American-owned, are located in territory controlled by Villa.

Gen. Scott said this evening that he has received no further orders from Washington yet and is not certain what his next move will be. It was rumored, though, that he would go from here to Nogales, Arizona, where a dangerous international situation has been created by the investment of Nogales, Sonora, by Carranza forces, whose bullets have fallen on the American side of the line.
