GOD'S REAL PURPOSE TO PEOPLE UNIVERSE

With Intelligent, Holy, Happy
Beings, Says Evangelist Lauda.

Evangelist Lauda preached an interesting sermon in the tabernacle on Sunday evening. There was a large attendance. In the course of his remarks the evangelist said:

"Sin and character are conditions, not creations. These conditions are made possible by virtue of the gift of the power of choice or free moral agency to the creature. Setting the creature at the cross roads, as it were, and pointing out the way of life, God leaves the intelligent being free to make his decision, thus the moral responsibility rests upon the creature and not upon his Maker. God might have made the creature incapable of transgression, but he would then have been nothing short of an automaton.

"God's real purpose in creation was to people the universe with intelligent, holy, happy beings, capable of rendering intelligent service to Him and his fellow creatures. This service was to be voluntarily rendered and to be based on the principles of love. Forced obedience was not desirable nor possible to the God of heaven. Of their own volition, God's creatures serve Him; so doing, would be but expressing love, mercy, justice, etc., the attributes necessary to a harmonious life with His Author and His creatures. This life is the only one possible to be perpetuated.

"Had God demonstrated His superior power over the first creature who sinned, i. e. Lucifer, now called Satan, innocent beings, having no demonstrated understanding of the result of transgression, would have feared their Maker, and from henceforth would have served Him from fear, rather than love. This divine wisdom would have destroyed His purpose in creation; hence the long-suffering of God in permitting Satan and sin to run their course, that all His creatures might understand that the way of transgression is unhappiness, misery and death. Love, gentleness, kindness, forbearance and long suffering toward the erring, would draw His creatures back to God. Jesus said: 'If I be lifted up, will draw all unto me.'

Next Tuesday evening the evangelist will speak on the subject, 'Who is Right on the Sabbath Question?'

BOWLING SCHEDULES TO OPEN IN THREE WEEKS

Three weeks from Monday evening it is expected that the first games for the 1915 fall schedules will be started at the Ellsasser alleys. According to E. C. Ellsasser, proprietor of the alleys, it is probable that the bowling institution will be opened to the public the first week of September. The game of bowling has been popular in the Ellsasser alleys since the late 1800s. The remainder of the leagues that fall to start schedules on the first Monday evening of the season, will roll.

Mr. Ellsasser in speaking of the game of bowling said Sunday evening that there was every indication that the bowling game would be more popular than ever in Mishawaka this year. Most of the leagues have started the work of organization and some have already made application for alleys and dates.

During the summer the entire 12 alleys were thoroughly overhauled by two representatives of the Brunswick-Balke Colander Co. of Chicago. This work amounted to redressing and refinishing the alleys proper and making other improvements.

ASSERTS U. S. IS MAKING POISONED MUNITIONS

Local Pastor Receives Letter
From Uncle in West
Prussia.

That this country is sending poisoned shrapnel to the allies in their war against Germany is the charge made in a letter from the Red Cross society to the pastor of the German Lutheran church of Mishawaka.

Mr. Gamalski has five sons in active service and one son-in-law who is serving with the Red Cross society. One son has not been heard from since last October and is evidently dead; one was severely wounded, seven bullets being taken from his legs, but is again at the front; one received the iron cross for bravery; another had a miraculous escape from death when a comrade on each side of him fell and his own gun was smashed, while he himself escaped without a scratch. The son-in-law suffered an injury to his right hand, which released him from active service.

While expressing the fullest confidence in an ultimate German victory, and stating that they are not suffering any need, the family deeply regrets the fact that American ammunition and poisoned shrapnel should help cause misery and prolong the terrible war.

Rev. Mr. Turk was born on the estate of Field Marshal van Hindenburg's parents in West Prussia. While visiting in Cleveland this summer his mother told many recollections of the days in the fatherland, recalling especially the piety and the good will of the Hindenburgs towards their servants.

ON DARDANELLES

Former American Naval Officer Tells Why Effort is Bestowed on Turkey.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—W. C. Nixon of St. Louis, who was formerly a lieutenant in the American navy and in command of the torpedo boat destroyer Flusher, returned Sunday from a business trip to England.

While in England he said he had become acquainted with many naval officials and learned many things he was not at liberty to divulge. Speaking of the Dardanelles campaign, he said that the general opinion in England was that such a landing as that made on Gallipoli was possible the most radical naval expert would have branded the statement as foolish," he said.

"I think the combined naval and land operations in that campaign was the most brilliant landing feat ever accomplished."

He said that despite his large naval acquaintance in England he had been unable to learn anything about the British fleet.

"No one knows anything about it," he stated.

DEMANDS ARE GRANTED

Entente Powers Secure Bulgaria's Support, Says Dispatch.

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Aug. 16.—That the entente powers have granted Bulgaria's demands in order to gain that country's aid is the belief in Sofia, according to a dispatch from the Bulgarian capital to the German journal.

"The note of the quadruple entente is kept secret, but it is believed the demands of the Bulgarian government are granted," says the dispatch.

A dispatch received from London Saturday stated that the British foreign secretary was sending important dispatches to the English envoy at Sofia.

NISH, SERBIA, Aug. 16.—The Austro-Serbian artillery duel on the Danube front, which is believed to be the opening of a new Austrian offensive campaign is increasing in violence. The following official statement was issued, reading:

Many of the Serbian guns are now being operated by British soldiers.

WILL RESIST PROPOSAL

United States to Try and Keep Cotton on Free List.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The administration is preparing to resist vigorously the British proposal to put cotton on the contraband list. If cotton be made contraband of war, it will be over the emphatic protest of the United States and the administration is ready to exhaust every diplomatic means to prevent a further blow to American shipping.

When the cabinet meets tomorrow, it is expected that President Wilson will take up the British blockade situation.

SUBMARINE CREW IS LOST

U-12 Offered to Give Battle to the Italian Destroyer.

ROME, Aug. 16.—Dispatches from Milan feature the information that the Austrian submarine "U-12" was sent to the bottom by an Italian submarine shortly after the U-3 destroyed by the French cruiser Bisson. Austria has now lost one-third of her submarine strength, four of the under water boats having been sent to the bottom since the war began. She had 12 submarines at the outbreak of hostilities.

Details of the destruction of the U-12 were received in late advice. The submerged boat was sighted in the middle of the Adriatic and it was there she was sent to the bottom with all on board. Instead of submerging or taking flight the submarine remained at the surface to give battle to the Italian torpedo boat destroyer. The destroyer maneuvered the submarine toward the coast where Italian under water boats were lying in wait. One of these craft fired a torpedo which sent the Austrian boat to the bottom so quickly her crew could not be saved.
