ELKHART AND GOSHEN BOOST ATTENDANCE

grounds were crowded to capacity all the time, and many of the attractions that are being offered were forced to turn away people by the hundreds.
In spite of these large crowds, only one accident was reported to the police, John Alworth of Mishawaka fell on the bridge leading to the amusement park and was found to be suffering of heart failure. The police department first aid crew revived him and he continued to see all the sights around the fair grounds.
Two hours before the afternoon's races were scheduled to start, crowds lined up in front of the grandstand trying to get in. The stand was closed all morning to allow it to be cleaned and spectators were not allowed to look things over from that viewpoint.
Crowd Grandstand.
The stand filled up an hour before the speed program was to have been called. Starter William Fleming of Fort Wayne, and many who had figured on getting choice seats in the grandstand at a late hour in the afternoon were forced to either stand at the rear of the long tiers of seats or find places along the sides of the track at other places.
Fair officials did not really recognize the need for larger grandstand space until today and it was said that next year would see a new stand like the one already constructed, where the old baseball grandstand is now located. Reserved seats and boxes were at a premium before noon and it was almost impossible to find a stray seat in the unreserved section in the stand.
In spite of rain that came during the middle of the night, the track was in good shape for the afternoon's races. Under the direction of Supervisor Root who has charge of the track, scrapers and harrows worked on the speed course all morning and the work was not stopped until the parade of draft horses and cattle started at 12:30 o'clock. As soon as this part of the day's program was completed another force of men and horses went to work, giving the track the final going-over and it was ready for the first event in the speed department.
Fine Bunch of Horses.
A fine bunch of horses got away in the first event, the opening heat in the $1,000 Oliver hotel stake for 2:24 trotters. Mr. Forbes, owned by William Engleman of Kalamazoo, made a great showing in the heat.
There were no favorites in the 2:14 trot for a purse of $1,000. Tobe Ward showed well in the first heat. The gelding was from the Hawkins stables of Springfield, Ill., the ones that turned out Layburn Fuller, the horse that won the News-Times stake of $1,000 yesterday.
In order to give more seating room in the grandstand the band was moved down in front of the stand. This gave room for at least 100 more people in the stand. The Goshen band was from Goshen.
Announcement was made this afternoon that the famous Shriner Patrol band of Fort Wayne, would be here for concerts all day Saturday, the closing day of the fair, rendering the best of music, the band gives several drills.

Peaches took a decided tumble on the city market Thursday morning, coming down in price from $1 and $1.25 a bushel to 65 cents, 75 cents and $1 a bushel. The largest and best peaches sold at the last named price, while other varieties of the late freestone peach were to be had more cheaply.
Fresh chickens remained at the standard price, bringing 18 cents and 19 cents a pound for springers. Old chickens, live, sold at 14 cents. No springers were to be had on the city market.
Fresh strawberries, the second crop of the season, brought 25 cents a quart. There was not an abundance of this fruit and the little that was brought to market was eagerly snapped up.

tives and Americans generally from Villa territory. They claim that this is tantamount to admitting the impending recognition of Carranza, despite the fact that he declined to participate in the peace conference called by the South American envoys and the United States.
Officials made no effort to conceal their apprehension over the immediate outlook. It is admitted that if Obregon crushes Villa in the impending battle for the possession of Torreon, he will be able to sweep right through to the border. But it also is pointed out that Villa has not less than 50,000 trained and well armed men who can scatter and do enormous damage by carrying on general brigandage and looting and murdering almost at will.
