

COMMITTEE GETS JITNEY ORDINANCE

Bill Introduced at Meeting of Council But Action Is Delayed.

Whatever attitude the common council of the city has taken in the matter of drastic regulation of the jitney bus traffic was well concealed last night at that body's regular meeting. The ordinance, with which each council member had been furnished several days ago by the city attorney, was read by title only, and after some argument between Chairman Buechner of the committee of the whole and Prest Miller of the council, was referred without comment to the next meeting of the committee.

Argument ensued when Buechner seconded a motion that the new bill be referred to the committee without the formality of its reading. Miller objected that the formal rules of the council held that a new ordinance should first be read at a regular council meeting. Buechner held that since the committee had referred the ordinance to the city attorney and the ordinance committee of the council to be reported back at the first subsequent meeting of the committee of the whole, the bill should be introduced in that manner.

Compromise On Title.

A compromise was reached when it was agreed that the clerk should read the ordinance by title only.

Two attorneys were on hand to protect the interests of the jitney bus men. However, they declared that nothing would be said until the council was ready to discuss the matter.

The new ordinance provides for a $5,000 bond placed with the city for each driver of a jitney bus; a license fee ranging from $20 to $30; the adherence to prescribed routes in the city; the sale of six tickets for 25 cents; that no one under the age of 18 years shall operate a car in the traffic and other minor details.

Ask For Are Light.

A petition was received asking for the installation of an arc light at 8 Columbia and Pennsylvania av. This matter was referred to the board of public works to investigate the feasibility of the project. Councilman Goebel moved that the board of public safety be notified of the unsafe conditions existing at the intersection of Prairie av. with the Michigan Central

Member of Naval Advisory Board

ARTHUR G. WEBSTER.

Arthur Gordon Webster of Worcester, Mass., who has been selected by Sec'y of Navy Daniels as a member of the new naval advisory board, headed by Thomas A. Edison. Mr. Webster was proposed for the board by the American Mathematical society. He was graduated from Harvard in 1885 and is now a professor of physics at Clark university. He is authority on sound, its production and measurement.

The councilman declared that the view of the track was cut off by bushes growing on lands beside the track, and that several narrow escapes from serious injury had occurred in recent weeks. The city clerk was ordered to take the matter up with the safety board.

The report of the ways and means committee relative to the indefinite postponement of the placing of a light at the C. I. & S. tracks and College st, was held over until Councilman Thompson, who introduced the matter, be able to attend the council meeting. The report was the result of an investigation by the ways and means committee after an ordinance demanding that the New York Central lines install such a light.

A report was received from the board of public works concerning the installation of sewer and water connections on Leeper av. from Howard av. to Angela av. and upon Keasey st. from Michigan st. to Carroll st.

RECIPES OF OUR PIONEER MOTHERS

For the home treatment of disease were wonderfully dependable. True, they knew nothing of drugs, but owed their success to the roots, herbs and barks of the field. It is interesting to note that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the most successful remedy for female ills we have, was originally prepared for home use from one of these recipes. Its fame has now spread from shore to shore, and thousands of American women now well and strong claim they owe their health and happiness to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

BAGKACHE IS DISCOURAGING

But Not So Bad If You Know How to Reach the Cause.

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys and calls for prompt treatment. The best recommended remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Profit by this nearby resident's experience:

Peter Irwin, 701 E. Second St., Mishawaka, Ind., says: "For years I suffered from kidney trouble. I had a steady ache across the small of my back and my limbs felt stiff and sore, in fact my whole body ached. Kidney weakness clung to me day and night. I spent a great deal of money for medicine, but nothing did me any good until I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. Before long they had removed every pain and ache."

RESULTS THAT REMAIN.

MORE THAN FIVE YEARS LATER, Mr. Irwin said: "The benefit Doan's Kidney Pills gave me has proven lasting. All my former praise of them still holds good."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Irwin has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Harry Grant Risks Life to Save Others

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Enveloped in flames that streamed behind his monster racing car like forked penons, the car itself ablaze beneath his feet, the shouts of horrified spectators drowning his own screams of agony, Harry F. Grant, plunging high on the incline of the new Sheepshead bay speedway at 100 miles an hour Monday afternoon, knew that he must not stop.

Stretched out behind him were many other cars sweeping on at the same high speed, so close to each other and to him that they made a long blur in the eyes of onlookers. To suddenly stop his car meant to wreck it and pile the wreckage of many other cars on top of it with dead and dying.

His own life and that of his mechanic, Ruben Stafford, clutching the seat beside him, also were at stake. Stafford was screaming advice, but Grant could not hear him. He did not need advice. Grant, the veteran driver who had won two Vanderbilt cup races and laughed at death many times before, had his brain and his nerve clear for action.

Screams While Driving.

Round the top of the perilous incline the car still swept on, seemingly with undiminished speed. Grant's scorching hands clutching the wheel. While every added second meant greater torture, his screams still sounding, he was giving the drivers behind him time to slip out their own cars and avert their own tragedy.

"Why don't he stop? He's gone crazy!" came cries from the grandstand.

Then spectators saw that little by little the speed of the blazing Maxwell was diminishing. It left the high incline, slipping downward toward the infield safety "apron." It came to a stop as "Red" Stafford leaned over and put on the hand brake.

Stafford grabbed the screaming Grant by the collar and pulled him out of the car while a gang of workmen rushed up and threw sand on the blazing racer. The onlookers cheered. Earl Cooper drove up in his Stutz racer and Grant was placed in the seat beside him and rushed to the Coney Island hospital.

Monday night hospital physicians said that while Grant had been terribly burned from the waist down he probably would recover.

SAYS I. W. W. BEHIND BORDER OUTBREAKS

Carranza Consul to Lay Information Before Washington Involving Mexican Members.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Colonel Tidull Beltram, Carranza consul at San Antonio, Texas, Tuesday will lay before the department of justice information to show that Mexican members of the Industrial Workers of the World are responsible for the outbreaks along the border and the attacks upon American soldiers. The Carranza consul will tell the department officials that the members of this organization believe they are serving the cause of Mexico by stirring up trouble. Many of them wear the Carranzista uniform, which, it is stated, is easily obtained and costs but little. It is stated that their arms were obtained from the central body of the I. W. It was officially denied today that any embargo on arms is being maintained.
