PAYMENT OF TAX DUE NEXT WEEK

Treasurer Martin Expects Rush on Last Days—Must be Paid by Oct. 31.

A steady influx of taxpayers has filled the treasurer's office during the past week. Payment of taxes on the last half of the 1914 taxes are due, the last day on which they may be paid falling on Oct. 31.

The office has been keeping open late and early in an effort to give everyone a chance to come in and pay their taxes. From the present outlook, it seems as if the treasurer's office will be deluged on the last day, as the taxpayers are not coming in as rapidly as in former years.

The collection of the last half of the 1914 taxes will bring into the treasurer's office about $600,000. This amount includes the city and state shares, which will be turned over by the treasurer.

According to County Treasurer Fred W. Martin, this is one of the busiest times of the year, and the force in the treasurer's office is doubling its efforts in order to provide for those that are unable to come to the court house during the usual hours.

WANTED TO BE DETECTIVE

Michigan Youth Learns to His Sorrow There's No Vacancy.

"I want to be a detective," announced a freckled youth from Michigan to Police Capt. Shook at 10 o'clock Friday morning. He was big, long and awkward. His head was set off in all its beautiful contour by a canvas cap, the front of which bore a candy firm's label.

"How much experience have you had, my boy?" asked the captain.

"Oh, lots," was the confident reply. "I am a good friend to our town marshal at Bridgeport, Mich. He's some police officer, and don't you forget it!"

He was assured that a vacancy on the local detective force did not exist at the present time, but that he might get a job at Chicago. He said that that was too far away from home.

MAY DELAY ROEDER TRIAL

Murder Case May be Held Over Till Next Term.

That the trial of Otto Roeder, who is now lodged in the county jail charged with second degree murder, may not be held this term was the intimation made Friday by Deputy Pros. Nye. The case is set for trial in circuit court.

Judge Funk, it is believed, has striped the docket of jury-wrangling cases which are to be heard this term. The circuit court jury is now listening to civil cases, and the only criminal cases to be brought up this term are those that go before the court and in which a jury will be waived.

Roeder is charged with the murder of Harry E. Love, telegraph operator, who was found dead in a shed near a saloon in Wyatt.

PART AFTER 13 YEARS

Mrs. Cecelia Keszeg Says Husband Accused Her.

After 13 years of married life, Cecelia Keszeg and Anton Keszeg separated. They were married in June 1897 and in April 1914 came the parting of their ways. All this is in accordance with a divorce complaint filed Friday in superior court.

But the 13 years of marriage was not as blissful as it looked, the complaint charged, for it seems that Anton accused Cecelia of infidelity. Now Cecelia has asked for $500 alimony, a divorce, and permission to resume her maiden name, Cecelia Varga.

GETS SMALL DAMAGES

Damages to the extent of $491 were allowed John Greenwood against Rev. Stanislaus Gruza by the superior court jury Tuesday afternoon. The decision was reached after two hours of deliberating. Greenwood asked for $2,000 damages against Gruza.

Greenwood claimed he suffered his injuries at the hands of rioters on the morning of Feb. 14, 1914, when he conveyed Father Gruza, with a party to St. Casimir's parish.

Greenwood said that he was laid up for two months, and that his machine was damaged to the extent of $300.

Judgment was rendered in superior court Friday afternoon against Nathaniel L. Otis to collect on a note Grant Tank was the plaintiff.

JUDGE FUNK WILL CLEAN UP DOCKETS

Orders Cases That Have Been on the Records For Years to be Tried.

In an effort to wipe old cases off the docket, those that have been on the court records for at least four years, Judge Walter A. Funk Friday prepared a list, announcing that attorneys interested should make an appearance within 30 days to explain their disposition. If the attorneys fail to show reason why the cases should not go to trial, the court will issue citations.

The cases have all been on the records at least four years, and some of them longer. One case has been on the docket for nine years. In many instances the settlement of the actions has been impossible before.

The cases listed by the court are: 12864—EX Parte in the matter of the Petition of Emma Phillips et al; 13239—EX Parte in the matter of petition of William Weigand et al. for drainage; 13406—Samuel M. Robinson vs. South Bend Life Insurance Co.; 13531—EX Parte in the matter of petition of Jacob L. Goetz et al. for drainage; 13793—Hill standard Mig. Co. vs. Mishawaka Foiding Carriage Co.; 14066—State on relation of James Bureau, attorney general vs. South Bend Life Insurance Co.; 14167—EX Parte petition of John H. Waite for drainage; 14314—EX Parte petition of George E. Steel for filling Dan Shenneman ditch.
