HIGH COURT CUTS DOWN LIFE TERM

Noted Marquette Convict Wins Long Fight—Ten-year Maximum Set.

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 1.—George E. Hamilton, Marquette prison's most famous lifer, is no longer a lifer. The supreme court reduced his sentence to 10 years. This makes him eligible for parole but even if refused parole he will be released about July 1, 1916, provided his good time allowance is given him. His 10 years will be up Nov. 23, 1915.

The late Judge A. T. Streeter, after conviction, sentenced Hamilton to serve from 10 years to the remainder of his life, and recommended the maximum sentence.

In 1911 Hamilton was the star witness in the legislative investigation into the manner of running the prison. Hamilton's testimony caused the subsequent removal of William Russell, brother of Warden Russell.

Police Arrest One and Work in Conjunction With Chicago Authorities.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Nov. 1.—The robbery of the Salzberg store early Friday morning, is being solved. Two grips containing goods taken from the Salzberg store, found in the colored man's possession, have been returned. Ten or 12 additional grips of stolen goods are still missing. The goods recovered include five ladies' suits, two men's suits, one lady's coat, eight hand bags, half dozen silk ties, and other smaller articles.

RICHMOND, Ind., Nov. 1.—Loss estimated at $2,000, was sustained by George Sinton, a farmer, living southeast of the city, by fire of unknown origin yesterday afternoon, which burned his frame and brick residence to the ground. Household goods valued at $1,000 were saved. There was no one at home when the fire was discovered, and its progress was so advanced by the time the No. 2 hose company arrived that it was almost useless to try to save more than near outbuildings.

MILLERS SUFFER FROM FIRE THE FIFTH TIME

Destruction of Mill at Jeffersonville is Estimated at $30,000 Loss.

Wheat Burned Up.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Nov. 1.—E. C. Eberts, general manager of the firm of Eberts & Bro., estimated the loss from the destruction by fire of the firm's mill at Charlestown, yesterday evening, at $30,000, with $19,000 insurance. The origin is unknown, but possibly was due to spontaneous combustion. There were 8,000 bushels of new wheat in the elevator. The firm was burned out in Jeffersonville in April, 1913, with a gross loss of $100,000, and established its principal place of business afterward in Louisville. Twice the firm was burned out at Henryville, in 1904 and 1908, before coming here, and the firm also, a few years ago, suffered a considerable fire loss at its North Vernon plant. Jacob and Conrad Eberts, brothers, are the members of the firm.

The father conducted an undertaking establishment and furniture store in the present location of the Friedrich music store.

FRANKLIN, Ind., Nov. 1.—C. W. Lynch, the restaurateur, owner of this city, who disappeared mysteriously about three weeks ago, when he went to Indianapolis to buy provisions for his restaurant, returned home yesterday as mysteriously as he left. He said he had been confined in a hospital in Cincinnati, where he had gone to be treated for blood poisoning, caused from burns on his hands which were painful him before he left home. Why he went to Cincinnati instead of being treated nearer home he did not say. He says he had letters sent to his family from the hospital, informing them of his whereabouts, and that he was greatly worried because they were not answered. He has resumed charge of his restaurant.

REVENUE MAN IS GONE

Departure From Muncie Brings Relief to Some Persons.

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 1.—The departure of Thomas Rogers, a deputy revenue officer, after a prolonged stay in the city is said to have caused relief to a number of those supposed to be engaged in the sale of liquor in "dry" Muncie. Rogers caused several persons to pay $25 for a federal liquor stamp. A farmer is said to have paid $100 for a stamp. About 100 federal stamps have been bought by Muncie persons since the city went "dry." Anti-saloon league speakers at the field day exercises of the league last Saturday urged that the "blind tigers" here be closed.

FRANK B. POSEY IS DEAD

Was Well Known in Southern Part of the State.

ROCKPORT, Ind., Nov. 1.—Frank B. Posey, noted orator and former congressman, is dead at his home here today, 67 years old. IRISH AND GERMANS SETTLE DIFFERENCES

Democratic Clubs Get Together and Bury Grudges of Last Campaign.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1.—A meeting that was one of the best from the point of real earnestness and enthusiasm that has been held in Marion county since the close of the last campaign was a joint assembling of the German-American Democratic club and the Irish-American Democratic club. In the last campaign these two divisions of the party in Marion county got working at cross purposes and this had much to do with results. "But they are now together," Albert Sahn explained after the meeting, "more than they have ever been before. They are all good democrats and this meeting was a love feast and a getting together in the broadest and best sense. It was a representative meeting. The audience of more than 300, which was all the hall would contain, was of representative men in the business community. They were the sort of men who do things and who, when united, get results politically. The talk by Phil Zoercher was one of the best to which I ever had the pleasure of listening, and we all went home better democrats than when we came."

Mr. Zoercher was the principal speaker. When being introduced the chairman explained that he was especially appropriate that he be the speaker to this audience, being himself a German-American, his wife an Irish-American, and both of them good democrats. "And both of us good Americans first, last and all the time," Mr. Zoercher explained when he began to speak. To this the audience responded with special enthusiasm. Mr. Zoercher spoke at some length on the record of both the national and state administrations. He also denounced the methods employed by the Marion county republican organization in bringing a large number of political indictments where no evidence existed.

MISSIONARIES WILL PRAY TO END WAR

Faith Has Diminished Among So-called Heathen Since Conflict Began.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Nov. 1.—Missionaries from out-of-the-way places of earth will join in prayer for peace in Europe at the opening here tomorrow of the seventh interdenominational medical missionary conference. The missionaries say that nations believing in a gospel of peace could throw themselves into war at so slight a provocation. Two hundred missionaries representing all denominations and coming from every foreign field will attend the conference. Those who are to represent Armenia have lately observed indescribable horrors among that beleaguered people. One of the delegates will tell of his experiences as a prisoner of the Turks, held as a public enemy because of his Canadian parentage. Rev. Harlan Y. Beach, dean of Yale divinity school, will preside at the conference which will be held at Battle Creek sanitarium.

MILK CURE FOR WAR

Professor Points Out Fact That Dairy Nations Are Peaceful.

EAST LANSING, Mich., Nov. 1.—"Feed the world on milk and all war will cease," is the theory for bringing about universal peace propounded at East Lansing by Heimer Rabild, who is in charge of extension work for the dairy division of the U. S. department of agriculture. "The milk fed nations of Europe are the only ones that are not engaged in the great conflict," explains Rabild, "Denmark and the Netherlands, the greatest dairy countries in the world, furnish the best examples. Switzerland, Norway and Sweden, other countries in which the inhabitants use much milk, have also managed to keep out of the war, due to the peace loving tendencies caused by their diet." Rabild is engaged in the dual work of promoting dairy interest in the United States and thereby laboring for perpetual peace, according to his explanation.

ACCIDENTALLY WOUNDED BY REVOLVER SHOT

ELWOOD, Ind., Nov. 1.—Robert McCaskey, Civil war veteran and former county official, was accidentally shot and seriously wounded at his home late yesterday. RIVAL FIRE COMPANIES FAIL TO QUENCH FLAMES

PETERSBURG, Ind., Nov. 1.—Winstow, nine miles south of here, has two recently organized fire companies, each with a membership of 12 men. There was soon a rivalry between the two companies, as to which could reach and extinguish a fire first. To test the matter, it was decided that a big pile of kindling should be set on fire in a distant part of the town, and at a given alarm both companies were to respond. The bonfire was lighted. It was a close contest between the companies as to which arrived first. Both companies could extinguish the flames. Then it was discovered that the town was hidden a big can of carbide in the pile of kindling. The contest was called off and will be held later.
