VICE SLEUTH GETS 30-DAY SENTENCE

Edward B. Beaverson Tells Court He Was Hired by Mishawaka's Police Chief.

Mishawaka's special vice investigator was uncovered Friday morning. The investigator is Edward B. Beaverson, who was sentenced to 30 days by Judge Ford Friday for contempt of court.

Beaverson was brought up to show cause why he had failed to pay an allowance of $1.50 a week to his divorced wife for the support of their child. He told the court that money for his services rendered to the Mishawaka police department had not been forthcoming. He said he was a secret investigator.

"What is a secret investigator?" Judge Ford asked. "I am a secret investigator," Beaverson answered.

"That's no business for any white man," Judge Ford interjected. "I see no reason why you should not be sentenced."

"Judge, you see I have—" Beaverson began, in his own self defense.

"Is Given Thirty Days." "I have heard enough of your story," declared the court. "Thirty days," Sheriff, remove the man."

It developed that Beaverson married about two weeks ago. When questioned by the court, he admitted that he had married Judge Ford further questioned him as to his reasons for marrying when he was $33 in arrears on the support money for his child. Beaverson said it was a compulsory marriage.

Beaverson's investigations, he told deputy sheriffs, who brought him in Thursday night to face the contempt charge, consisted of operating against violators of the Sunday saloon closing regulations, cutting up houses of ill fame and the like. He further told the sheriff's deputies that there were several resorts now running in Mishawaka. They asked him if he had apprehended anyone since the judge had been out of place. He told the county officers that he was about to reveal his information to the Mishawaka police, when the bartender at the hotel became suspicious of him, and prevented him from entering.

Was Hired by Chief. "Chief Kreiter hired me to work, and told me that I should assist their plain clothes men," he said. "I worked for them off and on for more than a couple of months, and when I asked them for my pay, they refused me. I'll make them pay me yet, not of course until I get out of here. Had they given me the money coming to me, I should have paid up what I owe to Bessie and Mr. Parks."

"One of the things I did there was to procure lottery tickets for the police and for business men. They could not do it themselves, so they got me to do it. They never even gave me the money I had coming for my share of the tickets."

"That the reputation of the Mishawaka board of safety in not paying Beaverson for his services, or for the services he claims to have rendered there, was an attempt to conceal the fact that a secret investigator was being employed, and the belief that prevailed Friday around the court house, Beaverson admitted Friday that a bill for professional services of $45 had been presented to the board of safety by his attorney, J. Elmer Peak, which the board had refused to allow. The investigator says, however, that he has witnesses to the fact that he was a regular employe and that he has never been paid.

Both Beaverson's former wife and child and his present wife were in the court room Friday when he was sentenced. Neither spoke to the other. According to his own story, Beaverson married Miss Bessie Kimmel Jan. 12, 1913. She obtained a divorce from him May 8, 1914. He at the time of the granting of the divorce, he says, was in Texas, having gone there to recover from a strident disease. Upon his return, he was informed of the court action, and began paying the costs and support money to his former wife. Then he began his secret investigations for the city of Mishawaka, for which he never received compensation. The fact that they refused to pay him money entitled to him for work done while investigating, caused him to get behind in his payments, he declares.

MRS. QUILHOT IS HERE IN HIDING

Wife of Special Investigator Wants Guardian to Handle Her Affairs.

Mrs. John H. Quilhot, formerly Mrs. Marion R. Miller, has been abducted from her husband and is being kept in hiding in South Bend until a guardian can be appointed to take care of her financial affairs. Quilhot is the man who figured so sensationally in the city administration's vice crusade of a year ago and in a number of subsequent court actions one of which caused him to spend 10 days in the county jail. He married Mrs. Miller after his release from jail and according to her story as told here Friday, Quilhot has managed to get practically all of her money, has kept another woman in the same house in which they lived, and she has been a prisoner practically every moment since the day they were married.

For six weeks Quilhot has had his wife in Battle Creek, Mich., and according to her has kept her confined all the time. Thursday afternoon Quilhot and the woman he is alleged to have been at his home, left the house for a short time. In the meantime Mrs. Paul Frankel of South Bend, who has been employed as a detective by Mrs. Quilhot's relative, during the past month, entered the Quilhot home and wrapping the invalid woman in a bath robe, hurried her into an automobile and a hasty overland trip was made to this city.

Is Kept in Hiding. Mrs. Miller is being kept in hiding here while attorneys are preparing papers requesting for a guardian on the grounds that she is incapable of taking care of her financial affairs. The purpose of this action is to permit the guardian to force the return of the money and property Quilhot is alleged to have secured from his wife through various means.

Mrs. Miller-Quilhot in an interview Friday declared that she had been duped by Quilhot. She said that he held with them a girl by the name of Etta Blackburn, the daughter of Mrs. Mary Blackburn, the woman who last spring sued him for breach of promise.

In her statement Mrs. Miller declared that Quilhot also lived with the same woman at 707 Vestula av., until the first of October, telling people that she was his niece. This story is corroborated by neighbors in the vicinity.

"He is spending his money on these other women," declared Mrs. Miller-Quilhot. "I told me when we were married that he would take me to California where I could get well. Instead he took me into Michigan. At Lansing I began to get well and improve but he took my medicine away from me. Then we went to Battle Creek and this woman lived with him, acting as a guard for me. I tried to get away several times but she and he always watched me too closely until Mrs. Frankel came to my aid."

NATIONAL BANKS ARE TAKING THEIR PROFITS

Reports to Controller Show They Hold Less Stocks Than in June.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—The national banks of the country are now taking their profits on the hundreds of shares of stocks that they have had on their hands since the outbreak of the war, caused the New York stock exchange to close and generally demoralized the securities market.

A report compiled by Comptroller of the Currency William C. Wagner for the first time in more than a year the national banks are decreasing their stock holding. But his report fails to show whether the shares that are being sold are the popular "war brides" or the more steady and less spectacular railroads and standard industrials. The report shows that on Sept. 2 last the national banks held securities valued at $92,594,892, while on June 23 previous the date of the last report they held $93,787,521. While the denomination is comparatively slight it marks the first turn in the bank holdings and officials feel reasonably confident that it is the commencement of a general unloading movement a prescient prices mark fine profits for most holdings.

"In Argonne, at Hill No. 225, we put an end to the works on which the Germans were industriously laboring. To the north of Flirey we administered another check by preventing the enemy from pushing forward his mine galleries."

Committee Appointed to Carry on Factory Meetings.

Attendance at the last of the four-day series of Evangelical meetings that were held in the factories by the Y. M. C. A. under the direction of A. M. Crane of Chicago, was the largest of any day Friday when 1,200 men turned out at the 15 different shops. Mr. Bruner talked at the Engman Matthews Range Co. on "Getting Down to Business." One new shop was added to the list of factories today, a meeting having been held at the South Bend Lath works.

Committee of three men have been named in 14 of the shops to continue the evangelistic work that has been started. The members of these committees will meet with Mr. Bruner at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night when he will tell them how to carry on the work.

HOCKING ISSUE MAY GROW GRAVE

If Ownership is Proved American Demand Will be Made for Release.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—It was said officially at the state department Thursday that if the American Trans-Atlantic Steamship Co. will prove to the satisfaction of the department that the American steamship Hocking, now in the prize court at Halifax, is not "enemy owned" this government will make the question a diplomatic issue with Great Britain.

Officials explained this to mean that if the actual American ownership of the vessel is proved, the state department, ignoring the prize court proceedings, will make a demand on Great Britain for the release of the Hocking.

Inasmuch as the case of the Hocking and that of the Winnago of the same company, now loaded and ready to sail from Buenos Ayres, are regarded by the state department as in the same category, it is believed here that this government will take the same position in the case of the latter vessel if it is seized by a British cruiser.

These developments indicate that the attitude of the British government toward the vessels of the American Trans-Atlantic Steamship Co. is likely to become one of the gravest issues that has so far developed between the two governments.

ASKS FOR PROOF.

Secy of State Lansing Wednesday telegraphed R. G. Wagner, president of the company, for proof that the stock in the concern is wholly owned by American interests. Thursday Ambassador Page at London cabled the department that the British government, in answer to inquiry, had informed him that the Hocking is held because it is "enemy-owned."

MEMBER OF STATE BOARD AT MEETING

Suffragets of Thirteenth District Are in Conviction at Elkhart.

ELKHART, Ind., Nov. 12.—The unexpected presence of Miss Eleanor Barker of Indianapolis, representing the state board of the Women's Franchise League of Indiana at the convention of the 13th district league here Friday, created some little speculation among the delegates as to its significance.

It was rumored during the morning session that Miss Barker was present for the purpose of presenting to the branch league a resolution approving the expulsion of Mrs. S. C. Stimson of Terre Haute from the league. Similar resolutions have been adopted by the leagues of the fifth and eleventh districts.

At a morning session Miss Barker gave a strong talk urging closer organization. The subject of her talk was "Why the Vote Failed in the East," the main reason she assigned being lack of organization outside of the larger cities.

A few men attended the luncheon at noon at the Elks' temple. Covers were placed for 80 and a few impromptu talks were given.
