

WOULD FIND WELCOME ON HER RETURN

Several Articles Are Returned to Wife by Quilhot—"Daddy" Regrets Woman's Leaving Says Note.

WOMAN NOW ANXIOUS TO RETURN HOME

Mrs. Etta Dargusah in Telephone Conversation Says She is Ready to Quit Quilhot.

One diamond ring, a gold necklace, and a suitcase full of clothing, these articles missing from the wardrobe and possession of Mrs. John H. Quilhot since her flight from Battle Creek to escape her husband, John H. Quilhot, were returned to her Wednesday morning by her husband. Along with the package came a note to Mrs. Quilhot.

The former vice investigator dug deep into the trunk but told her that the ring was not there. Necklace Valuable. The necklace, which was very valuable and highly prized by Mrs. Quilhot, was taken by her husband, Mrs. Quilhot says, on the pretext that he did not want it to be in her possession for fear that she might sell it and squander the money.

The letter was signed by Etta Dargusah and intimated that more of Mrs. Quilhot's wardrobe, which had not been sent in the first package would be forthcoming.

Mrs. Etta Dargusah, Newcastle, Ind., who is said, deserted her husband to flee with Quilhot to Battle Creek yesterday, broken hearted over the whole affair, telephoned Mrs. Quilhot's South Bend attorneys that she wanted to return to her husband and bring back with her $2,000 worth of furniture.

According to advices from Hastings, Mich., Quilhot was last seen there in company with Mrs. Dargusah.

ASKS NAVY LEAGUE FOR EXPLANATION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Representative Clyde H. Tavenner of Illinois, today called on the navy league to explain alleged contributions of $2,000 and $1,000 received on June 19 from the estate of J. Pierpont Morgan and Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, respectively.

Tavenner also declared his willingness to abandon his announced purpose to move for a congressional investigation of the navy league if the league would favor government manufacture of war munitions exclusively.

In a letter to A. H. Dadmum, secretary of the navy league, and made public by Rep. Tavenner, he said:

"I notice in your statement of yesterday that you state J. Pierpont Morgan is an 'American patriot.' Evidently you missed my point. I do not charge Mr. Morgan is not an 'American patriot.' I charge that he is a war trafficker, and that he is a director of the navy league, which is advocating larger appropriations for war traffickers."

"I also note that you state that Mr. Morgan has contributed only $125 to the navy league. I understood that the J. Pierpont Morgan estate contributed $2,000 on June 1. Will you please inform the public whether this is correct and what individual or individuals made this contribution on behalf of the Morgan estate?"

COW TOO BIG TO GET IN BUILDING

How would you get a cow, too big to harmonize with the doors of a building, into said building?

This problem confronted men in charge of the display for National Electrical Prosperity week in the Inwood building.

Many suggestions were offered but they were all impossible, and the feature of the Lakeville Cream Products Co.'s display will remain in its crate until the front window is taken out for the admission of an automobile.

You see, the cow is of the plaster and paris variety, and all suggestions up to this time have been for regular milk providers.

EXPECT TO EQUAL FIGURES OF 1914

with $17,004.25 Collected Good Will Canvassers Will Continue Their Work.

Despite the fact that Good Will workers were making preparations Tuesday for an extensive campaign of the city during the last two days of this week to get money for the charities, the collectors took in $17,004.25. This amount brings the total collections for the campaign up to $17,004.25.

Following are the figures for Tuesday: Team No. 3, $15; seven, $3.35; nine, $118.35; 10, 50 cents; 13, $87.07; 14, 25 cents; 19, $1; 21, $84.50; 22, $7.25; 24, $88.85; 29, $15; trustees, $780.

The office force of the South Bend Federation for Social Service spent most of the time Tuesday getting the cards ready for the workers to take out Friday and Saturday. On these two days the workers will make an effort to bring the total at least up to the amount that was collected last year. In order to do this it will be necessary for the teams to collect about $5,000, an average of about $1,700 a day, including Wednesday.

TURKEYS ARE SCARCE

Geese, Ducks and Chickens Are in Demand.

Turkeys were in demand on market Wednesday morning, but the supply was not there. This shortage in the Thanksgiving fowl may have been due to the fact that dealers did not know the market was to be open. It will be closed Thursday, one of the regular market days.

Geese, ducks and chickens took the place of turkey on the market and there was a plentiful supply of these fowls. Apparently many housewives made their Thanksgiving purchases on Tuesday, thinking it was the last market day before the annual event, for there were more geese, ducks and chickens than were needed.

All prices remained the same as they have been for the past week. The few turkeys on the market sold at 23 cents, alive, and 28 cents, dressed. Ducks and geese went at 14 cents, practically all of these fowls being alive. Old chickens sold at 14 and 18 cents while springers went at 14 and 20 cents.

ALL BUT CLERK'S OFFICE WILL OBSERVE HOLIDAY

Matrimony and Hunting to Secure Special Consideration at Court House Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving at the court house will see all departments closed to observe the holiday save the county clerk's office. This office remains open during all holidays save the Fourth of July. Thursday they expect to minister to couples desiring to get married on the holiday by serving them licenses. They will also provide for the onslaught of hunters who annually come in early on Thanksgiving morning for hunting and fishing permits. Seventy-two hunting licenses were issued Tuesday, the largest number yet issued this year on one day.

MICHIGAN GIRL MISSING

John Hudson, acting chief of police at Jackson, Mich., has asked the South Bend department to search for Lella Tanner, a 16-year-old girl who disappeared from Jackson on Nov. 20. The parents of the girl are very anxious to get in touch with her and a strenuous effort is being made to locate her. She is described as appearing older than she really is, stands about 5 feet 5 inches tall and has brown eyes and hair.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Arthur L. Rupley, farmer; Clara Van Hesche, Frank J. Cosgrove, auditor; Rose

There will be no afternoon edition of The News-Times on Thursday, Thanksgiving. The regular Thursday morning edition will be delivered to the afternoon subscribers instead.

CITY READY TO OBSERVE THANKS DAY

One of the Features of the Day Will be a Dinner For Needy Children Given by Seniors at High.

UNION SERVICES TO BE HELD BY CHURCHES

Congregations of City Will Join in Offering Thanks. Salvation Army and Rescue Mission Give Food.

Thanksgiving day will pass far from unnoticed in South Bend and vicinity. For many a day now homes, schools and institutions for the aid of the needy have been planning and preparing for that day so prominent in American history through its significance alone. It will be celebrated as a day of thanksgiving for plenty, and as in Pilgrim times, will be featured by festive boards and family gatherings, while a decided effort will be made to prepare alike for rich and poor in the matter of food.

Union services will be held at five churches Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, pastors from other churches filling the pulpits. Following are the pastors who will speak at the various union services: Rev. C. A. Decker of the First Baptist church, at the First Presbyterian; Rev. H. B. Hostetter of Westminster Presbyterian, at Epworth Memorial M. E.; Rev. W. H. Freshley of the First Church of the Evangelical association, at Grace M. E.; Rev. A. E. Thomas of the First Brethren, at Hope chapel; Rev. Guy H. Black at Trinity Presbyterian.

Seniors Hosts to Poor.

One of the feature events of Thanksgiving day is the dinner for needy school children to be given at the high school Thursday noon when members of the senior class will act as hosts under the direction of their sponsors, Prof. Shepherd Lettler and the Misses Katherine Klingel and Mary Livengood.

This is the third annual Thanksgiving dinner to be served under the direction of a high school senior class, and has been contributed to by all students of the high school. A total of $60 was raised in cash amongst students and faculty, while many scholars from the rural communities tendered garden produce—potatoes, apples, etc., for the preparation.

The work of waiting table, providing entertainment after the dinner, and cleaning up will be done by the senior class, which has been divided into committees for the work. Tickets for the affair, which will be given in the lunch room at the high school, were sent out to principals of all South Bend's schools, and given to those to whom it was deemed such an entertainment would be most appropriate.

Schools Given Holiday.

As usual with Thanksgiving, a holiday for students and teachers has been arranged, and school closed Wednesday, to be resumed Monday morning. Exercises at the different grade institutions have been in progress for the past week, with different schools choosing different times for the celebration of Thanksgiving. Wednesday afternoon saw the last of the entertainments. Kaley school was hosts to parents and friends of the students Wednesday at a well prepared program in the assembly hall.

Plans For Poor.

STATE WILL INQUIRE INTO DEATH OF BABY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 24.—A thorough inquiry into the case of the Bollinger baby, who was allowed to die by Dr. Harry J. Haiselden, in a Chicago hospital, was planned today by the state board of health. Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the board, wrote to Coroner Hoffman in Chicago, requesting that a transcript of the evidence taken at the Bollinger inquest be forwarded to Springfield at once.

Dr. Drake said he had been asked by a large number of persons, professional men among them, to make a careful study of the case with a view to learning whether the state board could take any action in the unprecedented case. He stated that the state board would make as careful an investigation as possible with a view to learning whether Dr. Haiselden's license as a physician should be revoked because he refused to save the life of the deformed infant.

Late Bulletins

CAPTURE TOWN.

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—Mittrovița, to which city the Serbian capital was moved from Nish, has been captured by Austro-Hungarian troops and Pristina has been occupied by the Germans, it was officially announced today.

MOVE CAPITAL.

PARIS, Nov. 24.—The Serbian government was moved to Scutari, Albania, today. Official announcement to this effect was made by the Serb legation this afternoon. The flight of the Serb government to Albania shows that the Bulgarians have cut off the Serbian forces from any retreat toward the south.

TO STAY NEUTRAL.

ATHENS, Nov. 24.—"Greece will release a hand against the allies," declared Premier Skoufoulis in an interview today. "Firstly, Greece is neutral and will remain neutral despite all pressure no matter what the source of it."

Secondly, this neutrality will be maintained in the most friendly way."

AUSTRIAN TROOPS EVACUATE TOWNS

Southern Defenses of Trent Soon to be Occupied by Italians.

ROME, Nov. 24.—Austrian troops are reported to have evacuated the fortified towns of Rovereto and Mori in the Tyrol, which form the southern defense of Trent.

It is also reported that the Austrians have appealed to Germany to send reinforcements to the Isonzo front.

GENEVA, Nov. 24.—Italian troops have carried Austrian positions on the right bank of the Isonzo between San Valentin and Podgora and captured forts No. 73 and No. 67, which defend the Podgora bridge, one of the approaches to Gorizia, according to reports received here today.

One thousand Austrian prisoners were captured. Italian artillery has destroyed forts No. 44 and No. 89, two of the strongest interior defenses of Gorizia.

ROME, Nov. 24.—Italy's victorious troops are now strengthening the positions they have taken from the Austrians on the Isonzo front. There is a lull in the desperate conflict which has marked the campaign against Gorizia, but it is expected that the troops of King Victor Emmanuel will again renew their assaults. Gen. Count Cadorna, the Italian commander-in-chief, reports under date of Nov. 23 as follows:

"Further details of the engagements of Nov. 20 and Nov. 21, on the heights northeast of Osavia, enhance their importance and the bitter nature of the fighting. The Sardinian grenadiers brigade coupled courage and valor in attacking the heights and stubbornly opposing violent and incessant counter attacks."

"Yesterday passed quietly. Our troops strengthened their conquered positions."

MEXICAN BATTLE IS ON

Fierce Fighting is in Progress in Streets of Hermosillo.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 24.—Fierce fighting is in progress in the streets of Hermosillo between Villa and Carranza forces, but it was declared at Aguprieta today that the Carranzas still held the city. Gen. Dieguez, the Carranza commander at Hermosillo, has called for reinforcements, and these are being sent from Manzanillo.

Question of Finances to Be Taken Up By Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Face to face with an estimated annual deficit of not less than $50,000,000 and with a billion dollar program for national defense awaiting approval, the administration must decide shortly what action congress shall take to refill the national purse.

Four methods today apparently are meeting with favor—a tax on war profits if it legally can be levied; an inheritance tax; increase of the income tax to affect incomes exceeding $20,000; renewal and increasing the scope of the present war revenue taxes.

HAD ENOUGH FOOD ABOARD FOR 6 SHIPS

First Witness in Trial of Hamburg Line Officials Tells of Enormous Orders for Supplies.

SENSATIONS LIKELY TO DEVELOP TODAY

Capt. Boy-ed Mentioned in Connection With Conspiracy May be Asked to Leave United States.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—The Hamburg-American line chartered American steamships before there was a declaration of war in Europe, and sent them to South American waters where they supplied German warships, meeting them at pre-arranged places, showing that the German "preparedness" extended to every branch of the service.

These facts were established today by witnesses for the government in the conspiracy trial of Karl Buzen, managing director of the Hamburg-American Steamship Co., before Federal Judge Howe.

The chartered vessels carried huge amounts of supplies and sailed with false manifests, the government showed.

Capt. Fritz E. Falkenberg, of the chartered steamer Berwind, related details of the naval battle off Trinidad, when the Cap. Trafalgar was sunk by the British auxiliary cruiser Carmania.

WITNESSES ARE PRESENT.

When the trial of Buzen and his fellow defendants was resumed today the government had marshaled more than 40 witnesses to establish its contention that vast sums of money were used in the alleged conspiracy and that the German merchant marine establishment in the United States was in reality a branch of the Berlin war office.

The first witness was Nicholas Zamborsky, connected with the Francis H. Liggett Co. He related that his company in August, 1914, received orders for 4,000 pounds of butter, 1,500 barrels of sauerkraut, 1,000 pounds of prunes and 1,500 pounds of potatoes to be delivered to the steamships Berwind and Lorenzo.

PLANS SUGGESTED TO SECURE FUNDS.

Tax on war profits by means of an internal revenue tax on certain classes of manufactures as export tax is unconstitutional. A national inheritance tax. Increasing the tax on swollen incomes. Revision of the tariff to increase the tax on all securities. Issuance of bonds, preferably Panama canal securities.

Delano and Paul M. Warburg of the federal reserve board, are on record as saying that the utmost care must be taken by American business men to resist the temptation to speculate because of cheap money rates. They fear, they say, that so much of the nation's reserve stock of cash may be tied up in long time loans on real estate, mining ventures and the like, that the banks finally will have to demand liquidation and thus cause trouble.

"FOOL KILLER" SUB IS BEING RAISED.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Efforts were being made today to raise the "fool killer" submarine that has been buried in the mud of the Chicago river for 18 years. The diving boat was found by William M. Deneau, a diver, who was laying a cable in the river bed.

The boat was owned by Peter Nissen, an old time mariner. It was a cigar shaped craft, and could be submerged until an air pipe about 10 feet high was the only part that stuck out of the water. Nissen, who never succeeded in putting the subsea craft into practical operation, lost his life trying to drift across lake Michigan in a revolving boat, another of his spectacular inventions.

WHITLOCK BACK, REFUSES TO TALK

Here on Short Sick Leave and is Not in Position to Say a Word.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Gale battered and storm-stained, the Holland-American liner Ryndam arrived today from Rotterdam, three days overdue. It was the worst voyage in the ship's history. The liner ran into one gale after another and had to fight her way through mountain seas, piled up by terrific head winds.

Among the passengers on board were Brand Whitlock, United States minister to Belgium, who has played a more conspicuous part in the European war than any other American official.

Mr. Whitlock was asked about the war, about conditions in Belgium, about the case of Miss Edith Cavell, the British nurse whose life he tried to save and about numerous other things, but he refused to talk.

"I am here on a short sick leave and I am not in a position to say a word about anything," declared Mr. Whitlock. "My intention is to go to Washington to make a report, then go to Cleveland, O., to see my mother and then visit Toledo, my home town, getting as much rest as possible."

"I shall remain in New York over Thanksgiving, going to Washington from this city. It is my intention to return to Belgium on the steamer Rotterdam which sails on Dec. 28."

Mr. Whitlock was pale and emaciated. His appearance was that of a man who has been through a grueling experience.

The diplomat was met at the pier by Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, and the following delegation of Toledo men: Charles F. Milroy, mayor-elect and former law partner of Mr. Whitlock; N. C. Wright of the Toledo Blade and Marshall Sheppey, a personal friend.

Mr. Sheppey said that special reception will be tendered to Mr. Whitlock in Toledo. Mr. Whitlock's efforts in behalf of humanity in Belgium has aroused the admiration of the entire world, but he modestly waved all words of praise aside.

His friends believe, however, that he will be personally congratulated upon his achievements by President Wilson when he arrives in Washington on Friday.

MARCHING ON PERSIA

Russian Troops Are Expected to Take Charge of Capital.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 24.—The Cologne Gazette states that a large force of Russian troops is marching upon the Persian capital, Teheran and upon its arrival a military government will be set up with Russian officers directing all Persian affairs.

CAIRO, Egypt. (By mail to New York, Nov. 24.)—Working under direct orders from Lord Kitchener, the English secretary of state for war, 1,600 British troops, mostly colonials, are erecting fortifications along the Suez canal all the way from Port Said to the northern end of the Gulf of Suez.

GAINS MADE BY SERBIANS SAYS REPORT

Bulgarian Troops on Extreme Southern Front Are Repulsed and Flee Toward Istib.

ARMY OF 600,000 TO BE SENT BY ALLIES

Hard Fighting is Expected All Winter in the Bleak and Desolate Mountain Wastes of Serbia.

ATHENS, Via London, Nov. 24.—Further demands by the entente powers regarding the attitude of the Greek government toward the allied troops in Macedonia were presented today.

A dispatch from Athens received yesterday stated that the Greek government was disposed to give guarantees regarding the safety and freedom of movement of the Anglo-French troops and a few hours later the British foreign office announced that no blockade of Greece had been instituted.

These developments were taken to indicate that the entente powers had won a victory at Athens, but the foregoing dispatch casts some doubt on that inference.

SOPIA, Via Amsterdam, Nov. 24.—The war office announced today that Bulgarian troops had defeated French forces on the Cetina river in southern Serbia and driven them back toward the Greek frontier.

PARIS, Nov. 24.—The Serbian legation announced today that a severe defeat had been inflicted upon the Bulgarians in southern Serbia.

A statement issued by the legation told of renewed fighting in northeastern Serbia, between the Morava and Mlava rivers. It had been previously reported that all Serb troops in this district had been driven out.

The official legation statement follows: "On the northern front, between the Morava and Mlava rivers, there was sharp fighting all day. All enemy attacks were repulsed."

"On the eastern front in the direction of Nicholas pass, two strong enemy attacks were repulsed at Bravitzta. Stubborn fighting continues west of Caraljevo-Selo on the left bank of the Mlava."

"On the southeastern front there is no change."

"On the extreme southern front Bulgarian troops were everywhere repulsed and fled toward Istib. In the region of Vlassina and Vranje, and west thereof we gained successes, retaking Pribol."

"The recapture of Vranje is probably imminent. Bulgarian troops have been driven back everywhere."

ALLIES' ATTACKS GETTING WEAKER

BERLIN, Via Amsterdam, Nov. 24.—The Anglo-French expedition to the Dardanelles has proved a complete failure in the opinion of German military experts.

"Fighting is still in progress on the Gallipoli peninsula according to advices from Constantinople today but the allies' attacks are getting weaker and weaker."

These attacks are merely being made to cover the withdrawal of large forces of British and French troops, it is said. Most of these troops are being sent into the Balkans although a large force of English colonials is going to Egypt to protect the Suez canal against the threatened drive of the Turks.
