

HYAMS-McINTYRE TEAM PLEASURES

Old Musical Comedy Favorites in "My Home Town Girl" a Hit.

John Hyams and Lella McIntyre, who have been South Bend favorites for the past several years, returned to the Oliver last night and were responsible for a most pleasant evening. They appeared in "My Home Town Girl," and not only the stars, but practically every other member of the company came in for their share of the appreciation.

Hyams and McIntyre have the happy faculty of being able to please their audiences. It doesn't seem to matter much what they are doing, just so they are doing something. They were good in sentimental songs, in their stage chatter, in their dancing, and even in their little skit on "school days." Both have a personality that carries across the footlights and makes the audience feel like they and the two stars are members of the same party, and all are having a good time.

Show is Good One.

The show proved to be one of those old-fashioned musical comedies. There is much comedy, good acting, good dancing, good singing and plenty of action. The lines were bright and produced laughs, one right after the other. The chorus was active, the members good looking, and while their singing was not the best heard here this season, it was at least the average.

Miss McIntyre plays the part of "The Home Town Girl," from Grand Rapids, who comes to New York. There she meets Tony Darling, John Hyams, and after two acts, all ends well and they are hooked to live happily ever after. Miss McIntyre is charming, dainty and withal an actress. She acted the demure small town girl in a manner quite charming. Mr. Hyams has the ability of doing ordinary things and making them appear funny. Few laughs got away from him and the evening was a series of laughs and chuckles.

Eccentric Role Pleases.

Edna von Luke as Madame Marie D'Ulay, modiste, and Charles Horne as Peter Pettibone, uncle of the Home Town Girl, aided in presenting the comedy. Both played their parts well, Miss von Luke proving quite interesting in her eccentric role.

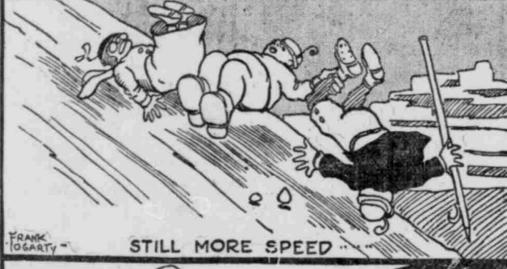

Roy Purviance, as Dudley Van Courtland, the about-to-be-married man, who went out with the actress and used Tony's card, and Alma Youlin, as Eleanor Arlington, en-

Columbus discovered America in 1492—that is, a fringe of it. Ever since then it has been discovered by degrees as "westward," the course of empire takes its way. Periodically discoveries are made which are of surpassing importance, even though they are not heralded as such as they deserve. Such a one was made about 25 years ago by officials of the Great Northern railway while blazing a way through northwestern Montana on the continental divide, but it took congress just about 25 years to realize the importance of the discovery. For it was not until five years ago that congress officially recognized the finest of all our national playgrounds—Glacier National Park—by enacting a law setting it aside as a heritage for all Americans of all time, and it is this superb heritage which, for the first time, will be adequately portrayed on films by Lyman H. Howe at the Oliver theater for three days starting tonight with matinees Saturday and Sunday. This feature in itself comprises a vacation—a round trip to the roof of America and back.

The picture follows the trail into the recesses of the everlasting hills. Enroute spectators will form pictorial acquaintances with the really noble men—native Blackfoot Indians.

Throughout the new program is like a mine of veritable riches, which, intermingled with its veins of pure gold in an endless variety of scenes has its own sparkling comedy films, scintillating with wit and humor contributed by Howe's cartoonists. This comes as a welcome and wholesome relief from the ordinary posed so-called comedy of the "slap-stick" or "rough-house" type, and is all the more appreciated for the reason that these films are created exclusively for this exhibition and cannot be seen at any other.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Like a merry little whirlwind, Peggy from America upsets the traditions of the pretty Scottish mountain hamlet where she goes to live after her father's death. Bill Burke stars in this Triangle picture being presented at the Auditorium today. An orphan and heiress, Peggy Cameron is a lively member of New York's exclusive set. Her uncle in Scotland offers her a home with him. Peggy accepts the invitation and comes breezing into the little town of Woodtick in the Scottish highlands, one bright Sunday morning, her automobile causing consternation among the villagers. Andrew Cameron, her uncle, is a dour old Scot, who doesn't approve of Peggy or her car. He and the minister, Rev. Donald Bruce, surprise Peggy working under her car in overalls. Her uncle is shocked and forbids her ever to appear again in masculine garb. Nevertheless Peggy dons her cousin's masculine dress one night and goes for a spin. It starts to rain and the auto gets stalled. Peggy goes into a village inn for shelter and on coming out bumps into the minister. He tries to rebuke her, but Peggy runs home in high glee. With the children, however, she sets along famously. While Uncle Andrew and the minister are sitting in judgment on a girl who has been indiscreet, Peggy is entertaining the little children by telling them fairy tales. They all seem to love her ough, and the minister the best of all, as he makes her his wife. Miss Burke is a very charming person and has always been most attractive on the speaking stage and is said to be equally as much so on the screen.

seen the Paramount screen magazine of timely topics and interesting scenes as well as a comic Bray cartoon.

On Saturday Fanny Ward, one of the delightful actresses of the day, will be seen in the role of a girl detective in "For the Defense." Miss Ward recently scored one of the greatest hits of the present season in the stirring matrimonial drama entitled "The Cheat."

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Eva Fay is still a drawing card for the Thursday, Friday, Saturday bill at the Orpheum theater. Preceding her mystic act, Keith presents four very good acts, led by a sketch, "The Cop," a comedy which opens and is maintained until the climax on a far more humorous plane. With all its finale, there is a message carried home to the average citizen in the lines of this piece. There is something to think about in the situation presented.

The three dancing Mars, in an original dancing novelty, which is pretty set and well stepped, since pantomimical dancing is given throughout, open the bill, and are followed by another family troupe, the three Lorettes. This last is an instrumental act, the numbers intermingled with jokes and comedy aerobic. An impersonation of Charlie Chaplin carries well. Bessie Browning, a clever miss as a singing character comedienne, follows the sketch with impersonations of herself, Eddie Foy and Eva Tanguay. As herself she is a puzzle of fun which her audience solves by quiet laughter rather than boisterous applause.

A matinee today is for women only.

SIMPLE APPLICATION THAT DISSOLVES BLACKHEADS

No more squeezing and pinching to get rid of those unsightly blemishes, blackheads. There is one simple, safe and sure way to get them out and that is to dissolve them. To do this just get about two ounces of powdered norexin from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub briskly over the blackheads for a few seconds—wash the parts and every blackhead will be gone.

Pinching and squeezing out blackheads make large pores and you cannot get all of the blackheads out this way—while this simple application of powdered norexin and water dissolves every particle of them and leaves the skin and pores in their natural condition. Any druggist will sell you the powdered norexin and about two ounces will be all you will ever need.—Adv.

TRADE ACT IS PURELY DOMESTIC SAYS BRITAIN

Refers to Persons Under British Jurisdiction Says Reply to U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Great Britain's reply to the American note protesting against the trading with the enemy act as "pregnant with possibilities of undue interference with American trade," describes the act as "purely domestic legislation to restrict the activities and trade of persons under British jurisdiction" and assures the United States that in its enforcement every care will be exercised to avoid injury to neutral commerce.

The act, approved last December, is designed to prevent British subjects from trading with any business firm which has business connections with or is controlled in any part by Great Britain's enemies. In its protest, presented to the British foreign office Jan. 26 by Ambassador Page, the United States expresses the opinion that the regulations had been framed "without proper regard for the right of persons domiciled in the United States to carry on trade with those persons in belligerent countries," and made a formal reservation of the right to contest its legality should it be found that American trade was hampered.

For Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Here in America there is much suffering from catarrh and head noises. The English people do well to consider the method employed by the English to combat this insidious disease. Everyone knows how dampness affects those suffering from catarrh. In England they treat catarrhal deafness and head noises as a constitutional disease and use an internal remedy for it that is really very efficacious.

Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick tell how they had their hearing restored by this English treatment to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven and eight inches away from either ear.

Therefore, if you know someone who is troubled with catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be easily prepared at home for about 75c and is made as follows:

From your druggist obtain 1 oz. of Parmitin (Double Strength), about 75c worth. Take this home, and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmitin is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are usually remarkably quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this destructive disease.—Adv.
