

EVER READY TO UPHOLD IDEALS

Wilson Tells Advertising Men That He is in "Fighting Mood" at Present.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 30.—Pres't Wilson, describing himself as "in a fighting mood," enunciated Thursday to a large crowd in Independence square his conception of some of the cardinal American ideals. He declared that America, in dealing with other nations, must "indicate at whatever cost" its principles of liberty, justice and humanity; that "America first" must be translated into action exalting it above all selfish interests; and that the nation's policy and development must be guided by the whole people and not by any small group.

Addresses Ad Men. Officially the president addressed delegates to the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, but a mixed crowd heard him. He spoke in the open air, under the shadow of Independence hall.

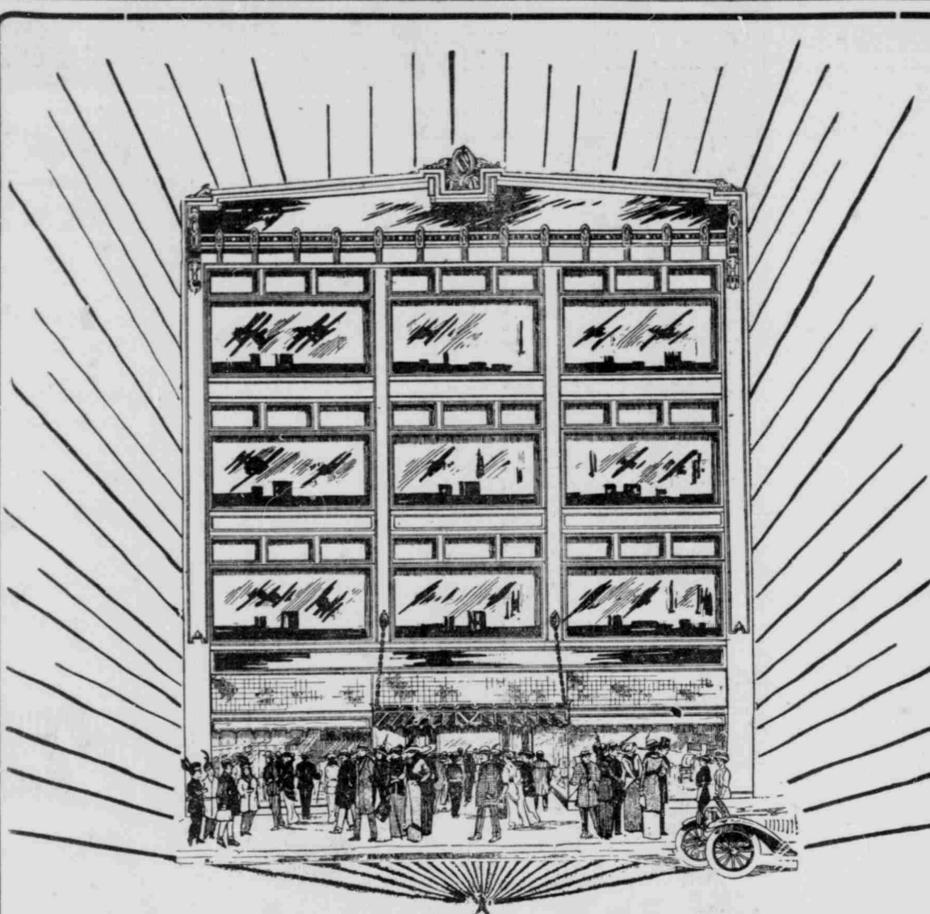

Pres't Wilson said in part: "I come to you with this thought: America is at a point, gentlemen, where it is more than ever necessary that she should understand her own ideals, not only, but be ready to put them into action at any cost. It is one thing to entertain fine principles and another thing to make them work. It is one thing to enter them in the formulas of words like the splendid words which were uttered and give distinction to this ancient and historic building behind me, but it is another thing to do what those same men did—make those words live in the action of their lives. And America is summoned in each new generation to renew not only the pledges that those men made, but to renew the example which they gave to the world.

In a Fighting Mood. "I am not interested, and I beg that you will believe me when I say that I never have been interested in fighting for myself, but I am immediately interested in fighting for the things that I believe in and, so far as they are concerned, I am a challenger to all comers. It is important, therefore, since I am in a fighting mood, to let you know what are some of the things that I do believe in.

"In the first place, I believe, and I summon you to show your belief in the same thing, that it is the duty of every American in everything that he does, in his business and out of it, to think first, not of himself or of any interest which he may be called upon to sacrifice, but of the country which we serve. 'America first' means nothing until you translate it in what you do. So I believe most profoundly in the duty of every American to exalt the national consciousness by purifying his own motives and exhibiting his own devotion.

Ready to Vindicate Principles. "I believe, in the second place, that America, the country that we put first in our thoughts, should be ready in every point of policy and of action to vindicate at whatever cost the principles of liberty, of justice and of humanity to which we have been devoted from the first. It means that you have not only got to be just to your fellow men, but that as a nation you have got to be just to other nations. It comes high. It is not an easy thing to do. It is easy to think first of the material interest of America, but it is not easy to think of what America, if she loves justice, ought to do in the field of international affairs. I believe that at whatever cost America should be just to other peoples and treat other peoples as she demands that they should treat her. She has a right to demand that they treat her in that fashion, but she cannot with dignity or with self-respect insist upon that unless she is willing to act in the same fashion towards them. That I am ready to fight for at any cost to myself."

The president said he did not believe that any small body of men should control the destinies of the nation, but he rather believed that this control should rest in the hands of the great body of thinking and talking men of the nation. "I believe in the patriotism and initiative of the average man," he exclaimed. "Some men say they believe in that, too, but they do not act that way. There are some men who don't believe in anybody's advice but their own."

This statement caused a laugh in the crowd, and the president smilingly remarked, "I am not talking politics." There was another roar of laughter from the crowd and the president quickly added, "Nor was I referring to any individual."

POSTAL APPROPRIATION CARRIES 322 MILLION

After Month's Debate, Measure Goes Through Senate—Three Changes Are Made.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The annual postoffice appropriation, carrying $322,000,000, was passed Thursday by the senate after a debate begun more than a month ago. Differences over the railway mail pay provision and other sections of the measure probably will prevent final agreement in conference before July 1 and force continuance of existing postal appropriations with the coming fiscal year. Three important changes were made in the bill in the senate. As a substitute for the house's space method for compensating railroads for mail transportation, the senate amendment ("summins' amendment") directing the interstate commerce commission to fix the method and rates of pay. An amendment was adopted restricting the combination of horse-drawn rural mail routes into motor routes and provision that contracts for pneumatic tube service in the big cities should be continued another year, stricken out by the house, was restored.

DROP SUIT AGAINST LODGE

Attorneys for Plaintiff Not Ready for Trial.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 30.—The suit against the Knights and Ladies of Honor lodge in federal court here, in which it was asked that the lodge be declared bankrupt and a receiver appointed was dismissed Thursday afternoon by the attorneys for the plaintiffs, who admitted they were not ready to go to trial. The suit was filed immediately, however, but in the new complaint the appointment of a receiver is not asked until final hearing. Attorneys for the lodge appeared in court Thursday morning and insisted that no continuance be granted. They said they are ready to try the case and the lodge is suffering great hardships while the suit is pending. Judge Evan A. Evans, of the seventh judicial district, sitting for Judge A. B. Anderson instructed the attorneys to return in the afternoon ready for trial. When they appeared the second time the motion to dismiss was filed.

WESTERN ROAD TO TRY NEW DEATH BENEFIT

To Pay Beneficiary 5 Per Cent of Salary Multiplied by Number of Years in Service.

CHICAGO, June 30.—The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway system has decided on a plan of death benefits for the beneficiaries of all employees in the service two or more years, it was announced Thursday by F. H. Ripley, president. Beginning July 1, the company will pay to the beneficiary of every employe dying in its service a sum equal to five per cent of his last twelve months salary, multiplied by the number of years of continuous service with a minimum pay of $250, and a maximum payment of one year's salary but not exceeding $3,000.

The president stated that the plan would be tried for two years, but expressed hope that conditions may enable the company to continue it in effect for the future.

MEN WEARING GLASSES ACCEPTED FOR ARMY

International News Service: LONDON, June 30.—Prior to this war no man who had to wear glasses was accepted in the British regular army. But with the formation of the enormous Kitchener armies, drawn largely from those used to desk work and other sedentary occupations, the rule was relaxed and many recruits were allowed to retain and continue their "pince-nez" or spectacles.

Now it is learned that after undergoing a few months' training many of these young men find that they can dispense altogether with artificial aids to vision. Many who could not read, cross a road in safety or recognize a friend at the other side of it six months ago without the aid of glasses, can now, at their training grounds, go to the butts and see and hit the target at three hundred yards or more. Their vision for all general purposes is markedly improved.

This change is attributed to the open air conditions of their new life and in some particular to the more expansive prospect continually presented to the eye. Freedom from close pursuits carried on under artificial light is doubtless an important factor. In many cases it is believed the improvement will be enduring after soldiers return to civil life.

SOLDIER BLIND FOR 15 MONTHS CAN SEE

BERLIN, June 26.—After fifteen months of total blindness Lieutenant Ostinger of the Eighty-seventh Prussian reserve infantry has fully recovered his eye-sight. He was badly wounded by a piece of shell on the western front in December, 1914.

When he left the hospital six months later he was blind. Some weeks ago he consulted a famous specialist who after an examination decided to perform an operation, which proved completely successful.
