CONVERSION OF SIMON TOLD AT UNION SERVICES

Rev. Joseph L. Garvin Gives Inspiring Sermon on "Man Who Found Himself" at Chautauqua.

Rev. Joseph L. Garvin, chautauqua superintendent, former pastor of the First Christian church in Seattle, Wash., and president of the Ministerial association there, addressed the union service Sunday evening at the chautauqua tent. His sermon was an inspiring one woven around the life of Peter, "The Man Who Found Himself." Rev. H. B. Hostetter, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church presided and Rev. Harry L. Davis of the First M. E. church gave the opening prayer and Rev. A. H. Freshley of the First Evangelical, the closing.

The singing was by George Long who also contributed a baritone solo accompanied on the piano by Miss Valeria Bondurant. Mr. Garvin sketched in a colorful and dramatic manner the scene at Jerusalem when the people of all nations having come together to celebrate a religious festival were thrown into consternation when a strange young man rose up among them proclaiming the doctrine of Jesus of Nazareth, accusing them and calling them to repentance, and every man heard in his own tongue. Fearlessly this young man faced the multitude, strong, sure, fervent and no man in the whole multitude dared gainsay him.

Conversion of Simon. The speaker dwelt upon the wonder of the transformation that had taken place in weak, wavering Peter, converting him into Peter, the rock. He told of Simon's first meeting with Jesus when the words of the Master gave the humble fisherman new heart; of their second meeting when Simon recognizing in Jesus His Master and the Model of all that is good and perfect, felt his own unworthiness and cried to Jesus to depart from him. He told of the test to which Jesus put Simon and Simon responded by denying his Master three only to be overcome with remorse and finally when given his chance to prove his love, went forth fearlessly and joyfully to "feed the lambs and the sheep," and so stood unflinching before the hostile multitude at Jerusalem—a man who had found himself.

All Need Discoverer. Mr. Garvin then drew the parallel between the life of Peter and every other man who, sometimes in his life comes to his "great moment," whose sleeping genius sometimes by someone is discovered. "Everyone needs a discoverer," asserted the speaker, "someone to point out to us our possibilities. What would have become of Helen Keller if someone had not discovered her marvelous powers? What would become of our boys and girls if there were no one to help them discover the paths in which each will be most useful and most happy?"

"The great beauty of the Christian religion is the beauty of discovery which we are living in a new age, when each of us must become the discoverer of life, when each of us will see the needs and the possibilities in those less fortunate than ourselves, when the employer will see the needs and the possibilities in the thousands who look to him and to whom he looks for support, when every man, feeling his great moment upon his as Simon felt his, will respond as Simon responded and will become—as Peter, the rock."

Autobiography of Late Lorenzo D. White is Interesting Story.

Lorenzo D. White, who died at Epworth hospital Friday afternoon, was well known by the older people of South Bend, and especially by the members of the G. A. R., in which organization Mr. White was a loyal son. His biography, written by himself three years ago, furnishes a record of his life and should prove interesting to those persons and there are many of them—who were acquainted with the kindly old soldier who was accustomed to walk about the streets of South Bend with a greeting for every one whether an acquaintance or stranger.

The biography follows: "My father was of Scottish nationality, American born, Sept. 16, 1808. My mother was of English descent and American born, Feb. 24, 1813. I was born in Catawago county, New York, in 1842. Moved with my parents to the town of Hudson Laporte county, Indiana, 1845. After about six months we moved into Galien township, Berrien county, Michigan. I lived at home and assisted in the clearing away of heavy forests for three farms. Received a common school education. Enlists in 1862.

I remained on the farm until June 21, 1862, when I enlisted in company B, seventeenth regiment, Michigan infantry volunteers, in the war of the American rebellion, rendezvoused at Detroit, Michigan. Left Detroit on Sept. 1st for the front. Was at Washington, D. C. about ten days, when we were given marching orders, and on the 14th day of Sept. was in the battle of South Mountain, Maryland. Was in active service until about 5 o'clock p. m. on the 17th of Sept., under Gen. Burnside, sixth army corps, at the battle of Antietam, on the left of the army of that terrible conflict. After crossing the bridge—and we were struggling to hold it—received a gun shot in the upper right thigh and was compelled to leave the field, wound receiving no care until about 7 p. m. next day, only such as I gave it by wrapping a silk handkerchief which I kept wet with water as best I could. During this time I had hobbled about twelve miles to the rear, to Frederick City, Maryland. In about two weeks I was sent to Columbia college hospital, D. C.

Received a furlough and went home. When able joined my regiment in Kentucky and went to the siege at Vicksburg. Was taken sick while there in Tennessee. After the surrender of Pemberton to Gen. Grant, on the 4th of July, 1863, returned with my regiment to Cincinnati, O., and was placed in the hospital for recruits. Was sent home and went to Detroit on the 17th of Sept., 1863. Was discharged from the service on account of the sound received, just one year to a day before. If I had the canteen that I carried during the battle of South Mountain, Md., on Aug. 14th, 1862, on one side of it I would inscribe, "If mine enemy thirst, give him water; and whosoever gives a cup of cold water in My name shall have his reward." And on the other side, "Capt. L. M. Clarkson and Lieut. J. C. Cunningham slaked their thirst from this canteen! I also bent over a wounded enemy and gave him a drink from it forty-three years ago. L. D. White, company B, 17th Mich. volunteers, 6-25-1905."

Parents Die in Same Month. On March 8, 1864, my father died, and on the 21st of the same month my mother was laid by his side to await the call that is to take them through that long journey—eternity—together. Their separation in this life was but 13 short days.

In the fall of '64 I attended the Eastman Mercantile college in Rochester, N. Y., and received my diploma on Jan. 11, 1865. In March, '65, went to Iowa Falls and attended school there a short time and returned to Galien, Mich., my former home.

I began the profession of teaching school and vocal music at Galien, Mich., in the fall of 1866, and on Feb. 10, 1867, was married to Miss Annie E. Moore of Galien, Mich.

I followed my profession in Berrien county until in March, '74, when we moved to Elkhart, Ind. Began teaching in the city schools soon after getting settled. Continued teaching in the Concord township until the spring of 1879, when I closed my school work, having followed it principally for over 20 years.

In 1865 took up house painting and followed it after my school terms ended, working for the L. S. & M. S. railroad company five seasons.

Conducts Revival Choirs. In the winter of 1868 was chosen as musical director in a union revival meeting in Elkhart, Ind. The chorus choir consisted of six choirs of the city. I conducted the music in 10 different revivals in after years.

Moved to South Bend, Ind., in April of '89 and engaged in the

SAYS GOD HAS A PLAN FOR ALL MEN

Rev. D. A. Kaley Declares Life Is Not Something Which Just Happens.

"God's Plan for Us," was the theme chosen by Rev. D. A. Kaley for his Sunday evening sermon at the Mizpah Evangelical church yesterday. The text was taken from Acts 9:15-16, "But the Lord said unto him, go thy way for he is a chosen vessel with me; for I will show him how many things he will suffer for my name's sake." In part Mr. Kaley said:

"God has a plan for every life. Life with all its vicissitudes is not something which just happens, but it is part of God's Divine plan. When God's plan is once realized in the heart of the believer an experience of joy, peace, blessing and power always follows. This is emphatically portrayed in the lives of Moses, Joseph, Daniel and Paul. It also follows that an experience of condemnation, misery and sin fills the life without hope of Christ and salvation when we violate God's plan for us. How a truth is attested by the lives of Achhan-Ahab and Lot!"

But Paul was permitting God's plan to suggest his every step—he was willing to suffer hardships; shipwrecks, imprisonments, beatings, scoffing and many bodily infirmities that God might bring the glory in his life. He was willing to become as nothing, if need be, that Christ through the influence of his life might save some. When we cease to be self-centered and become Christ-centered, when we are willing as was Paul to conform with God's designs then we shall abound in Christ and He in us. And we shall continually abound, for God designs for anyone a varying, dependable experience. Such a life is a travesty on the wisdom of God. Condemnation—repining—letting up and unrest always dishonors God, for where these elements of sin exist, God has not yet finished His work.

Peace Is Plan. "Peace and fortitude in all circumstances of life is the plan of God—Christ, Himself giving the promise 'My peace I give unto you.' God also promises to reveal His secrets to those in fellowship with Him. We are characterized as His workmanship and in God's plan every believer becomes all that is complete and beautiful.

How are we measuring up to the plan? Cease talking what the church should be and do. Make better Christian living a real experience in your individual life. Exhalt Christ in your life. Follow, live and exult in Him. For the hour now is when all true worshippers shall worship the Father in Spirit and Truth.

Must Be Separate People. Believers in Christ must be a separate people for if your life is not separate you are living contrary to the will of God. Lastly, God's gracious plan makes for every believer a "Glorified People." In John 17:24 we read "Father I will that they also whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they might behold my glory which thou hast given me."

It is a good thing to turn often to the scripture to find what the plan of God has marked for us, and then square our lives according to His plan and see if we are following His will, or making a failure."

CAPT. BROOKES SPEAKS AT EPWORTH MEMORIAL Salvation Army Leader Says Lord Always Has Had His Spiritual Representatives.

The Sunday morning services at the Epworth Memorial Methodist church were in charge of Capt. Nehemiah Brookes of the Salvation Army, who spoke from a portion of the Scripture in numbers, 27th chapter, 18th verse. "The Lord said unto Moses, take thee Joshua a man in whom is the spirit."

In the course of his remarks, Capt. Brookes said that in all ages throughout the time, the Lord of hosts has not been without His spiritual representatives similar to characters of type like unto Joshua, "A man in whom is the spirit." Reference was made to the old and new testament characters, and those of the latter days, such as Wesley and the late Gen. Booth, as men possessed of the spirit of righteousness, and truth and courage in the service of the Lord.

Capt. Brook dwelt upon the miraculous working power of the holy spirit in making creatures anew in Christ Jesus, and of its teaching, inspiring influence and cooperating attitude in and through mankind.

At the close of the sermon Capt. Brookes sang a solo entitled "Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed in Christ." The service closed with the singing of Doxology.

Auto Highway Logger Arrives With Mileometer

H. S. Weitzler of Chicago arrived in South Bend last evening in charge of the Mileometer Co.'s logging car No. 5, for the purpose of logging the automobile highways between this city and Toledo and then east to New York city.

The Mileometer, which is a recent invention, is a combined road guide and speedometer. It is entirely automatic in its operation and it is said that it will lead a tourist over any route without the possibility of the tourist getting lost or off his route. The device is geared down from one of the front wheels so that 10 revolutions of the wheel cause the drive shaft to revolve once. Inside the machine there is a train of reduction gears which move a tape on which is printed a virtual picture of the roadway. This tape moves but four inches in one mile of travel and four inches of tape are constantly before the driver of the car. In this way the driver can see a picture of one mile of his road and note whatever he will encounter in his next mile of travel.

Symbols are used to direct the tourist and there are but five of these, one for a railroad crossing, another for a sharp sharp turn, on the road, a T for street car crossings, the universal engineers' symbol for bridges and viaducts and a solid dot for a caution signal. Directions of the arrows from a line indicating the center of the roadway direct the tourists at turns. The arrows are placed at the same angle on the tapes as the road themselves form. A single symbol tells everything that touring mediums of today tell in a full paragraph.

The simplicity of the Mileometer is surprising. Its accuracy has been thoroughly tested and the device has been endorsed by automobile clubs and associations throughout the country. The Twentieth Century garage on Lafayette st. has been appointed the local service station for the Mileometer Co.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hay, 1211 S. Michigan st., and Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Hays, 236 Riverside drive motored to Chicago Saturday, where they attended the auto races.

The Harris township delegation of the St. Joseph County Sunday School association held a rally at the Harris Prairie Christian church yesterday. The rally was made an all day session and was featured by an address by Rev. Van Winkle.

The intense heat last night did not interfere with the music lovers of the city as was shown by the large crowd that gathered at Leeper park for the weekly band concert. The program was a widely varied, one and met with approval from the listeners. Bright, snappy, recent melodies were interspersed throughout the program.

While attempting to alight from a moving freight train on the Lake Shore about 1 o'clock, Sunday night, Charles Sablito suffered the dislocation of his left shoulder. Dr. Von Barandy ordered the man taken to Epworth hospital in the police patrol, which answered the call in charge of Capt. Schock and Patrolmen O'Connell and Pinter.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Peterson and children of California av., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey of Rush st., left Sunday morning for a few weeks' stay at Eagle lake.
