"Her Double Life"

Mary Doone, a girl of the slums, enlists as a war nurse, and goes to the front. When the hospital in which she is working is bombarded, Mary stays behind. After the attack she finds the body of Ethel Wardley, an English girl, in the building.

Ethel was on her way to live with an aunt she had never seen. Mary, thinking Ethel dead, sees an opportunity to get happiness and peace. She changes clothes with Ethel, takes the other girl's luggage, and goes to the house of Lady Clifford, the aunt. After Mary has been cordially received, and has become a member of the household, Ethel Wardley returns to England. With her is Lloyd Stanley, a war correspondent, who knew of Mary's deception. The two confront the unhappy girl, and bring her to a confession.

In Lady Clifford's house Mary had fallen in love with and promised to marry Elliot Clifford, the son, who preached at The Refuge, a settlement house. After the disclosure of her deception, Mary leaves the Cliffords and goes to The Refuge to work out her salvation among the little children.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Theda Bara is the attraction at the Auditorium today appearing in a William Fox play, "Her Double Life". Miss Bara takes the part of Mary Doone, a girl of the slums, who enlists as a war nurse and goes to the front. When the hospital in which she is working is bombarded, Mary stays behind. After the attack she finds the body of Ethel Wardley, an English girl, in the building. Ethel was on the way to live with an aunt she had never seen. Mary, thinking her dead, sees an opportunity to get happiness and peace. She changes clothes with Ethel, takes her luggage, and goes to the house of Lady Clifford, the aunt. After she has been cordially received and has become a member of the household, Ethel Wardley returns to England and with her is Lloyd Stanley, a war correspondent, who knew of Mary's deception. The two confront the unhappy girl, and bring her to a confession. In Lady Clifford's house, Mary had fallen in love with him and promised to marry Elliot Clifford, the son, who preached at The Refuge, a settlement house. After the disclosure of her deception, Mary leaves the Cliffords and goes to The Refuge to work out her salvation among the little children. Stuart Holmes and Walter Law are in Miss Bara's supporting company in this production. The Selig-Tribune weekly wishes out the program. Viola Dana, will be seen tomorrow in "The Light of Happiness", a five part comedy drama which was written especially for Miss Dana. Billie Burke will appear as usual on Thursday in her serial "Gloria's Romance", which will close with a couple more releases.

The last performance of "The Common Law", will be given at the Oliver theater this evening. For the latter part of the week starting tomorrow afternoon, a dramatization of Harold Bell Wright's book, "The Shepherd of the Hills", will be the offering. It's a story which contains some quaintly drawn characters and clever situations. Among the scenes, are a tussle between the mountain bully, and big, strong, young "Matt", when that young giant makes a name for himself, and there is a scene with quite another background when the sorrowing father discovers the "shepherd's" identity and that the man whom he hated, is living. On Friday night the company will give way to "My Home Town Girl", but the engagement will be resumed Saturday afternoon.

"MY HOME TOWN GIRL."
A display of feminine garb in vogue at the present time, is a distinct feature of the new musical success in which John Hyams and Ella McIntyre are being starred, "My Home Town Girl". The production, which was here last season, will come to the Oliver theater Friday night.
Gowns and costumes of latest creation, such are to be found right now in the best shops of Fifth av., are proving a delight to the feminine eye wherever the production is seen, while the trim forms of the picked live models more than please the optics of the men, it is said.
A costly scenic production, a notable New York cast in support of the popular stars, are features that have contributed to the unusual success of "My Home Town Girl", and presage its continued success.

AT THE ORPHEUM.
The current bill at the Orpheum will be given concluding performances today. The bill is headed by a fashion and musical act, "Little Miss Up-to-Date," featuring, Doc Baker and Elaine Juliette. Other acts on the program include Benny and Woods in a piano and violin offering; Bert LaMont's Cowboys in mirth and melody; Charles Wilson, an eccentric comedian and the Balancing Stevens.
Beginning Thursday afternoon the new bill offered will feature Allman Loder and company in a comedy dramatic playlet entitled

"On The Farm." Baby Helen, Otto Koerner and company in a skit entitled "The Automobile Broker." Knight and Carlyle in singing and talking, and Nora and Sidney Kellogg presenting a musical specialty complete the bill.

AT THE LASALLE.
Today's feature picture at the Lasalle will be a return engagement of "The Summer Girl," shown at this theater recently with Molly King and Arthur Ashley in the leading parts. The plot which concerns the deceitful wooing of a young and beautiful country maid by a charming boarder, is particularly clean cut and entertaining.
Tomorrow's Brady-made picture to be shown at the Lasalle is entitled "The Velvet Paw," with scenes laid in Washington. Gail Kane and House Peters head the cast.

AT THE COLONIAL.

Florence Turner, an emotional actress, will be featured at the Colonial today in a Mutual Masterpiece entitled "Grim Justice." It is a story of a poor, untutored girl of the country who, in spite of her environment, has developed a sense of love and unselfishness. The production is staged by Larry Trimble and it is acted by an evenly balanced cast.

Beautiful Mary Miles Minter, will be featured at the Colonial on Thursday in "Youth's Endearing Charm," five reel subject telling the story of an ill-treated orphan who is driven by brutality to beggary, where Prince Charming comes along in the guise of a guided youth, gloriously drunk.

GREENBACKS AND BANK NOTES MAY BE RETIRED

Bankers Would Place Country's Money on Gold and Federal Note Basis.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 27.—Immediate retirement of all greenbacks and a gradual withdrawal of national bank notes placing the currency of this country on a basis of gold coin and federal reserve notes, were discussed here Tuesday night by bankers attending the conference of the National Bank section of the American Bankers association in annual convention. The discussion followed addresses by John S. Williams, comptroller of the currency and Frederick W. Hyde of James-town, N. Y., president of the section.

The conference program was arranged for a discussion of a proposal to consolidate the office of the comptroller of the currency, created under the old national bank act and the federal reserve board, provided for in the new reserve system. It was explained that the national banking act and the reserve law allowed a partial duplication of control.

TROOPS CALLED OUT TO FIGHT ONION MARSH FIRE

Blaze Gets Beyond Control in Harding County, Ohio—Covers 1,500 Acres.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 27.—The Onion marsh fire in Harding county which has been burning for two days, was beyond control tonight and is spreading rapidly. Company B, ninth battalion, Ohio national guard, (colored) was ordered out to fight the fire Tuesday night, and has entrenched, with mess outfits for several hundred men, and supplies of tools for the citizens organization that is fighting the flames.

A strong wind has saved McGuffey, a town in the district, from the fire after it had reached Tuesday within a quarter of a mile of the town. The fire fighters have been driven back from the trenches dug during the past two days and the fire now extends over 1,500 acres.

It is predicted by growers that the onion bed fire will burn all winter in the deposit onion top peat which covers the area to a depth of three feet. The crops will be practically a total loss.
