PAY-TO-GET-IN BREAKFAST NOT UP TO NOTICES

Wives and Daughters of Eastern Millionaires Failed to Put in Their Appearance.

MISS ANTIN DID NOT LIKE OUR EDITORIAL

Tells Hearers There Are Some Things Worse Than War. Other Women Make Short Talks.

Three hundred South Bend women, reinforced by as many republican party leaders and curiosity seekers as could find room for themselves, listened to half a dozen addresses by women from the Hughes alliance special headed for the west, which stopped here for three hours Thursday morning. Breakfast for the female campaigners and the local women (who paid for their own meals) was served in the tapestry room of the Oliver hotel shortly after 8 o'clock and for an hour the audience heard the series of "testimonials" in which the speakers pointed out why they stand for Charles Evans Hughes, republican presidential candidate, as against Prest Woodrow Wilson.

Those women who attended the breakfast in the hopes of seeing some of America's Wall st. aristocracy were disappointed. Although the advance notices sent out by the Hughes alliance announced that among those who would accompany the speakers would be Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, Mrs. Mary Harriman Rumsey, Mrs. Robert Bacon, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney and many others who occupy high positions among the eastern "400," none of these women were in evidence. Therefore the disappointment.

Many Antin, lecturer, authoress and settlement worker, opened the speaking program by reading over the front page editorial which appeared in The News-Times Thursday morning, which asked whether the women who attended the meeting were in favor of sending their sons, brothers and fathers to war.

Worse Than War. "The reason why the masses of people in this country are saying they are for Wilson because he kept them out of war is that they want to secure their skins," she declared. "There are many things worse than war and one is national dishonor. "If all that Wilson has done is to keep us out of war then let's give him a vacation. I would rather have war than to have America forget to be American. These people who are for Wilson because he kept us out of war do not care for American ideals."

Mary Antin did not refer to the attitude she took when making an address here several months ago in which she cried out against the horrors of war and described the terrible devastation created in Europe through the strife there. She said Thursday morning that she had always been an advocate of peace but assured her audience that in her opinion Prest Wilson had not conserved that which was most important to her, the honor of her country.

Tells Mexico. Mrs. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, whose husband was recalled from his post as Charge d'Affaires to Mexico by Prest Wilson, in a well rehearsed speech railled against the democratic administration for its Mexican policy, asserting that the United States had destroyed the Mexican government and was responsible for the horrors and rapine that have occurred there during the past several years. She emphatically declared in champion generalities the detestations against life and property which she had seen while in Mexico City.

"I have seen women outraged and a government destroyed," she dramatically exclaimed. "And another organized government is responsible. I have even seen our own American people disgraced and trampled upon. That is why I stand for Hughes, who will vindicate our national honor."

Not Errand Boys. Mrs. Maude Howe Elliott, daughter of Julia Ward Howe, declared that the women aboard the Hughes special did not come as "errand boys but as torch bearers." She said that the women of the country should stand by their men and elect Hughes. In explaining her address Mrs. Elliott declared that among one of the men was missing from among

RESTAURANTS OF N. Y. BOOST PRICES

Advance in Commodities is Given As the Excuse—Pie is Now Ten Cents.

International News Service: NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Most of the "chain restaurants" and lunch rooms of New York city today fell in line with those which yesterday suddenly raised their prices on practically all the dishes they serve.

The reason given is that the prices of commodities have risen from 10 to 100 per cent within the last year. Regular "business men's noon lunches" which two days ago cost a quarter, today cost 30 cents, and the price of most individual dishes have been raised. Potatoes have become a luxury. Restauranters explained today that last year Jersey potatoes were $1.70 a sack and that this year they are quoted at $3.50. It is predicted that they will reach $5 before long.

Other increases pointed out as the causes of the rise in restaurant prices are: Beans 9.65 for 100 pounds, formerly $7.90; peas $6.75, formerly $3.50; pork $6.60, formerly $5.10; eggs 44c, formerly 36c. Bearing houses are expected to follow suit in raising the prices for meats. Some already have done so.

International News Service: CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—The cost of food in Chicago today is from 50 to 100 per cent higher than it was a year ago. Increases have been made in all the higher class restaurants within the last week. All meat and egg orders were made 5c higher. Chicken pie now is 15 cents and oyster stews 20c, an increase of a nickel.

Increased cost to them is given as the cause by restaurant proprietors. They declare virtually everywhere for sale in groceries and meat markets is higher, the increases varying, according to the food.

FIRM MAY MEET TERMS

Borden Co. About Ready to Break With Distributors.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Separate peace between the Borden Co. and the farmers today loomed up as the only ray of hope of ameliorating the milk crisis which threatens more and more to develop into a serious famine. There were indications that the Borden Co., which distributed one-fifth of the city's supply, may break away from the other big distributors. The firm comes nearest to the farmers' demands, offering an increase of 25 cents a hundred weight. The other big dealers stand pat on their original 31 cents. The farmers demand 45 cents.

Small Trial is Now Under Way

International News Service: MOUNTAIN VIEW, N. H., Oct. 5.—Six hundred men and women jammed their way into the little court room here today to attend the preliminary hearing of Frederick L. Small, who is charged with choking and beating his wife to death and then burning their home to hide the crime. Small, handcuffed, sat between two big deputies and listened to County Solicitor Hill accuse him of the murder in his opening statement. A sensation was sprung when Hill declared that the state is ready to prove that the cord with which Mrs. Small was choked was a part of the rudder cord on Small's motorboat.

ROUMANIAN ARMY IS SENT BACK ACROSS DANUBE

Von Mackensen Hurls Two Columns of Troops Against Invaders Who Are Then Forced to Retire.

BITTER BATTLE BEING FOUGHT ON EAST FRONT

Russians Are Compelled to Pay Dearly For Gains—Allies Are Winning in Macedonia.

International News Service: LONDON, Oct. 5.—Roumanian troops that invaded Bulgaria have been defeated in battle and flung back across the Danube. All reports received here today indicated that the Roumanians, suffering superior numbers, escaped by crossing back over the river.

Field Marshal von Mackensen drew two columns of troops from the Rostchuk and Tutrakan fortresses and hurled them against the Roumanian army of invasion. Caught by an encircling movement the Roumanians had no choice but to retire, which they did speedily. A Bulgarian war office report reached London shortly after noon from Sofia claiming that the rout of the Roumanians was complete. The Roumanians were surrounded and parts of the army cut to pieces. The invasion had been carried out by a division by an Austrian monitor, the official statement claimed.

On the western front the fighting of the past 24 hours has been of minor importance. The French captured nine big guns from the Germans, but on that section of the Somme held by the British there were only artillery duels.

Fighting of great bitterness continues on the eastern front, the Austro-German forces making a stubborn stand, especially in Volhynia, before the repeated assaults of the Russians. Gen. Brusiloff's forces are compelled to purchase dearly all the ground won from the Teuton defenders in that sphere of war.

In Macedonia the French forces driving on Monastir have crossed the Tcherina river, north of Florina, occupying the village of Buf. A decisive victory, in which Scottish and Irish troops distinguished themselves, has been won by the British on the Struma river front. The Bulgarians have been driven from part of the important town of Jenikof, between Seres and the Struma.

BULGARS WIN.

International News Service: SOFIA, Oct. 5.—Details of the defeat of the Roumanian army that invaded Bulgaria are contained in the following report issued by the Bulgarian war office today: "On the Danube front 15 or 16 battalions without any artillery which crossed the Danube near Rahvo, advanced and occupied the villages of Sivopol, Kajmahlie, Borislawo, Maelwanowo, Cole Mowranowo and Breschlien.

"In order to repulse them we sent two columns from Rostchuk and Tutrakan. "In Dobrudja there has been great activity by enemy artillery and infantry along the entire front. All attempts by enemy infantry to advance were frustrated by our fire and by our counter attacks.

"A Russian warship off the Black sea coast shelled the heights near the village of Tadiadokhokh. "Our seaplanes attacked with great success an aerodrome north of Constanza."

WIN IN MACEDONIA.

International News Service: PARIS, Oct. 5.—French troops operating against Monastir on the Balkan front have crossed the Tcherina river, occupying Buf. The capture of Buf was reported by the war office today. It lies about six miles north of Florina and about 12 miles from Monastir.

Another Italian expeditionary force has been landed in Albania. Official announcement of the occupation of Delvina and Argyrokastion by these troops was made today. These towns are about 50 miles southeast of Artona and lie near the Greek border.

Artillery duels were in progress on the Somme front last night. London territorialists carried out a successful raid in the Vimy area. In West Flanders the Germans tried to raid British trenches, but failed.

Engineer Who Tried to Make Up Time Dead

International News Service: LEWISTON, Pa., Oct. 5.—Engineer Scott Heidelberg of Altoona, was killed, a stock drover whose name is unknown is missing and a score were injured early today when Pennsylvania passenger train No. 5, eastbound, carrying passengers and mail, crashed into the rear end of a stock train on the middle division just east of here. The wreckage took fire after the crash and destroyed a number of cars.

Heidelberg's body was removed from the wreckage shortly after the smash and eight mail clerks received injuries. The passenger train was trying to make up time and according to the railroad officials ran past a signal in a dense fog.

MEXICAN PARLEY MINUS RESULTS

Nothing Definite is Expected to be Decided Before the Election.

International News Service: WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—There will be no definite result of the present Mexican negotiations before election. Also there will be no breaking off in the parleys prior to Nov. 7.

Consequently neither of the political parties is to get any advantage, despite the fact that the Democrats had been hoping to "point with pride" to definite accomplishments and the Republicans had desired to "view with alarm" withdrawal of Pershing's expedition. Officials very frankly admitted today that while the Atlantic City negotiations were deadlocked, due to the constant pressing of the Carranza demand for withdrawal of the American troops, a way was in sight to continue the negotiations.

Ambassador-Designate Arredondo shortly will be enroute to Washington from Mexico City. He will be accompanied by Gen. Juan Barragan, chief of staff of the Mexican army under Carranza. It is known that Barragan will be asked by the Mexican commission to attend the conferences and discuss the border situation and the Mexican plans for the protection of American territory. This will be in line with the action of the American members of the commission in calling Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, assistant chief of staff of the army, who detailed the advantages of the suggested American zone plan.

NEED FUNDS.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 5.—A new element has been injected into the discussions of the American and Mexican commissions by the inability of the Carranza government to pay its soldiers. This in interfering with the completion of plans for a joint border patrol.

The Mexican commissioners are seeking a loan of from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000 hoping that the government can be run with this money until taxes can be readjusted to produce revenue.

TOO HOT FOR PUBLIC

Dr. Butler Sends Telegram to Illinois Bankers.

DANVILLE, Ill., Oct. 5.—A telegram which Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university of New York, sent to the annual convention of the Illinois State Bankers' association, is too hot to be made public, officers of the organization said today. Dr. Butler, who was to have addressed the convention, sent eleventh hour regrets. The telegram, it was said, contains an attack upon Pres't Wilson's policies and is not regarded as a document that should be presented at a non-political meeting.

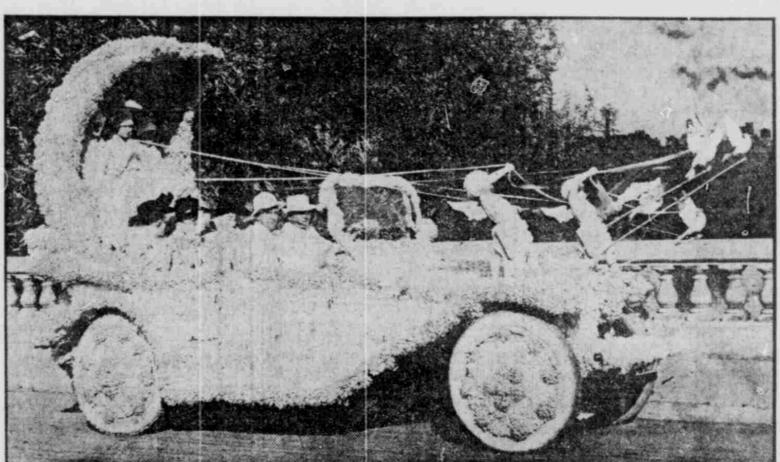

PAGEANT BOX SEATS ONE DOLLAR.

Tonight will be the last night of the great historical play in Springbrook park, the big feature of St. Joseph county's Indiana centennial celebration. The immense crowd last night indicates that all 50 and 75 cent and $1 seats will be sold and that unless provision is made for more $1 seats many persons will be unable to see the play.

The South Bend's Indiana centennial association directors have, therefore, decided to reduce the price of box seats from $2 each to $1 each. A person can buy one or six seats in a box, each box arranged to comfortably seat six persons. Box seats can be purchased as long as the ticket supply holds out. No reduction will be made in the price of other seats.

Tonight will be the last performance.

Did Roosevelt and Taft Really Shake Hands?

SIX LOSE LIVES IN COLLEGE FIRE

International News Service: ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 5.—The death list in the fire which rapidly destroyed Christian Brothers college here reached six at 1 o'clock today, and it is feared it will grow larger. Twenty firemen were buried when a blazing wall fell shortly after noon. Seven of them were rescued unconscious and badly injured. Three bodies have been slightly weighted down by the blazing ruins, but is impossible to get to them. The police stated that it was practically certain these were dead. The other 10 were unaccounted for at 1 o'clock.

The fire has been raging about the noted Catholic institution since 7:30 o'clock this morning. The entire fire fighting force of the city is on the detail, but apparently is unable to check the flames. More than half of the buildings already are in ashes.

Two aged priests were cremated in the fire, unable to leave their beds, and an attendant died from injuries when he jumped from the fifth floor shortly after the fire broke out.

Christian Brothers college was valued at more than $1,000,000. It is the second oldest college established by the Christian Brothers in America. The Christian Brothers now have 16 colleges in the United States.

Man Who Escaped Massacre is Shot

International News Service: EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 5.—Caesar Sala, an Italian by birth, but a naturalized Mexican, and the only person of foreign origin to escape the Santa Ysabel massacre, was slain by Francisco Villa himself when the bandit chief's men entered Cusihuiriachic, according to a witness of the fight who arrived here today.

The bandits were terrorizing the town and Sala, a storekeeper, went to Villa and pleaded that he stop the attacks upon young girls of the town. Villa, the refugee said, drew a revolver and shot Sala.

Sala escaped at Santa Ysabel when Lopez knocked him senseless with a revolver and left him for dead.

Much Mystery Connected With Story and No One Has Real Details.

News-Times Special Service: NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Did ex-Prest Roosevelt really shake hands with ex-Prest Taft at the Union League club reception to Candidate Hughes? This is the question that all New York is asking because the mystery which shrouds the meeting of the two ex-presidents has not yet been solved. Republican Chairman Wilcox is sure the two men met, but for the life of him he can't remember who it was that brought the two ex-presidents together.

Gov. Whitman claims he is the one who turned the track, but Col. Roosevelt's friends laughed at this assertion. George R. Sheldon claims that he was the peacemaker, but yet he has been unable to prove his case. The whole affair is gradually being looked upon in this city as a huge hoax, perpetrated by the republican old guard at the expense of Mr. Roosevelt. Not a single one of the hundreds who were present at the reception has stepped forward to declare that they witnessed the much advertised event.

When Chairman Wilcox was asked about the meeting of the two ex-presidents today he smiled a deep, mysterious smile. To the newspaper men who called upon him he added more mystery to the much mysterious proceeding by unloading the following: "Now, I'm not sure who told me but somebody did, just who I can't remember. The story as I heard it was that Col. Roosevelt, and Mr. Taft went down the elevator after the supper and the speeches at the reception at the Union League club last night, and one of them, just which one, I can't say, because I don't just remember, put his hand on the shoulder of the other, just which one I can't say. I wish I could because I always like to help you boys out, and said, 'What you said in your speech was fine, it just touched the point.' Now, which one it was who said that, I heard, of course, but I can't recall, and I can't recall who told me so, I really can't be the authority for the story."

Mr. Wilcox, who did it? "Who did what?" "Who introduced the Col. and Mr. Taft? You ought to know, it was your party."

"I wasn't my party," retorted Mr. Wilcox. "I told you that before it was a reception by the Union League club to Mr. Hughes and two republican ex-presidents were invited. But if anybody wanted evidence that the two ex-presidents who were rivals for the presidency in 1912 were united now in behalf of a republican nominee, why, there last night was the open and visible evidence of that unity."

He Doesn't Know. "Did Gov. Whitman introduce 'em." "I don't know, I was escorting Mr. Hughes to the clubhouse and so I wasn't on the spot to see the greeting between Col. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft, but I don't think so."

George W. Perkins was asked about a basis for the elevator incident. "I hardly think it is true. Col. Roosevelt left the supper room, and went away from the club house early because he was going back to Oyster Bay," said Mr. Perkins.

T. R. CRITICIZED J. FRANK HANLY

International News Service: SIOUX CITY, Ia., Oct. 5.—Challenging Charles Evans Hughes to do his own talking and to "proclaim the faith that is in him," J. Frank Hanly, prohibition candidate for president, criticized Theodore Roosevelt today for his Battle Creek speech. Hanly, Dr. Ira J. Landrieh, his running mate, and Oliver W. Stewart, campaign manager, were here on the prohibition special train which today is touring South Dakota and Iowa.

"Mr. Roosevelt seems to be laboring under the misapprehension that he was nominated at Chicago and is now running against Mr. Wilson," said Hanly. "The truth is he was repudiated and scorned at Chicago. The people are not interested in what he would have done or what he would do. They want to know what Mr. Hughes would do and that should be proclaimed by that distinguished jurist himself and not through the lips of another. The American people want the republican candidate proclaiming the faith that is in him. They are not much concerned about the faith that is in Col. Roosevelt."

The day's schedule will end with a mass meeting in Council Bluffs tonight.

ATTACKS JAIL WARDEN

International News Service: PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Oct. 5.—A dozen posers are scouring the countryside today for George Graham, 35 years old, a prisoner in the city jail, who late last night pounded Jail Warden Andrew Neil, 64 years old, in unconsciousness and escaped with Rosie Styers, 15 years old, his alleged accomplice in a long series of robberies that have terrorized the neighborhood. Graham used a shoe as his weapon and the jail corridor where the battle was fought was drenched with blood. The warden was decoyed to the cell tier by the girl.

It is supposed that Chief Black Hawk, being the principal Indian personage in the city, will officiate. The mother, Aguna, and the father, Silver, will both assist, as will the other Indians.

Many at Reception. Thursday morning there was a large attendance of St. Joseph county pioneers at the reception held at the Chamber of Commerce. A great variety of entertainment was offered the pioneers, many of whom returned from other parts of the country to participate in the centennial and the gathering of the pioneers. Old acquaintances were renewed and memories exchanged.

Officials of the centennial association have expressed satisfaction with the success of the celebration as indicated thus far. Approximately 18,000 people have witnessed two performances of the great historical pageants which men who have been in close touch with such events for years, declare is the most extensive and on a higher scale than any which has heretofore come to their attention. Pageant Director Barras and his assistants have been laboring valiantly for months organizing this feature of the celebration and the success that has met their efforts is indicated in the comment being made by those who have witnessed the pageant.

Growth of City's Industrial Life is Illustrated by Floats—Thousands Watch Parade.

INDIANA BABY TO BE CHRISTENED TONIGHT

Chiefs and Members of Tribe at Springbrook Park Will Perform Ceremony—Red Men Will Assist.

St. Joseph county's three-day centennial will come to a close tonight with the final presentation of the historical pageant and the living sunburst at Springbrook park. Thousands of people have participated in various ways in the series of spectacles which have been conducted here since last Tuesday noon, while there have been hundreds of visitors here, many from points far distant, who have returned for the home-coming held in connection with the celebration.

The big feature of the exposition this afternoon was the industrial procession pageant. Nearly every representative concern in the city was represented in the big parade which started at 2 o'clock from the corner of Wayne and Taylor sts. In addition to the industrial features the agricultural development of the county was shown in a series of floats and displays, while other unique features were viewed by the thousands of spectators who gathered along the line of the parade. Nelson L. Jones was the director of the industrial parade and was assisted by John DeHaven, Clarence Stout, Samuel Leeper and Charles Zigler as aides.

Extra Attraction. There will be an extra attraction at Springbrook park tonight. The 19-day-old son of Silver and Aguna, two of the Sioux Indians who are making their home for the present at the park, will be publicly christened just before the last presentation of the pageant at 7:20 o'clock. The boy will be named Chief South Bend.

In true Indian fashion, for the edification and delight of the visitors at the celebration, the chiefs and members of the visiting Sioux band, assisted by the members of the Red Men lodge of South Bend and Mishawaka, will perform the ceremony. The completion of the solemnities require more than three days, and only the initial part will be performed before the grandstand tonight.

Never before since the exodus of the Indians led by Fr. Badin, as it has been represented in strikingly picturesque form in the pageant, has there been an Indian ceremony of this nature in St. Joseph county. Very few people in this vicinity, it is indeed there are any, have seen an Indian christened, and it was only after a long argument that the father, Silver, consented and agreed to name the boy Chief South Bend.

It is supposed that Chief Black Hawk, being the principal Indian personage in the city, will officiate. The mother, Aguna, and the father, Silver, will both assist, as will the other Indians.
