

SOCIAL AND OTHER INTERESTS OF WOMEN

IN MILADY'S BOUDOIR

BY GWEN SEARS.

LITTLE GROOMINGS.

Did you ever stop to consider how important every little detail of the toilet really is? When you sit behind a woman in the street car who has carelessly pinned her collar, do you not long to fix it neatly for her? Have you not walked behind the woman who by all outward appearances is a lady, and suddenly you see a bit of braid dangling loosely from her skirt? Have you not been the observer of buttonless blouses, hookless sappings and careless back hair?

What the French Maid Told Marjorie

BY JANE LOWELL.

MAKING CANNED VEGETABLES PALATABLE.

"Oh dear, Marie, father says he is so sick of canned vegetables," sighed Marjorie. "I shall not be able to get fresh ones of any kind much longer and I don't know what to do this winter."

"I don't wonder your father gets tired of canned stuff," responded Marie. "The housewife who knows no other use for canned vegetables than to turn them out into a saucepan to heat, is neglecting her opportunities. Take canned corn, for instance, the customary addition of pepper, salt and perhaps a little butter, is only a few of the many things that can be done to make it more tasty."

"Delicious fritters can be made with but little extra expense and trouble and a wholesome corn pudding is always reliable. The addition of lima beans to corn, also provides a nice succotash. It might possibly seem that there is nothing to do with canned peas but to rinse and re-heat them, but the favorite German combination of carrots and peas can be made by scraping and boiling fresh carrots, slicing and cutting them into dice, and adding to the canned peas.

Asparagus should be taken out of its can very carefully so as not to break the stalks, and after rinsing in cold water to get rid of any tinny taste, it should be kept on ice or in a cool place until used. Served on lettuce with vinegarette dressing and a garnish of strips of pimiento, it makes an emergency salad difficult to excel for either flavor or appearance. As a vegetable course, it can be reheated in a collander over steam and served on toast.

"Canned tomatoes, in addition to the common stewing, can be scalloped in a baking dish, and a brand firm enough to slice and fry can be bought in glass jars. Tomatoes more than any other vegetable are being used by the present laws regulating the amount of solids to be contained in cans of various sizes, less water and more tomato now being assured the purchaser.

LOW COST OF LIVING MENUS

Thin Broiled Ham.

Creamed Potatoes.

Bread and Butter.

Tea.

Dinner.

Chicken Soup.

Mashed Potatoes.

Beets, Butter Sauce.

Pepper and Cabbage Salad.

Whipped Cream Pie.

Breakfast.

Mixed Chicken.

Cut all the meat from the left-over chicken, add any of the cream dressing left, and chop fine. Then add enough gravy or soup stock to make twice the amount of meat and boil two minutes.

Luncheon.

Thin Broiled Ham.

Cut very thin small slices of ham and broil over a quick fire. Spread with butter and a little paprika.

Dinner.

Chicken Soup—Cover the chicken bones with cold water and simmer an hour. Then add half an onion and simmer one hour longer.

Baked Ham.—Wash the ham and soak in cold water over night. In the morning change the water and boil it slowly until nearly tender, then allow it to stand in this water until cold. Remove the skin and place in a baking pan, first rubbing plenty of brown sugar and sticking in whole cloves about an inch apart. Baste with a little of the water in which it has been boiled. Bake in the oven until thoroughly tender, and brown.

Whipped Cream Pie.—Separate the yolks and whites of two eggs. To the yolks add three-fourths of a cup of sugar, a quarter of a cup of water, and a cup of flour, a teaspoon of baking powder, a tablespoon of very strong coffee, and a little salt. Then add the stiffly beaten whites and bake in a round tin. When cold cut in half and fill with a stiffly beaten cream to which has been added a tablespoon of strong coffee.

More Serge Dresses Arrive

A Serge Dress has been called a woman's best friend—and it surely is! Smart, comfortable, they are just the thing for most any occasion.

This year novel pockets add an air of smartness and wool and bead embroidery give the touch of color.

Youthful lines are noticeable and the collars are deep-backed affairs—usually white.

Blue, of course is the favorite color, but brown Burgundy and black are receiving a large call.

The prices—$10, $15, $18, $25, $32.50, $39.50 and $50.

Hats A Coat from Ellsworth's Of Course

Cost isn't the true test of a woman's hat. A hat may cost a lot of money and yet add nothing to the woman who wears it. And it may have cost only a small amount and make her a beauty. Our hats from $3.50 to $10 bear that out—inexpensive yet possess that one charm—smartness.

Everyone seems to want Ellsworth's coats! And it has kept us busy getting new shipments. But new models are coming in on every New York express. Such an assemblage of lovely models can only be seen at Ellsworth's. The prices start at $10, $15, $18, $25 and on up to $75.
