

CHINESE ORATOR GIVES LECTURE

"Mark Twain of Orient" Discusses "China and the Shantung" Question.

"And there's nothing yellow about me but my complexion," Dr. Ng Pong Chew, noted Chinese publicist and lecturer, told his Notre Dame audience by way of introduction. The audience chuckled at the "Mark Twain of China."

"And," he added, "complexion is only skin deep." The audience chuckled again. Dr. Chew smiled. He had come to talk to the students and faculty about "China and the Shantung Situation," and although English was not his mother tongue he would speak under difficulties in the language of Americans, he said. He wanted it understood that although he had been born in China he soon realized his mistake and came to the United States and is now a 100 percent American. And again he begged indulgence because of his imperfect command of English.

The Shantung Affair.

But, better commands of English have seldom been heard at Notre Dame. For an hour and thirty minutes, Dr. Chew told, in the most forceful and most persuasive language, of the history, aims and ideals of his people. He told of backward monarchial China and of the Shantung affair, told of them in such a way as to hold his audience as few lecturers have held their hearers at Notre Dame in recent years. A keen sense of humor pervaded his review of Chinese history, and no embittered criticisms marred his discussion of the Shantung treaty. His facts and his figures he dramatically presented and he let his audience draw conclusions.

"China," he said "is awakening from her sleep of 45 centuries. Her 450,000,000 people form one-fourth of the human race. For centuries China has been slumbering, but now she has overthrown monarchy and it will never be restored. China is yet but a republic in name but in time she will work out her national destiny."

Missionaries.

Dr. Chew asserted, first brought the information to the Chinese that they were not the only mortals on earth. Education followed in the wake of Christianity and thousands of students from the Orient came to America to study.

Changes Just Beginning.

"Too much," said the lecturer, "should not be expected from China at first. Even you Americans can not do the impossible at first. You remember you tried seven or eight years ago to turn donkeys and elephants into Bull Moons—but failed. In China the changes are just beginning. Our new system of education will raise a new race, a new race with complexion the same as our own but with blood and ideals the same as yours. Indeed I think the new race is already here."

The doctor then lightly recounted instances of Americanization in China. American locomotives, cars, even American chewing chicles has gone into that far country and taught Chinese youths the American's chewing-gum secret of perpetual motion.

Explaining the difficulties surrounding the Shantung settlement, he said Japan had imbibed much of the material civilization of the west within the last half century, much of the German militarism, but had overlooked Christian, spiritual ideals. Chinese delegates to the peace conference refused to sign the treaty because they believed Shantung which had been stolen from them by Germany was wrongfully being turned over to Japan. A quarter of a million Chinese laborers served with the allies in France and more coolies were killed digging trenches than were Japs in actual battle. In her four years in the war, Japan was active enough to lose 200 soldiers and sailors. The ultimate aims of Japan as admitted by Count Ito are the conquest of China and the establishment of a continental empire in Asia.

"But," concluded the doctor, "I am optimistic enough to believe that those dreams will never be realized, that China must ultimately come into her own with other and distinct nations of the world."

By United Press. CINCINNATI, O.—Despite the horrors of prohibition, 900 brewery workers here will get a wage increase of $2.50 a week. The men now are making soft drinks.

ODD YET EVEN.

Odd yet even! The new freshman class at high school numbers 82 boys and 81 girls, a condition which rarely exists there. The girls are usually in the majority. Wonder if leap year is to blame in any way?

Monday's registration at the high school showed a total of 175 new students, 13 of whom are upper classmen.

MILK INSPECTOR ISSUES REPORT

The monthly report of Roy H. Wolfe city dairy inspector has been made public and shows that 21 specimens of milk were analyzed during the month of January. Dirt was found in eight samples submitted for analysis and only two are listed among the "much dirt" class. On account of a fire at the Rushwood dairy, no certified milk was available from that place. Following is the report:

PREPARE BOOKLET ON ROAD WORK

General Information Will Aid in Maintaining Good Highways.

Over 5,000 copies of a pamphlet prepared by the department of county highways of St. Joseph county will be distributed during the next week. The pamphlet explains the work carried on by the road men and the men connected with the department.

General information on the county roads that are being maintained at the present time and also proposed road improvements that will be taken up during the coming year are contained in the pamphlet.

Three different road departments are maintained in the county at the present time. These are state roads, county roads and township roads. The Niles road is the only highway development in the county at the present time but many additional miles are planned for the coming year.

Road Maintenance.

Over 110 miles of county roads are now maintained by the department in various sections of the county. These roads are under the direct charge of the county department.

All other roads, approximately 700 miles, are township roads and are under the care of the township trustees. Roads that are petitioned for, viewed and surveyed by the county, do not become county roads until contracts are let and completed and the roads accepted by the board of commissioners.

Many instructions that will help in the care and upkeep of the roads of the county are contained in the pamphlet that is being issued by the board of commissioners composed of Thomas Williams, Marz L. Brummitt and Ernest Bebee, E. A. Zeitler, county highway superintendent; Stuart MacKibbin, county attorney; and George Y. Hepler, foreman of all county highway work.

ARTIST WILL GIVE LECTURES AT UNIVERSITY

Rev. Gregory Gerrer, O. S. B., who for two years has been engaged in arranging the Notre Dame art collection and who is now in Shawnee, Okla., served recently as an art critic of Indian pictures at an exhibition given by Henry Balink, Norwegian artist in Oklahoma City, Okla. Father Gerrer left Notre Dame to resume his lectures and art work at the summer school.

Previous to coming to Notre Dame Father Gerrer spent years of study in European art galleries. He first attained prominence as Vatican portrait painter of Pope Pius. He did portrait work in America, and during his two years at Notre Dame taught classes at summer school and conducted lecture courses for various women's clubs in South Bend.

TO ELECT NEW BOARD OF DIRECTORS FOR Y. W.

That business girls closely associated with the work at the Y. W. C. A. may be elected to membership on the board of directors and be enabled to attend the meetings, the time of meeting has been changed from the morning of the first Thursday of the month to the evening at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Minnie French, Miss Ethel Preston and Mrs. Janie Carr have been elected to the board and will attend the meeting this Thursday night. The board will be the guests of the club girls at their weekly club supper Thursday night at 6:15 o'clock.
