

CONTINUES TALKS ON GOD AND TRUTH

Rev. Rodney L. McQuary Delivers Sermon at the First Christian Church.

On Sunday evening at the First Christian church, Rev. R. L. McQuary spoke on the subject "Spiritual Interpretation of History."

Rev. McQuary emphasized the historical argument for the presence of God in his sermon. He dealt upon the fact that throughout the cycles of history of men and nations the markings of the hand of God are evident both in His dire afflictions of the righteous and in His favors of justice upon the unworthy peoples of the earth.

Powerful Motives. "It is a favorite approach to history today," said Rev. McQuary, "for some superficial minds to see in it nothing but the play of economic forces and considerations. These things are powerful motives, but they do not explain all human action, because human nature itself cannot be explained in material terms and what human nature does is not all from economic motives alone."

"Men act from parental love, from love of adventure, from play, from loyalty to leadership and these are spiritual considerations. Man aspires, even in the midst of the most sordid circumstances, he dreams of eternal things, he has literary masterpieces, he paints the ideal, and sometimes in the midst of most materially miserable conditions. Yet, this, not from a love of money or a desire of material prizes, but simply to express an aspiring soul."

"History reveals God's purpose in the working out of certain values. The ages have evolved the rights of the individual, the chief among them: moral sanctions are slowly but surely being substituted for physical force as a means of control; and within our own time the arm of a God who exacts justice from nations as well as of individuals, has been bare in the punishments meted out to materialistic Germany."

As "Drop of Water." "Before Greece's nation are as a drop of a bucket," Isaiah says, are as grasshoppers. He poured out the seas as a man pours out water. The purpose of God is marching on with certain tread and true, being halted at times by the stubbornness of men, but will finally triumph, because it is as irresistible as the strong tides of the sea."

"In our pride of power we need to pause and contemplate the majesty of God, Whose will rules. Who siteth above the circle of the heavens. Happy that man or nation who discern which way God is moving and who then urge themselves in the same direction—but nations or individuals who go counter to God's purposes have always done so to their own hurt and injury. These are the lessons of history, behind which God moves in His own infinitely wise and certain way."

WHITE FORCES FLEE AS REDS DRIVE ONWARD

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE.) retreat southward, according to information received by the French foreign office today, pursued by a well equipped and organized force of 27 divisions. Gen. Wrangel has suffered great losses and many of his officers have been killed.

General Boards Ship. The "General Boards" aboard one of the French warships in Sebastopol but the vessel still is remaining in port, say the advisers. The evacuation is continuing but there is inadequate shipping for the number of persons seeking to flee. Wrangel's troops are declared to have fought splendidly in the battle of their defeat, which began with the loss of Perevalov and soon developed into a wild retreat toward the headquarters at Sebastopol.

Dispatches received at the foreign ministry here assert that they have been no mistakes. On the contrary they praise the courage of the white army and the sacrifices of their officers. The dispatches say that the white army inflicted heavy losses on the bolsheviks, but that they were overwhelmed by the reds, who are reported to be well organized and fed. Some of the bolshevik officers are said to be Germans.

Local Symphony Orchestra Gives Sunday Concert

The program played by the South Bend Symphony orchestra at the Chamber of Commerce Sunday had a most pleasing variety of classical, characteristic and lighter numbers. The orchestra played better than at any of its previous concerts and the acoustics profited by the change of hall.

The first offering, "Lysistrata" by Lincke, was an appropriate light number to lead to the group of classics which followed. It might be said that the program seemed to improve with each number.

A "Gavotte" by Gluck, the "Minuet" by Handel, and Merkle's "Berceuse" comprised the second group, and as said before, the variety in the character of the compositions was most pleasing. The light and delicate "Gavotte" and the dreamy "Berceuse" were equally well played.

James Cover has a voice of great promise and each of his last two songs were noticeable improvements over his first number, in which, perhaps due to nervousness, his voice had too much tremolo. He sang "The Blind Pilgrim" and "Into My Heart," both by Altheide, and for an encore sang "In a Little Old Town" by Squire, which number seemed more appropriate to his voice than the other two songs.

The "Two Musical Stories" by Burgmain, showed wonderful sweetness in the muted violin parts, and in the "Ballad Suite" by Schubert, this section of the orchestra continued its fine work.

The "Four Pieces" by Fritzi were given in a manner that justified that composer's universal popularity. Happy that man or nation who discern which way God is moving and who then urge themselves in the same direction—but nations or individuals who go counter to God's purposes have always done so to their own hurt and injury. These are the lessons of history, behind which God moves in His own infinitely wise and certain way."

FAIL TO OBTAIN NEW FROM CREW OF LOST VESSEL

The Francis J. Widlar is a 7,600 ton steel freighter and carried a cargo of ore, having cleared from Chicago on Michigan st. in command of Capt. Arthur Forbes, of Ashtabula, O.

A vessel believed to have been seen drifting helplessly toward Pancake shoals by Capt. William Mesier, of the steamer John Erickson, upon the arrival of the Erickson last night. At the height of the storm the vessel's lights disappeared, according to Capt. Mesier.

Dellos stated that he had hitched his horse to the curb and was absent for some time. When he returned, the horse and carriage were gone, but several persons told of having seen a number of small boys drive south on Michigan st. with horse and buggy that answered the description of the missing one.

ANNOUNCE DROP OF CENT ON GASOLINE

Standard Lowers Prices in Ten States on Tank Wagon Gas.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Tank wagon prices of gasoline will be reduced one cent a gallon Monday in states in which the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and the Standard Oil company of Louisiana operate, it was announced here Sunday by Walter C. Teagle, president of the New Jersey company.

States in which the reduction will be effective include New Jersey, Maryland, North and South Carolina, Virginia and the District of Columbia, in which the Standard Oil company of New Jersey operates, and in Louisiana, Tennessee and Arkansas, in which the Louisiana company operates.

The reduction in price is not the result of lower costs, either of crude oil or labor, Mr. Teagle said, but is a movement on the part of the company to aid in lowering of prices as part of the general commercial adjustment.

Prices of tank wagon gasoline under the reduction will vary in the different states, it was explained, owing to differences in freight costs. The effect upon retail prices generally was not predicted by company officials. In New Orleans the price will be reduced to 28 1/2 cents tomorrow. The present New Jersey price is from 31 to 32 cents.

ORGANIZATION AIDS FARMERS PROFIT

Reports Obtained by Expert in Various Areas of County.

Farm business records obtained from 100 farms in the county for an eight-year period show that farm organization has a big influence on the profits farmers are making. Returns from livestock stand out as a very important factor in the reports from these 100 farms.

The farmers who had good livestock and who fed and managed it so as to get good returns made for an average of seven of the eight years over 13 times as high returns for their own year's labor as do farmers who had poor livestock and managed it the same way. Figures were obtained by L. S. Robertson, an expert on farm management.

In addition to livestock returns, the principal factors influencing profits, outside of those over which the farmer has no control, were size of business, crop yields, and efficiency in the use of labor. The farms that were above the average in all four of the important factors mentioned made a return for their year's labor 50 percent higher than the farms that were below the average in any one of these factors, and 100 percent more than the farmers who were below the average in any two of these factors.

Records from other areas in Indiana where similar studies have been made bear out the indication of this investigation that neither crop yields effective use of labor, good size of business, or good livestock returns alone will result in good profits, but that a farmer must be well balanced in all four of these important factors.

VIRGINIA MOB HANGS NEGRO FOR ASSAULT

BRISTOL, Va., Nov. 14.—Dave Hunt, a negro aged 25, captured after a chase on a passenger train and held for an alleged assault on an aged white woman, was taken from the jail at Wise, Va., early on Sunday by a mob of about 15 men and hanged to a bridge near Kent Junction.

After the lynching the mob quietly dispersed and Sunday night no arrests had been reported. Entrance was gained to the jail by breaking down the doors. The negro was taken to the scene of the lynching in a automobile.

The alleged attack on the woman, who is 60 years old, occurred at her home Friday. The trainmen soon captured the negro.
