

Devoted to the Interests of Women

Clubs Circles SOCIETY Suffrage Philanthropy

Social Calendar

SPRING IS HERE

By Juanita Hamel

Monday
A program of unusual interest will be presented at the Monday meeting of the department of art of the Progress club.
An Easter dance will be given by the Phi Delta Kappa fraternity Monday evening in the Rotary room of the Oliver hotel.
Miss Charlotte White will be hostess to the Novel club members at her home on W. Colfax av.
The Sophomore chapter of the Girl Reserves of the Y. M. C. A. will be entertained at dinner Monday evening by the Girl Reserves of Elkhardt.
The ladies auxiliary of the Order of Eastern Star will meet in the Masonic club rooms with Mrs. Coora Barton, Mrs. Dora Lay, Mrs. Beattie Stockford, Mrs. Dora Nelson, Mrs. Martha Keller and Mrs. Desmie Baine as hostesses for the occasion.
Members of the Nonpariel club will meet with Mrs. Olive Price, Pennsylvania av.
Mrs. George Entlerlein will entertain the Lincoln Literary club at her home, 725 Cottage Grove av.
The regular meeting of the Tenthia Girls of the Zion Evangelical church will be held with Miss Selma Wunderlich and Miss Clara Harrenfeld acting as hostesses.

Tuesday
The College club will entertain with a luncheon at the Robertson tea room.
Mrs. J. U. Jain, Harrison av., will act as hostess to the Tuesday night club.
The members of the Schuyler Rehearsal Sewing circle will be the guests of Mrs. M. Reed, 1418 S. Fellows st.
Misses Bernice and Mildred Gindelberger, 824 E. Ohio st., will act as hostesses to the members of Mrs. F. O. Jellison's class of the Grace M. E. church.
Mrs. Ullrich, 211 E. Donald st., will entertain the Women's auxiliary of the American church, post 59, with a thimble at her home.

Wednesday
The St. Joseph Hospital Aid society will entertain with a card party Wednesday afternoon at the St. Patrick's hall. The members and friends of the hospital are extended a cordial invitation. Those in charge will be Mrs. James Tracy, chairman, Mrs. M. Calmon, Mrs. S. Senrich, Mrs. T. Williams, Mrs. C. Weaver, Mrs. L. Gannehill, Mrs. R. Osborne, Mrs. W. Craebel, Mrs. N. Seltes and Mrs. S. Toepp.
Among the delightful affairs to be given for Mrs. Jack Studebaker III, will be a 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. Eugene Miller, Thursday Mrs. Studebaker will be the guest of honor at a luncheon to be given by Mrs. Sanford Rugee, 117 S. William st.
Members of the Wednesday Afternoon club will entertain with a luncheon at the Robertson tea room which will be followed by bridge at the home of Mrs. Carl Hibberd, 618 Park av.
The regular meeting of the Twin City Sewing circle will take place with Mrs. Harry Vanderberg, 515 E. Sixth st., River Park.
The postponed meeting of the Centennial club will be held with Mrs. John Cully, 206 E. Sample st.
A meeting of the Stonyridge Wide Awake club will be held at the home of Mrs. Helen Haney.
Mrs. Charles Brown, 811 S. Clinton st., will entertain the Independent club.
A meeting of the Fancy Needleworkers' club will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry West, 817 N. Hill st.
A dance will be given by the Loyal American Drill team at Tyler hall.
The Willing Workers club will meet with Mrs. W. E. Downing, E. Sample st.
Members of the North Side Social club will be the guests of Mrs. Frank Strickler, N. Taylor st.
The Jolly Crochet club will be entertained by Mrs. H. Henning, N. Johnson st.
The regular meeting of the Ayudadora circle will take place.
Mrs. R. G. Page, Park av., will entertain the Woman's Literary club. A card party will be given by the Java Oak Drill team at the W. O. W. hall.
Members of the Lafayette thimble will enjoy a social afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Martin, Duhan av.
The Congregational Thimble club will give a card party at the home of

NOT the first faint touch of green in the lee of a hill—nor the first flower in a sheltered nook—but the budding of trees, the eager flowering of shrubs, the universal springing up of perennials, yes—even LOVE—these tell the story. When he leans over the garden wall and smiles at HER, busy in her garden, the light in their eyes tells each other and all the world, that spring indeed IS here!

Thursday
Invitations have been issued by Mrs. J. B. Birdsell and her daughter, Mrs. Harry Engman, of Goshen, Ind., and Mrs. Reed Parker, of Chicago, for a 1 o'clock luncheon to be given at the Birdsell home, 511 W. Colfax av.
Members of the Gamma chapter of the Theta sorority will give a dinner party at the Oliver hotel which will be followed by a theater party at the Oliver theater.
A meeting of the Bee Hive club will be held at the home of Mrs. Orville Powell, 222 Laporte av.
Mrs. R. E. Burger, 1220 Haney av., will entertain the Phi Delta class of the First Brethren church.
The regular meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Grace M. E. church will be held in the church parlors.
The Ladies' Aid society of the Grace Evangelical church will meet.
Mrs. Alice Mountain will be hostess to the members of the Eureka club at an orphan party.
The postponed meeting of the music department of the Progress club will be held.
Mrs. Frank Strickler will entertain the North Side Social club at her home, on N. Taylor st.
Members of the Standard Bearers of the First M. E. church will meet.
Officers will be elected at the meeting of the Center Township Home Economics club which will be held with Mrs. Clara Denslow, Denslow rd.
A party will be given by the Teima Shrine club at the Oliver hotel.
Mrs. Frank Woolter, 415 S. Franklin st., will entertain the Good Will club.
A children's program will be presented by the Foreign Missionary society of the First M. E. church at

Friday
The members of the Women's society of the First Baptist church will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Duval, 756 George av.
Friday Friendship club members will be entertained by Mrs. B. F. Wilcox, 312 S. Taylor st.
Mrs. Thomas Carson, 1615 S. Main st., will act as hostess to the Wanda Sewing circle, she will be assisted by Mrs. Walter Bills.
The members of the Friday Pleasure club will be the guests of Mrs. F. J. Weber, 410 E. Duhan av.
A meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Conference Memorial United Brethren church will be held.
Rev. Archibald McClure will speak on "The Different Nationalities Represented in the United States, Their Development and Assimilation," a subject of which he has made a special study at the meeting of the Missionary department of the First Presbyterian church.
Saturday
A program consisting of three plays will be presented before the general Progress club by the department of literature Saturday afternoon.
Members of the Rainbow circle of the Grace M. E. church will meet.
Miss McCorkle, N. Hill st., will entertain the Mispah class of the Zion Evangelical church.

Revelations of a Wife
My Heart and My Husband
By Adele Garrison

My doubt about Dicky resolved itself into a gnawing little pain as the minutes sped by and he made no effort to come into the drawing-room. Was he angry or indifferent? The question racked me as much as anything could in my condition of nervous exhaustion, and made less potent for healing the efforts which my mother-in-law put forth in my behalf.
When she returned with the hot water bottle and the cloak I think must have been something tell-tale in my face which startled her, for she called sharply to me as she bent over me.
"Margaret! Margaret!"
I opened my eyes and looked at her wearily. I felt as though I were a half-mile or so away from me.
"What is it?" I asked faintly.
"Nothing much," she said, reproachfully. "I just wanted to make sure you were awake before I disturbed you with this."
She held out the heavy fur-lined cloak which had been the subject of so much contention. I shrank back shivering from the cold which still possessed me, longing physically for its warmth, but mentally repelled by the thought of it touching me.
"I don't want it," I faltered.
"Oh, yes, you do!" she retorted inexorably. "Here!"
She took away the blankets covering me as she spoke, and with quick, deft movements tucked the wonderful garment around me with the far side next me. Then she put the hot water bag to my feet, covered me again with the blankets and adjusted my pillows to a more comfortable angle. Then she lay down upon the couch opposite and pulled a coverlet over her.
"Now go to sleep," she commanded monotonously. "I'm going to, and there won't be a sound or anything else to disturb you."
Before the doubt of Dicky had come this would have been exactly the treatment most calculated to help me. I closed my eyes obediently, but though the warmth and comfort soon stopped my shivering and deadly faintness yet the thought of my husband shut away from me no more by the closed door of the drawing-room than by the misunderstanding that had come between us racked me with a pain almost physical.
For the physical illness, the deadly weakness which had come over me, had forcibly taught me anew the lesson I had learned long before, but which I am afraid I had been in danger of forgetting, the lesson every wife with a husband at all possible knows full well—that when danger or illness comes there is but one place for husband and wife, and that is shoulder to shoulder with the world shut out.
I found, almost to my own surprise, that I longed for the mere sight of Dicky's face, the sound of his voice. I felt that I could even bear his anger if only I could have him near me.
With my face turned toward the door which shut him away from me I lay tensely expectant, wondering whether he would continue to obey his mother's injunction to remain within call outside, or whether he might not suddenly open the door and come to me.
But the seconds stretched into minutes, each seeming an eternity to me, as I counted them off upon my wrist watch, which my mother-in-law had not removed, and which I found it taxed my strength to lift to a position where I could see it. When five minutes had gone by I let my arm drop to my side in utter exhaustion while the tears of weakness began to creep from my self into a gnawing little pain as the minutes sped by and he made no effort to come into the drawing-room. Was he angry or indifferent? The question racked me as much as anything could in my condition of nervous exhaustion, and made less potent for healing the efforts which my mother-in-law put forth in my behalf.

When she returned with the hot water bottle and the cloak I think must have been something tell-tale in my face which startled her, for she called sharply to me as she bent over me.
"Margaret! Margaret!"
I opened my eyes and looked at her wearily. I felt as though I were a half-mile or so away from me.
"What is it?" I asked faintly.
"Nothing much," she said, reproachfully. "I just wanted to make sure you were awake before I disturbed you with this."
She held out the heavy fur-lined cloak which had been the subject of so much contention. I shrank back shivering from the cold which still possessed me, longing physically for its warmth, but mentally repelled by the thought of it touching me.
"I don't want it," I faltered.
"Oh, yes, you do!" she retorted inexorably. "Here!"
She took away the blankets covering me as she spoke, and with quick, deft movements tucked the wonderful garment around me with the far side next me. Then she put the hot water bag to my feet, covered me again with the blankets and adjusted my pillows to a more comfortable angle. Then she lay down upon the couch opposite and pulled a coverlet over her.
"Now go to sleep," she commanded monotonously. "I'm going to, and there won't be a sound or anything else to disturb you."
Before the doubt of Dicky had come this would have been exactly the treatment most calculated to help me. I closed my eyes obediently, but though the warmth and comfort soon stopped my shivering and deadly faintness yet the thought of my husband shut away from me no more by the closed door of the drawing-room than by the misunderstanding that had come between us racked me with a pain almost physical.
For the physical illness, the deadly weakness which had come over me, had forcibly taught me anew the lesson I had learned long before, but which I am afraid I had been in danger of forgetting, the lesson every wife with a husband at all possible knows full well—that when danger or illness comes there is but one place for husband and wife, and that is shoulder to shoulder with the world shut out.
I found, almost to my own surprise, that I longed for the mere sight of Dicky's face, the sound of his voice. I felt that I could even bear his anger if only I could have him near me.
With my face turned toward the door which shut him away from me I lay tensely expectant, wondering whether he would continue to obey his mother's injunction to remain within call outside, or whether he might not suddenly open the door and come to me.
But the seconds stretched into minutes, each seeming an eternity to me, as I counted them off upon my wrist watch, which my mother-in-law had not removed, and which I found it taxed my strength to lift to a position where I could see it. When five minutes had gone by I let my arm drop to my side in utter exhaustion while the tears of weakness began to creep from my

The Ellsworth Store

FEBRUARY RELEASE OF SOUTH BEND AND MISHAWAKA PRODUCTS

8317-40—Universal Body—Mrs. Donald Eibel, 303 Portage Ave.
8211-42—South Bend Lathie—Miss Alice Bradley, The Rushton.
11659-41—Graf Lens Field Glass—Mrs. D. C. Wright, 810 Lincoln way E. Mishawaka
11781-50—Underwear—Mrs. R. D. Hart, 806 N. 6th st.
13186-10—Underwear—C. H. Meritz, 510 N. Cushing.
8874-23—Underwear—Mrs. Leo Chelminak, 1124 W. Division.
9247-42—Underwear—Mrs. I. Knoblock, Bremen, Ind.
14768-14—Underwear—Dr. C. J. Ash, 114 E. Navarre.
11781-20—Shirt—E. R. Erickson, Osceola, Ind.
14852-25—Underwear—Mrs. E. F. Seanehorn, Granger, Ind.
11298-45—Underwear—Mrs. H. J. Bernard, Niles, Mich.
9627- 6—Underwear—Mrs. C. R. Adams, 114 E. Dayton.
13442- 8—Underwear—Mrs. A. R. Brummitt, New Carlisle, Ind.
14924- 5—Shirt—Mrs. G. A. Fulmer, 1028 S. Michigan st.
13242-10—Underwear—Mrs. W. E. Bierer, Walkerton, Ind., R. R. No. 4.
14890-10—Underwear—P. W. Williamson, 241 E. Indiana av.
11805- 7—Underwear—A. Freeman, 117 E. Calvert st.
11815-22—Underwear—Mrs. James Luther, 915 E. Colfax av.
11800-32—Underwear—George Motta, 706 N. Allen st.
10795-20—Underwear—Mrs. R. P. Engdahl, 602 N. Harrison.
13318-20—Chutes—H. W. Gillie, 1448 Lincoln way, Mishawaka.
13242-19—Chair—Theodore King, 412 S. Olive st.
11751-37—Chair—Mrs. W. C. Roth, R. R. No. 6, South Bend, Ind.
14914-44—Chair—Martha Deleene, 1332 Fassnacht.
7779-43—Croquet Set—Mrs. E. J. McCabe, 816 Harrison av.
14552-14—Chair—Helen Wesolowski, 2615 Kenwood.
9128-48—Chair—Mrs. Earl Yost, 1236 Vassar av.
11781-28—Chair—Mrs. R. F. Wolfe, 942 18th st.
12280-45—Doll Cab—Dr. J. A. Duggan, 330 W. Nagarre.
11751-45—Doll Cab—Stephen E. Reister, 717 Sherman av.
14914-45—Doll Cab—Mrs. A. J. Rumely, Laporte, Ind.
11826- 9—Doll Cab—Kathrine Protasco, 419 Lincoln way W. Mishawaka.
14101- 7—Wagon—Mr. Frank Chrisman, 855 Park av.
9604-10—Shoo-Fly—Mrs. L. Fleming, 216 E. South st.
11932-46—Shoo-Fly—Mrs. A. A. Fredrick, 844 Park av.
8872-21—Wagon—Mrs. W. C. McCutcheon, Cassopolis, Mich.
10775-11—Wagon—Mrs. F. L. Ellsasser, 121 W. Lawrence, Mishawaka.
8751-16—Cedar Chest—Mrs. D. C. Southworth, 725 Cottage Grove.
10260-31—Cedar Chest—C. W. Burton, 501 Edgewater dr.
8906-31—Doll House—Mrs. Harry Clark, 218 E. Grove.

Products for March Will be on Display Tuesday—Ellsworth's North Window

ELLSWORTH'S GOLDEN JUBILEE SPRING RUG SALE
Starts Tuesday, March 29th

Prices during our Golden Jubilee Rug Sale will be lower than they have been in the last few years.

Lowest Possible Prices on all Rugs, Carpets, Linoleums and Electric Sweepers during this Sale.

This Sale comes just at the right time—just when you want
See Our Window Display. Prices will be announced in Monday's papers.

The Ellsworth Store

At Wheelock's At Wheelock's

Out Door Toys—For Spring Vacation

Healthy and amusing toys which will delight the children.

Velocipedes for Boys and Girls—All come fitted with rubber tires and are durably made. Priced from $4.50 to $20.00.

Steel Express Wagons painted bright red—4 sizes at $1.25 $1.50, $2.00, $2.75.

Steel Wheelbarrows in three sizes, at $1.25, $1.50, $1.75.

Automobiles, $15 to $22.50

Coaster Wagons, ball bearing, $6.95, $7.95, $8.95.

Doll Carriages, woven of reed and nicely finished, $5.00 to $15.00.

Scoters, $3.75.

Tricycles, $18.00.

Now is the time the Kiddies Should be Out on Roller Skates

Boys' and Girls' Ball Bearing Skates with positive extension and adjustment. Special $2.95 per pair.

George H. Wheelock & Company

Here's Graceful Duvetyn Wrap

New Notes In Overblouse

A low stand-up collar, a yoke, stitching and decorative pompons of wool form the new notes in this fetching overblouse. A colorful effect can be given by making the blouse rose or coral color and the embroidery gray.

This duvetyn wrap presents the grace of the flowing cape line, yet is held snugly to the figure by the belted-in effect at the front waist line. Sand color and medium blue duvetyn are used to work out the two-color effect and embroidery in a large lattice-work motif is used as an all-over decoration on the cape.

READ the WANT ADS

Proof of Proficiency
Every day brings new endorsements of our services. Our glasses combine a measure of efficiency, durability and economy that is satisfying to the wearer.
H. LEMONTREE
Optometrist and Optician
222 1/2 S. Michigan St.

The Big Electric Shop
S. D. Moran & Son
Wiring and Repairing.

Try NEWS-TIMES Want Ads