EX-SEN. BEVERIDGE MAY BE APPOINTED TO EMBASSY SOON

Ambassadorship Would Eliminate Sen. Harry New's Senatorial Enemy.

BY L. R. BLANCHARD. United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—America's next ambassador to Germany will be ex-Sen. Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, it was learned here today.

While Beveridge is not an avowed candidate for the post, his friends say that if the president tendered it to him they believe Beveridge would accept.

Harding has a high regard for Beveridge's ability. He was one of the "best minds" at Marip. The president has had him in mind for a diplomatic post from the outset and is said to have offered him the ambassadorship to Japan but the former Hoosier senator declined.

The appointment of Beveridge, according to his friends, has a political angle that may militate against the chances of either Dr. David Jayne Hill, former ambassador to Germany, or Ellis Loring Dresel, who negotiated the peace treaty with Germany, both of whom have been mentioned for the post.

Has Not Announced Candidacy. Dr. Hill's former diplomatic service and his political services have given rise to the belief that his appointment would come when peace was finally declared. Dresel's success in negotiating the treaty has been pleasing to the president and it is known that he desires to reward him.

The political angle arises from the fact that Beveridge may become a candidate for senator against Sen. Harry New of Indiana, a close personal and political friend of President Harding.

Beveridge has not made any announcement of his candidacy but for several weeks has been going about the state making speeches and renewing political acquaintances.

CALL CABINET TO CONFER ON ERIN'S REPLY

Minister Journey 700 Miles by Ordinary Trains to Join Lloyd George.

(Continued from page one) Irish republican leader, Tuesday quite unexpectedly issued a statement to the press in which, after reiterating Ireland's desire for peace, declared that peace could never be founded on make-believe.

War, not peace, would be the outcome of the imposition of England's proposals by force, according to Mr. De Valera, who went on to assert that England had no basis in right for a single demand she was making of Ireland and would not dare to make such demands upon a "power even nearly as strong as herself."

Notorious Bandit Again Escapes Federal Prison

Roy Gardner, 20th Century Jesse James, Makes Getaway From Guards During Exciting Baseball Game—One Companion Killed and Another Wounded—Is Third of Series of Desperado's Marvelous Escapes in Three Years.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 6.—Mail trains throughout the northwest today carried special guards armed with rifles fearing holdups by Roy Gardner, notorious railway bandit who escaped from McNeil's Island federal prison late yesterday.

Gardner, who was serving 50 years for robbery, escaped during a prisoner's baseball game. He was captured and sentenced to 25 years on McNeil's island.

He escaped, disarming his guards in a Pullman compartment and made his way to Canada. Last May he returned, dodged pursuers, called on his wife while they were hot on his trail, held up a train and stole $100,000 at Roseville, Calif., and was captured a few days later.

Sentenced to 50 years he again escaped, producing a revolver from a hidden pocket in a belt next his skin and disarming his guards on a train while enroute to prison. However, he again was taken and conveyed to McNeil's island penitentiary.

Half a dozen rifles cracked as the guards opened fire on them. Impry was killed. Bogart dropped, seriously wounded. Gardner, with the luck that has marked his bandit career, was untouched and scaled the wall with the agility of an acrobat, while bullets spattered all around him.

He dropped to the ground on the outside, disappearing. Poses today were watching the Pudget Sound shores, opposite McNeil's island and "beating up" the woods of the Bay region in the hunt for the desperado.

Householders in the vicinity were warned to be on the lookout. Some farmers in the fields carried guns. Postmasters and storekeepers posted sentries to watch for the appearance of the bandit.

Gardner first was sentenced to the penitentiary for a robbery in 1911. Paroled two years later, he turned up in San Diego where, with face blackened, he robbed a mail truck of a sack containing $31,000. He was
