

CLOSE ARGUMENTS IN MORGAN CASE MONDAY MORNING

Fate of Local Youth to Go Into Hands of Jury Monday Afternoon at Laporte.

(Continued from Page 1.) and fired, was called back to the stand to testify that she did not believe Kenneth insane when he shot her. The defense did not cross examine.

Dr. P. R. Jones, prominent local physician, then took the stand to explain how dementia praecox manifested itself. He stated after the reading of the hypothetical questions by Pres. Atty. Jellison that he believed that Morgan had been of sound mind. He declared that it was not sufficient insanity among the jurors to indicate a hereditary mental disease.

By Crumpacker On Stand. Dr. Chester Crumpacker, coroner of St. Joseph county, was the last witness called to the stand. His testimony was practically the same as that of Dr. Jones. He expressed the opinion that dementia praecox was a chronic mental disease and would grow stronger as time passed. He also testified that Morgan was of sound mind and asserted that it would be difficult to prove that the young man had been insane at the time of the shooting.

The case has aroused great interest in Laporte, and Friday all the seats in the court room were filled. It is probable that the closing arguments will be concluded before noon Monday, and the fate of Kenneth should be in the hands of the jury early Monday afternoon. Kenneth exhibited his first interest in the outcome of the trial Friday. His face was flushed and he was nervous as to the outcome. Several times he seemed to be a little apprehensively whispered to his wife who sat beside him in the court room.

(Continued from Page 1.) Effect Agreement. During several days of conversations on the subject, the Japanese and Chinese have effected agreements on many details, but all of these settlements are conditional on satisfactory solution of the method for restoration of Chinese railway traffic to Tientsin.

The statement contained a table giving "authoritative" figures on the number of men with the colors of France, Italy, Poland, Rumania, and Czechoslovakia. These figures, Mr. McCormick said, "were not all inclusive" but they show that a total of more than 2,000,000 men are in arms from a total population slightly larger than that of the United States.

The 300 indictments today were in addition to those which were returned in the Logan jail for trial and like the former ones, are mostly on charges of conspiracy or of aiding and abetting other men against whom charges of murder were made. The four union officials against whom the treason indictments were brought are among the men now awaiting trial on the other charges. The punishment for treason may be either death or imprisonment.

The South Bend High school debating teams won their second annual double contest from the Nicholas Senn High school team of Chicago in debates held both in Chicago and at the local high school Friday night. Unanimous decisions were given to both teams of the local school.

One of the most interesting debates ever held in this city was the one held at the High school auditorium here. More than 1,400 people were present. The local team took the affirmative side on the subject, "Resolved, that the principal of exempting coastwise shipping from the payment of tolls through the Suez canal is desirable." Studebaker Administration Building To Resemble a 'Somewhere in France' Scene at Reception for War Heroes

Entire First Floor of Building to Be Transformed for Monday's Fete, and Real A. E. F. Program of Entertainment Will Be Given—Thousands to Attend.

A shell shattered tree, a trench zig-zagging through tangled knots of barbed wire, a Red Cross hut where men were brought, mutilated and dazed—you have heard about all these, but did you ever see them? A recent French building turned into a reception room for tired buddies, and roughly constructed hells where they could be entertained, all of these—and more—will be ready for the reception Monday evening in honor of the ex-servicemen of the city.

The first floor of the Studebaker Administration building, only a short time ago a dignified show room with waxed floors, shining brass rail, and well ordered displays has been strangely changed, all in order to give you a chance to see the things that became so familiar to your "doughboy" when they were overseas, fighting for you.

You will be able to walk through the winding trench, remembering as you do so that your son or your brother waded through mud to his knees in a similarly constructed trench. You will pass through a doorway into a room where you will see the same things that you saw in the trenches and see the rude counters and huge cans that were used in serving food to exhausted and ravenous men. You may look through dirty windows, many of the panes of which are broken, and can imagine the cold rain beating against them as you draw near to a store about which the boys gathered.

Real A. E. F. Program. In the entertainment hall you will see a program similar to those that cheered the hearts of the A. E. F. when they were hopelessly discouraged. "Over there" when their hearts were nearly breaking with the horror of it all will sing and dance again, this time giving thanks that it is all over and that they have this chance to show their appreciation to "their boys."

Many Standard Issues Make Substantial Gains in Day's Dealings.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Dealings in stocks Friday were more active and diversified than at any previous session of the week, many standard issues making substantial gains. Continued ease of money, strength of foreign exchange and signs of an early forward movement in the basic industries stimulated the advance.

Investment rails led the movement at gains of one to two points. Equipments as well as miscellaneous specialties made similar or greater gains. Sales amounted to 650,000 shares.

The official rate for call loans remained at 3 1/2 per cent, but that for prime collateral in private offerings, the unprecedentedly large gold holdings of the Federal Reserve bank, which is said to have influenced the more liberal supplies of time money.

Regardless of the tension created abroad by the French political crisis, foreign exchanges rose appreciably, sterling gained 1/16, but reacted later.

Encouraging features of the domestic industrial situation were contained in the announcement that Calumet and Hecla contemplates early resumption of production in its copper fields and in the revival of activity in the Pennsylvania tin plate mills.

Transactions in bonds again assumed large proportions. United States war issues contributed their usual quota. Victory 4 1/2's made a new high at 109.55. Foreign bonds were undisturbed by the situation across the water. Total sales, par value, $28,500,000.

WHEAT PRICE RAISES ON CHICAGO EXCHANGE

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Prospects of a liberal reduction of the visible supply today helped to turn wheat prices upward Friday after an early decline. The close was unsettled at 5 1/2 to 1 1/2 net higher, with May $1.11 1/2 and July $1.00 1/2. Corn lost 1/4 to 1/4 1/2. Oats finished unchanged to a shade higher, and provisions carried over the decline to the advance.

The fact that overnight developments in the French cabinet crisis were generally given a bearish construction as affecting the wheat trade did a good deal to deter buying in the first half of the day and to depress values to a moderate extent. Later, however, more optimism was shown regarding the French political situation. Attention of traders then turned to such bullish factors as a better domestic milling demand for wheat and to a material decrease of primary receipts as compared with a year ago. Highest prices of the day were reached in connection with forecasts of a falling off in the next visible supply figures, but the market reacted somewhat as the session came to an end.

Corn and oats averaged lower as a result of an apparent slackening in export inquiry for corn. Stockyard interests were said to be buyers of provisions and this circumstance appeared to be more than an offset for larger arrivals of hogs than had been looked for.
