

QUESTIONS ASKED BY LOCAL WORKERS STILL UNANSWERED

Bookwalter and Yeagley Fail to Reply to Challenge of Beveridge Committee.

Local committee to secure this nomination and will make public Monday a report of any motion...

Very Truly Yours, Fred W. Keller, Pres. Mr. John G. Yeagley...

You undoubtedly recognize that the enemy of our party will raise the question of lavish use of funds...

I am sure that both those who favor Senator New and those who are friendly to another candidate can unite in approving that resolution...

The expenditures of such excessive sums in behalf of a candidate, either with or without his knowledge and consent...

Will you not, tonight, Mr. Yeagley, give to the republican voters an approximate estimate of the sums of money you have spent...

Will you not, Mr. Yeagley, tell the voters whether it is true that workers have been hired in this city to work among those of well-to-do...

Will you not, Mr. Yeagley, take into your confidence as to all sums which have been spent or will be spent in behalf of your candidate...

I am sure that you can not but agree that in this matter and full publicity in this matter at this time will be most effective in disarming the enemies of our party...

In most earnest and zealous sympathy with the complete success of the party, I have the honor to be...

Very truly yours, FRED W. KELLER.

Community Chests, Social Service Federations Now Assist Many Worthy Poor

This Community Chests and Federations of Social Agencies are rendering a stupendous service to charitable and welfare organizations in many leading cities is shown by a brief summary of their past year's work...

Figures compiled from the last report of the American association for Community Organization show that Community Chests in 51 cities raised sums aggregating $21,399,413, actually 94.33 percent of the desired goal.

This is thought to be an enviable record when unsettled business conditions over the country are taken into consideration along with the fact that many cities have not perfected their organ community organization.

In 49 of the community chest cities there were 1,231 beneficiary organizations for which appeals were made. There were 784,536 contributions reported from 26 cities. While these figures indicate the service rendered in the raising of funds, federations are performing a greater service in promoting team work among the organizations.

Many committees are making their chest organizations the community mind and voice through which citizens discharge their obligations to the sick and needy. Each year the list of Community Chest cities increases. Hardly a week passes without an inquiry from city that contemplates the inauguration of a Federation or Chest. South Bend is giving them the benefit of her experience.

Three Large Stills Are Seized in Liquor Raid

Federal Prohibition Enforcement Agent Harry Mathers and Deputy Golt, yesterday seized one of the largest illegal liquor plants uncovered here for prohibition officials.

The whiskey plant was owned and operated by Kasimir Kolczynski, and was situated in the cellar of a barn on rural route No. 1, about four miles north of North Liberty.

When the officers arrived they found a 49 gallon still, one 35 gallon still and a 30 gallon still, all in operation. They seized 21 gallons of whiskey and 300 gallons of mash.

Kolczynski was held in $1,000 bonds for appearance this morning.

Fire Chief Tells Public How To Aid in the Clean-Up and Safety Campaign Which Opens on Sunday

Carelessness, according to Chief Sirel of the fire department, is the cause of the great majority of fires in this city and elsewhere. Instances of such carelessness were cited by him in an interview on the clean-up and safety campaign which will be held in South Bend, April 30 to May 6, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, civic organizations and the city administration.

"In 1920," he said, "there was in the United States a loss by fire of $500,000,000 and 15,000 lives—and most of that was due to carelessness. We have cases of it constantly—lighted cigar stubs thrown about promiscuously, the careless use of gasoline, gas irons, and oil lamps."

"Not so very long ago we were called to a residence where a woman had been washing a silk waist in a pan of gasoline. Instead of sopping the waist gently up and down she had rubbed it, and the friction soon caused a blaze, and considerable damage resulted."

Recalls Incident. "Another woman had cleaned some white gloves with gasoline. She then put them on and held her hands over the gas stove to dry them hurriedly. As a result she spent eight weeks with her hands bandaged and someone else feeding her. The death of one person resulted from another fire in the city which had been started by the careless use of gasoline. A woman had a large tub of the gasoline in which she was cleaning a woolen sweater. The tub was placed under a lighted gas jet with the result that there was an explosion and several persons severely injured, one of them fatally."

"Kindling fires with gasoline or kerosene, polishing a hot stove, allowing oily rags or floor mops to lie around—these are the easiest and quickest ways of starting a blaze which may be very difficult to extinguish."

City Fairly Clean. "The people of the city can do much to prevent fires if they do only think before they do the things which are so foolish and so dangerous. On the whole, South Bend from the fire safety standpoint, is cleaner than a great many cities its size. Recently when 365 buildings in a mercantile and garage district
