Fish at Diamond Lake No Trouble To 'Rake In' Now

Hundreds of Finny Tribe Die After Eating Sand Flies, and Float on Surface.

CASSOPOLIS, Mich., May 25.—Hundreds and hundreds of dead fish floating in the waters of Diamond lake, two miles from here, has attracted the attention of many South Bend cottage owners and fishermen from all parts of Northern Indiana and Southern Michigan. No investigation has been made as to the cause of the fish dying, but in every section of the lake, large blue gills, rock bass and an occasional large perch have been seen floating on the surface. One South Bend fisherman declared he caught more fish Thursday than ever before on Diamond lake. He caught them with a rake in front of his cottage and pulled in several bushels full.

Sand Flies Blamed. Resident fishermen believe that a huge swarm of sand flies, which swooped down earlier in the week, are responsible for the fish dying. The sand flies are said to be injurious to fish and the general belief is that the finny tribe ate their way to death. The flies are an exceedingly popular resort for South Bend people and is particularly noted for the excellence of the fish obtained in the waters there. The lake is spring fed, and cold fish caught there have a splendid reputation.

One cat fish was found floating on the surface, and an adroit waiter after surveying the sight declared: "It must be a powerful poison that got these beauties. If it killed a cat-fish."

MARKET SUMMARY

NEW YORK, May 26.—Again the movement of prices on the New York Stock exchange demonstrated that nothing has happened to interfere with the primary upward course of the market. Stocks completely threw aside today the uncertainty which characterized their fluctuations earlier in the week and there was a general trend forward almost from the start of trading. While the advance was orderly in the market as a whole, the uprush became quite violent in issues like Mexican Petroleum and Studobaker.

Will Give Decision in Sears Case Next Friday

Judge Chester DuComb, before whom was held the preliminary hearing yesterday of Harry Sears, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, postponed final decision as to the disposition of the case until next Friday.

Sears, who was formerly a solicitor for the A. E. F. newspaper, "Sears and Stripes," is charged with having collected money in the name of the publication and failed to turn it in after his authority as an agent for the company publishing the periodical had been cancelled. Sears is said to have acquired a number of checks in payment for subscriptions, endorsed them and had them cashed at different hotels and business houses where he was known.

Payment on the checks was ordered stopped when it was learned that Sears was no longer an authorized representative of the "Stars and Stripes," and the business men and hotel keepers who had cashed his checks instituted legal proceedings against him.

In addition to the troops from South Bend and Mishawaka, representatives from Elkhart, Niles, Mich., and St. Joseph, Mich., troops are also expected to be present.

INVESTMENT SHARES IN UPWARD TREND

Uncertain Movements, However, Feature Day's Session at New York.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Recent conflicting and uncertain movements in the stock market were resumed Friday. The trend among leaders and investment shares are mainly upward, however, on large dealings, to which the shorts made enforced contributions.

Prospective freight rate reductions and lower prices quoted for some essential commodities seemed to exercise less adverse influence, and efforts of bear cliques to depress quoted values on the utterances of the British premier met with indifferent success.

Further lack of interest was manifest in utilities, equipments, coppers and kindred issues, but the strength of United States Steel was associated with the address of Elbert H. Gary, before the members of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Secondary or low priced rails again led the transportation list to materially higher levels. Striking features of that group comprised Lake Erie and Western, common and preferred, St. Paul, Wheeling and Lake Erie preferred and New Haven. Oils made substantial headway on the high priced quotation for domestic oils. Sales amounted to $1,250,000 shares.

Money market opened at 3 1/2 per cent rising to 4 per cent at midday and 5 per cent in the last half hour, the advance being attributed to calling of loans by local banks. Time rates were unchanged, but available supplies for the longer maturities were scanty.

Brokers reported moderately heavy sales of bills on London for speculative account following the receipt of cables outlining Lloyd George's speech on events at Geneva.

WHEAT DROPS BUT MARKET IS UNSETTLED

CHICAGO, May 26.—Big receipts here and a corresponding contraction in wheat declines Friday in the price of May wheat, but failed to keep down values for later months. The market closed unsettled at 26 net lower to 1/2 cent advance, with May $1.26 1/2 to $1.28 1/2, and July $1.22 1/2 to $1.25. Corn finished unchanged to 1/2 higher, out up 1/2 to 3/4, and provisions varying from 7/8 off to a rise of 7/8.

Rapidly accumulating stocks of old wheat in Chicago with demand for the grain seeming to have lost all its urgency, which prevailed earlier in the week was generally accepted by traders as a sufficient reason for new set backs which took place in the price of May wheat.

General lessening of selling pressure in the wheat market became evident near the end of the day, bears showing signs of being somewhat nervous, possibility of surprise developing.
