

Women's Golf Tourney Opens at Chain o' Lakes Tuesday

LARGEST ENTRY IN HISTORY OF MEET READY FOR EVENT

Fine Prizes Attract Women Stars of Association for Annual Invitation Tourney.

The women of the South Bend Country club will be hostesses Tuesday to the visiting women members of the St. Joseph Valley Golf Association in the annual Chain o' Lakes invitation tournament. Mrs. F. E. Whitehall and her committee have gathered a wonderful list of prizes which is attracting the largest entry ever recorded for a woman's golf event in the Valley.

Joseph is sending a large delegation as well as Mishaewski, Elkhardt, Goshen, Laporte, Buchanan, Niles and Benton Harbor. South Bend will enter between twenty and thirty players in the big tournament and should rule favorites for the top honors. Mrs. W. K. Morrison, the present Valley title holder, is at the top of her game and will be out to repeat her successes of last year.

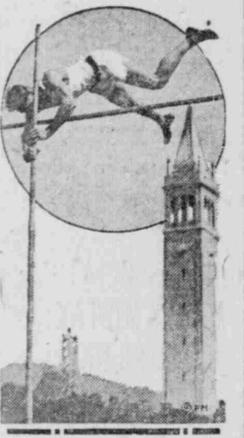

Mrs. Reynolds in Form.

Mrs. J. F. Reynolds, local club champion, will be another South Bend ace for the feature honors as well as Mrs. H. P. Rostler, Laura Harris, Mrs. H. L. Cooper, Mrs. W. J. East and Mrs. H. E. Marshall. This will be an 18 hole medal handicap event, the first nine holes of play to be the qualification round in order to determine the classification of the various players. After the players have been classified the remaining nine holes will be played, and the total score for the 18 holes will determine the final standing of the contestants in each class. Following is the list of prizes that will be awarded to the winner.

Five Prizes Offered.

Stanford Vaulter Makes Record Hop For Photographer

William Black of Stanford university pole-vaulted 150 feet into air, if you take this photograph's word for the feat he performed.

That is to say, the University of California campaign is 150 feet high, and the picture shows Black with his feet—apparently—just ready to land on its roof.

The truth is that the photographer snapped his camera just as Black was atop the bar and happened also to include the campaign, some 400 feet in the background. It was the snarshot man's position which made his record look so perfect.

The pole-vault, as a matter of sober fact, was 12 feet, 9 inches.

"BABE" ADAMS STILL IN MAJORS BECAUSE OF CAREFUL LIVING

Claims Success Is Due to Using Pitching Head and Not Arm.

BY ROY GROVE.

"A ball player has lots of time in which he can do himself harm. A fellow can't disregard nature and get away with it. He can kid himself along for a while, but finally he'll snap.

"There are certain laws that everybody has to live by. They came with mankind, just like directions on a package. They must be minded to enable a fellow to deliver consistently."

Those are Babe Adams' views. He has lived accordingly. In years he's an old man—for baseball. As a player he's among the youngest. What's more, he's pitching—the branch of service in which they wear out fastest.

"I don't know how I do it," says Babe. "Just simply go ahead and do it, that's all."

Wise Old Saw.

"That's a wise old crack about youth will be served. A fellow my years has to dig some to get by the young chaps. The youngster's got it and you can't do much against it. And most of them are setting by just because they're young, that's all. The pitching game isn't what it used to be. In my day, I used to have to sit down and figure out the different things that go to make pitching, and then go out and practice them hard. The young pitcher today can pick the game up in a few weeks. He has two or three coaches, with modern methods of tricks and systems and so forth, that have been accumulated through years of experience. That's the reason I think they crack so fast. They don't get the right seasoning during youth to stand the grind of years."

Made That Way.

"But most of it is just natural ability. A fellow simply has just got to be made that way.

"It's not so much the old pitching arm that's twenty century days as it is the pitching head. After all, it's the noodle that throws the ball, not the wing. There are some fellows I can throw a high inside ball to and they won't touch it, and then let some other pitcher come up and do the same thing, and that same player'll knock it out the top.

"If a fellow were to stop thinking out there in the box and resort to strength, he'd darn soon find out he was losing all his friends."

Live Right or You Can't Deliver

"Babe" Adams, veteran of many years, explains his ability to stay under the big tent as due to his manner of living, acting and thinking. His long years of success are a standing proof of the correctness of his theory.

FLYNN GREATEST FIGHT PROMOTER HAS BEST STABLE

Has Best System in Game for Managing Box Fighters of Today.

BY LEO P. FLYNN.

Manager of the Flann Stable of Fighters in America. (Written for the International News Service.)

NEW YORK, June 10.—Those unfamiliar with the intricacies of ring affairs have an idea that all fight managers do more of their business in haphazard fashion—and on the cuff. Perhaps some do follow that system, but in my own particular case I operate in the same way as does a big commercial concern.

Mine is an office, neat but not gaudy; it is fairly well peopled with clerks, stenographers, multigraphing machines, addressographing and all those trick appliances. Likewise it has a file system which embraces the complete up-to-date record of every fighter, fight manager, fight promoter and fight club in the world. My exchange list of newspapers, perhaps is as great as that of any newspaper itself. One man is employed in my office to clip every item which concerns fights and fighters. Likewise he handles the card index. By the use of it I can get at a moment's notice the full history of every man; names of men he has fought, result of battles, number of knockdowns, strength and weakness of each fighter—everything.

System Is Great Aid.

The system is of valuable aid. It has helped me a hundred times in making matches for my men. By its use I am guarded against bad matching.

I decided upon the index soon after I became a fight manager. A sad experience brought about that determination.

I had corralled a rather promising youngster, who, however, was still somewhat "green" and needed seasoning. I was offered a fight for him against a youngster that I hadn't heard anything about—simply because I hadn't been paying much attention to that particular youngster's records. I thought he was a dub, but that stranger knocked out my boy in two rounds and practically ruined his career.

If I had been reading the papers and looking up all available records, I would have discovered that the boy who fought mine had risen from obscurity to greatness overnight; that he was a punching terror and had beaten some truly great fighters within a period of three months before he met my novice and I then, of course, would have dodged the unfair match.

No More Napping.

They haven't caught me napping since. When a fight is offered one of my boys I turn to my card index and can tell at a glance just how good or bad the challenger is. A half minute's study of the card which bears his name tells me all there is to know about him. I need look no further.

The chief duty of my life is to keep my boys happy—which means keeping them busy earning money. How well I've succeeded I couldn't say definitely without looking at my records. But I don't think it's any stretch of facts to state that the fighters under my management have earned close to $1,000,000 in a little more than two years.

And, mind you, I haven't a world's champion in my barn.

Bill Brennan, the heavyweight, gathered in nearly $70,000 in six or seven months; Dave Shade, 19 years old, the kid who fought a draw with Jack Britton, has gathered in close to $50,000 since February. "Panama" Joe Gans, who earned an average of $1,500 a year, bought a $15,000 house and has plenty of money in the bank. He's been with me only a little more than a year.

"Kid" Norfolk, the negro light heavy, could retire now and not worry much about pork chops during the rest of his life. Billy Sharr hasn't performed as sensationally in America as he did in Australia. And he hasn't fought so often. Yet Billy has gathered in about twice as much under my management as he did before.

Pete Hobin, the Belgian welterweight, was in America three months ago and couldn't get a fight. He asked me to manage him two months ago. Since then he has made $5,000 and looks like a sure earner of $15,000 to $20,000 a year.

Makes Long Voyage In Sixteen Footer From Tampa to N. Y.

Capt. C. D. Hilton is on his way from Tampa Bay to Long Island Sound in a 16-foot sailing yacht.

He must brave the choppy waves of the Florida straits and the swells of the Atlantic in this frail craft, with bottom boards only half an inch thick, without a motor and with only a paddle to fall back on in case he should lose his canvas. The voyage is about 3,000 miles. It he comes through he will be the first sailor to have accomplished such a feat.

Nevertheless, the captain is confident of success. He sailed on May 21 and expects to reach his destination in about 30 days from that date.

CUTTERS WIN AND MOVE INTO SECOND PLACE IN LEAGUE

Industrial Teams Stage Slugging Matches in Games Yesterday.

Defeat of the Dodge Co. baseball team by the fast Cutler aggregation, 15 to 6, yesterday afternoon at the Dodge park, dropped the losers into fourth place in the Industrial League and advanced the Cutters into second place. The Studebaker Plant 1 performers having played one more game than the Cutters to date.

Slugging honors went to Brad, Ruppel, Boite and Clausen of the Cutler unit, and Clausen and Zietler, first and third sackers for the Cutters, starred on the defensive. Both pitchers were given good support though Zentz was hit hard in three different innings.

On next Saturday the Cutters will meet the Studebaker Plant 2 nine at Dodge Park.

Score by innings:

Cutters ... 15 0 0 0 0 0—15 18 2
Dodge Co. ... 0 0 0 15 0 0—6 10 3
Stanley and Garvey; Zentz and Morse.

Studebaker No. 1 Win.

Doubling their opponent's tallies and adding one for good measure the Studebaker No. 1 baseballers romped on the late work's team, 15 to 7, yesterday afternoon. Efforts of the Lathe Workers to win the day in the fourth, seventh and ninth innings proved unavailing when the Studies turned invincible in the last three sessions.

Score by innings:

Studebaker ... 10 0 0 11 5—15 11 2
Lathe Works ... 100 200 201—7 11 5
Powell, W. Grabowski and A. Grab; Kober and Kubiak.

Plant No. 2 Also Victorious

The Bell Telephone Co. team proved easy picking for the Studebaker No. 2 aggregation yesterday afternoon when the auto makers walked away on the long end of a 14 to 3 score. A two point rally in the ninth inning by the Phone Co. performers came too late.

Score by innings:

Studebaker ... 031 010 054—14 13 2
Phone Co. ... 100 000 002—3 6 5
C. Foster and Pierce; Hepler and Witwer; Rostler.

CLASS B STANDARDS WIN

In the Class B Industrial league, the Studebaker No. 3 lost a hard-fought game to the Standard Oil batsmen on the Studebaker diamond yesterday by a 10 to 9 tally. McCorty, Stude moundsman, held the Standards to five hits and four runs until the last of the eighth, when two hits and four errors netted the latter six runs.

A home run by Carter of the Studebakers and two base hits by Morrill of the Standards and Murry of the Standards were batting features.

Score by innings:

Studebaker ... 200 011 065—10 7 8
Standard Oil ... 200 160 008—9 17 8
O'Hara, Daniels and Heatherson; McCorty, Buckman.

RUTH GETS SIXTH HOMER; YANKS WIN

Browns Defeated, 14 to 5—Pitchers Mays and Shocker Have Fight.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—(By A. P.)—Miller Higgins wrecking crew, the Yankees, walked the Browns, 14 to 5, Saturday, in a game featured by Ruth's sixth homer, a circuit drive by Pipp and a near fight between Pitchers Carl Mays and Urrban Shocker. Shocker, in pitching to Mays, tossed three close ones to the batter's head when Mays taunted his opponent. Mays rushed toward Shocker and threatened to fight. Umpires stopped them. Witt followed Mays at bat and ducked a close one which started a rumpus. Police and umpires interfered. Phil Ball, owner of the Browns, was hit over the right eye with a foul ball off Robertson's bat. While he was cut severely, physicians said the injury would not prove dangerous.

New York ... 026 020 000—14 19 1
St. Louis ... 200 000 300—5 12 3
Mays and Devermer; Shocker, Rayne and Severeid, Collins.

GIANTS WIN OUT IN LAST INNING

Champions Raise Pennant and Then Grab Ninth Inning Victory from Reds.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The New York Nationals raised their world's championship flag here today and then pulled off a sensational ninth inning victory from Cincinnati by a score of 3 to 2. George Burns was presented a diamond studded platinum watch with a jeweled chain, a gift from the officers of the Giants, and a silver cigarette case from local sporting writers. Judge Landis presided at both presentations and took part in the parade before the game, in which John Heydler, president of the National League and the National League club owners marched to the centerfield flag pole. Keck, a Cincinnati youngster, held the world's champions to four hits in eight innings and weakened in the ninth. Score:

Cincinnati ... 100 010 000—2 6 1
New York ... 000 000 003—3 7 1
Keck and Wingo; Douglass, Causey and Snyder.

TIGERS JUMP INTO FOURTH POSITION

Victory Over Washington Puts Fighting Detroit Team in First Division.

DETROIT, Mich., June 10.—La Motte's error, a fielder's choice, and singles by Cobb and Veach gave Detroit a 5 to 4 victory in ten innings over Washington today. The Tigers went into fourth place as a result, displacing Cleveland. Hedman hit his ninth home run of the season in the seventh inning. Score: Washington ... 200 000 020—4 8 1

CLUB MAKER FALLS FOR SHAF

The other day at the Westchester-Biltmore Country club, Cuthbert Butcher, the world's great club maker, and a party of week end golfers were discussing the barring of steel shafted clubs from a club.

One of the party had a set of steel shafted clubs with him, and had just finished playing a round. His improved driving had caused other marked degree. In answer to the question he pulled out his steel shafted driver and exhibited it. Butcher took the club and wagged it about as pros do when ascertaining the weight and balance of a club. "Years ago," said he, "we experimented with steel shafts in Scotland, but had hardly gotten into the thing before the 'Royal and Ancient' put their taboo on them. What a pity it was, because we later we will all have to come to the steel shaft."

TURKS WANT TO SEE U. S. BALL GAMES

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 10.—Baseball teams from American destroyers of the Black sea fleet have been invited to stage a series of championship games this summer at Trebizond. A pennant for the winning team will be given by Turkish business men.

The invitation to the American sailors was sent to Admiral Mark Bristol, U. S. high commissioner at Constantinople. It was in the name of Gen. Hazim Bey, military commandant of Trebizond, and Prof. Morieu Bey, superintendent of the local schools. The municipal authorities plan the erection of an up-to-date baseball diamond close to the harbor, so that any sailors compelled to remain on board the destroyers may view the game from the decks, of their ships.
