

POETS' CORNER.

MARRIAGE "OLD HARRY."
When Harry was old, to Mary he said,
"My dear, if you please, we will marry."

REV. JOHN PIERPONT, writing upon the Telegraph, concludes thus:
A hero's life is laid down his pen,

VULGAR.
If I had a donkey as wouldn't go,
Do you think I'd whollop him, not not no!

REFINED.
If I had an animal averse to speed,
Do you think I'd chastise him? No, indeed,

THE DIFFERENCE.
When Barney told Bill
"Be was looking quite ill,"

HUMOROUS.

PADDY'S MISTAKE.
The colporteur is an authorized agent of the American Tract Society, sent into a given district of country, for the sale or gratuitous distribution of its tracts and other religious publications.

Officer—"Your servant, sir!"
Officer of the society—"Sir, your humble servant."

Officer—"Be go, I was just thinking that this must be a mighty fine country altogether for the grazin business—the cattle require so little fodderin, such fine weather as this."

Officer—"The country, friend, is a bounteous one; but man maketh not due return for the gifts unto him given."

Officer—"Well, to make a long story short, as Christy Casey said when he cut the tail of his pig, have you got a situation for me?"

Officer—"What situation seekest thou? The only situation we have open is that of colporteur. Its—"

Officer—"Stop, me owld gentleman—that's quite enough; don't put yourself to any unnecessary trouble of telling me what a coal-porter is; I spent seven long years at it in Dublin, and always carried two sacks at a time, Ishaw wasn't me father before me a coal-porter, and wasn't I born on Coal Quay meself. Tell me what a coal-porter is, indeed! Will you give me the situation of a coal-porter?"

Officer—"Young man I have given thee no cause of offence. You seem to misunderstand the nature of the duties required of the person whom we would employ. We want him to travel in the country, and to distribute our books and tracts among those who seek the light, but are in darkness."

Officer—"And you call such a one as that a coal-porter, do you?"

Officer—"I call him a colporteur, most certainly."

Officer—"Well, porsuinin' to me, but ye have read the Universal Spelling Book to little advantage don't that say—coal-porter, one who hands coal?—and now you'd be for convertin' a dyin' stationer—a fellow that a good sack of the Kilkenny demands would break his back—into a coal-porter. O'good mornin' to you, owld boy, put yer situation in your pocket and make tobacco of it. I'm willing to accept of any employment, but no one will ever see the son of Mick Mulligan gelavatin through the country with his book under his arm just as if he wor a poor scholar, what none of his breed ever was. Good mornin' sur."

"Good morning, friend," said the officer thinking he had got rid of a queer customer and puzzled to divine what it was at which he had got so angry.—Albany Dutchman.

A YANKEE TRICK.
Uncle Eb, as we used to call him, a young lout of good qualities, had a failing. He did love good liquor, but such was the state of his credit that no one would trust him. He therefore resorted to a trick, to answer the great desire of his appetite. He took two bottles, then a quart of water into one of them, then put a bottle in each pocket, and started for the store.

"I'll take a quart of rum," said Uncle Eb, as he placed the empty bottle on the counter.

"This is nothing but tin, Uncle Eb," said the trader.

"It's tin," said the trader. "I shan't take it."

"Very well, you can't have the rum," Uncle Eb, without much demurring, pulled from his pocket the quart of water. The trader took it poured it into his rum barrel and off walked Uncle Eb chuckling.

As a minister and a lawyer were riding together, says the minister to the lawyer—

"Sir do you ever make mistakes in pleading?"

"I do," says the lawyer.

"And what do you do with mistakes?" inquired the minister.

"Why, sir, if large ones, I mend them; if small ones, I let them go," said the lawyer.

"And pray sir, continued he, do you ever make mistakes in preaching?"

"Yes, sir, I have."

"And what do you do with mistakes?" said the lawyer.

"Why, sir I dispose of them in the same manner as you do. I rectify the large and let the small ones go. Not long since," continued he, "as I was preaching, I meant to observe that the devil was the father of liars, but made a mistake and said the father of lawyers. The mistake was so small that I let it go."

We find the following afloat in the papers—

"What is a slur?"

"Almost any remark one singer makes about another."

"What is a rest?"

Why so my daughter? Because, he always stares at me so hard when he meets me in the street.

Why, because I have repeatedly seen him do it.

Well, Julia, don't you ever look at that impudent man again when you meet him, and then he may stare his eyes out, without smothering you in the least.

Were you present, and did you see the prisoners at the bar strike Mr. Jones? asked an attorney of a witness in a recent suit.

Yes, sir! I didn't nothing else, and he struck him a purpose, too, for I seed him, I did, and I'm gwine to swear all about it, too, for he tried to buy me off for a dollar and seventy-five cents, but I just told him old Josey Rouse didn't swear to no lies for a dollar and seventy-five cents, by a jug full, and if my edification warn't worth two dollars, he might go to thunder, and I'd out with the whole story and more too, if Jones wanted it.

The editor of the Knickerbocker judiciously illustrates the necessity of a reform in medical nomenclature. Very much confounded, he says, was our friend Dr. Doane, a few years since, by a remark of one of his patients. The day previous the Doctor had prescribed that safe and palatable remedy the syrup of buckthorn, and had left his prescription duly written in the usual cabalistic character.

An editor out in Iowa says that they don't brag of the size of their babies, but they are a most uncommon sure crop.

For the Removal and Permanent Cure of all NERVOUS DISEASES, And of those Complaints which are caused by an impure, weakened or unhealthy condition of the BILIOUS SYSTEM.

Dr. Christie's Galvanic Belt and MAGNETIC FLUID. Is used with the most perfect and certain success in all cases of General Debility, strengthening the weakened body, giving tone to the various organs, and invigorating the entire system.

A DERANGEMENT OF THE NER. SYSTEM. In Nervous Complaints, Diseases and Melancholy increase the disease, for they weaken the vital force, and the already prostrated system; while under the strengthening, life-giving, vitalizing influence of Galvanism, as applied by this beautiful and wonderful discovery, the exhausted patient and weakened sufferer is restored to former health, strength, elasticity and vigor.

Dr. Christie's Galvanic Remedies, Consists in the fact that they arrest and cure diseases by outward application, in place of the usual mode of drugging, and physicking the patient, till exhausted. Nature sinks hopelessly under the infliction.

They strengthen the whole system, equalize the circulation of the blood, promote the secretion, and never do the slightest injury under any circumstances. Since their introduction in the United States, only three years since, more than 70,000 Persons, including all ages, classes and conditions, among which were a large number of ladies, who are peculiarly subject to Nervous Complaints, have been ENTIRELY AND PERMANENTLY CURED, when all hope of relief had been given up, and everything else had been tried in vain.

To illustrate the use of the Galvanic B. B., suppose the case of a person afflicted with that same civilization, Dyspepsia, or any other Chronic or Nervous Disorder. In ordinary cases the nerves and muscles of the stomach, afford temporary relief, but which leave the patient in a lower state, and with mixed faculties, after the action thus excited has ceased. Now compare this with the effect resulting from the application of the Galvanic Belt. Take a Dyspeptic sufferer, even in the worst symptoms of an attack, and apply the Belt around the body, using the Magnetic Fluid as directed. In a short period the insupportable oppression will act on the positive element of the Belt, thereby causing a Galvanic circulation which will pass on to the negative, and thence back again to the positive, thus keeping up a continuous Galvanic circulation throughout the system. Thus the most severe cases of Dyspepsia are permanently cured. A few days is amply sufficient to eradicate the disease of years.

STRANGE ENOUGH! I have disposed of all the Galvanic Belts with the exception of two, and the results have been most successful. I beg you will send me a new supply immediately. A young man in town adjoining had been out of health for a long time, and unable to do any work at all. He tried the "Regulars" until they completely physicked his pockets as well as his system. He then concluded to try a Belt, and his parents and friends besought him to take off the Belt—and it soon made him worse, &c., but he kept it on, and the next day went to taking, and has worked hard every day since.
