McCOWEN IS FOR BRYAN.

Prominent Salem Gold Democrat Declares for the Ticket.

O. W. McCowen, of Salem, one of the most bitter of Bryan's enemies in the campaign of 1896, and a strong supporter of the gold democratic ticket, has announced his intention of supporting Bryan and Stevenson this year.

He said he: "The Kansas City platform is thoroughly patriotic, substantially sound and has the true democratic ring touching the policy of the republic for the future. The money question in view of the statute now on the books and the political status of the senate, is, to all intents and purposes, eliminated from the campaign, thus enabling the gold democracy to unite with the regular organization and assist in the overthrow of Hannamism next November."

Mr. McCowen's Speeches.

The democratic state committee has arranged for many meetings for next week, but the list is carefully guarded at state headquarters. Chairman Martin is completing the itinerary of William J. Bryan for Oct. 5 and 6, immediately following the national convention of democratic clubs. On the night of Oct. 4, after his speech at Tomlinson hall before the clubs, he will go to Lebanon for a night meeting, returning afterward to Indianapolis. He will leave Indianapolis on a special train at 7 o'clock in the morning of Oct. 5, speaking at Noblesville, Tipton, Ellettswood, Alexandria, Marion, Hartford City and Muncie during the day. At night he will address a big meeting at the fair grounds at Anderson. The amphitheatre, which will seat 4,000, will be lighted with electricity. After the meeting Mr. Bryan will return to Indianapolis, spend the night there and start out on the second day's itinerary bright and early.

"Gen. Apathy" continues to sway his scepter in this state, notwithstanding the election is only six weeks off. Republicans claim that the people are prosperous and contented and are not willing to be "worked upon," while the democrats say that apathy always is an ominous indication for the party in power.

At an informal conference at the Grand hotel, Indianapolis, where many leading democrats were gathered, many alleged indications of democratic success were pointed out. Some leaders asserted that McKinley will lose 8,000 temperance votes in Indiana, owing to his stand on the canteen question. The democratic state managers are relying on republican dissensions to enable them to carry Marion county. Neither old party state organization furnishes evidence of having any considerable sum of money at its command, but it is expected that the "barrels" will be tapped within a few weeks.

HOW FRIENDS WILL VOTE.

Claimed They Will Withdraw Support From Republicans.

Indianapolis News: "I think that with few exceptions the members of the Friends' Society in this state will vote the prohibition ticket this year," said John J. Rochford, democrat. "Of course, there are bound to be exceptions, but the rule is going to hold good. Mark my word."

Mr. Rochford has just returned from a sojourn in Morgan county, near Monrovia, where there is a large settlement of Friends. He reports that practically every voter in that section has announced his intention of voting the prohibition ticket. This position is not taken by the Friends on account of President McKinley's attitude toward the canteen, but there is a widespread feeling among the society that the present administration favors carrying on warfare. The Friends, Mr. Rochford asserts, abhor war, and, while they do not feel that they can support Mr. Bryan, they will withdraw their support from the republican ticket entirely.

It is reported in political circles that the Friends' settlements in Wayne county and in the Sand Creek district of Bartholomew county have assumed the same attitude in the present campaign.

Council Proceedings.

Council met in regular session with all present but W. H. Hess, attorney. Hollman's addition petitioned for lighting, which was referred to the committee on light.

J. H. Mitchell's petition to pile brick and stone in the street for building purposes was granted.

Finance report showed amount on hand, $3,912; bills paid, $1,548.55. Ordinance No. 252 was read the third time and adopted. This ordinance was in regard to tax levy, which was made as follows:

General purposes.....$ 85
Water works bonds.....32
School house bonds.....03 1/2

Total.....$1 20 1/2
Thereby making the levy $1 20 1/2 per hundred. Three cents higher than last year.

Resolution on sidewalks was passed and all defective sidewalks ordered repaired at once.

Too Smooth for Shadel.

John P. Hanson, the musical director of the "Midnight Bell" company, which appeared at Dowling's theatre Saturday night, proved himself a smooth individual when he escaped the clutches of Constable Wallace Smith, who was trying to serve a writ of attachment upon him to satisfy the claim of Charles Shadel, a Plymouth druggist, who arrived in the city Saturday and filed a complaint in Justice Newer's court, charging that Hanson had borrowed $26 from him about five years ago and had never paid it back.—Logansport Reporter.

To Shorten School Hours.

In many places over the state there is a growing sentiment in favor of fewer hours for children. Many authorities think it is harmful for children to go to school for eight or nine months and spend so many hours daily in the schoolroom. This applies especially to the younger pupils in the first three or four years of school. It is claimed many children are unable to stand the long seasons and their health is often permanently injured. The short hour plan prevails in Plymouth.

Music Box at Ross House.

John Bowel has placed in the Ross house a new Regina Corona music box. It is an improvement over anything of the kind ever seen in Plymouth, in that it is a self feeder. There are twenty-four selections of music and as it furnishes one piece, the mechanism of the box is such that another is brought in place, without any assistance of an operator as is necessary with instruments not so improved.

Check for Indiana War Expenses.

Governor Mount has received a check from the war department at Washington, amounting to $44,382.50, as part payment to the state for fitting out soldiers during the Spanish-American war. These amounts have been coming to the state from time to time, as the various claims have been allowed by the United States government.

Extra copies of the Head Light are on sale at this office. The supply is limited, so all desiring copies should send in soon.

trustee; Benjamin Curtis, assessor; L. C. Dillon, Frank Overmyer and Leonard Wilson, members of the township advisory board.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cooper, of Akron, Ohio, returned home today after visiting the Whites and Yorks of this county.

The democrats of Tipton will have a big rally October 20. Senator John W. Daniel, of Virginia, and B. F. Shively, of South Bend, will be the principal speakers.

At the conference held at democratic national headquarters in Chicago, Monday, it was definitely decided to make a determined effort to carry New York for Mr. Bryan.

Julius Rowley, of Rochester, chairman of the democratic committee, and member of the congressional committee is here today attending the meeting of the democratic congressional committee.

Wm. Martin has bought a half interest in the Peter Disher grocery. Mr. Martin has had some experience in the business, having worked for Venable for about two years. His friends all wish him success.

J. L. Windbigler, of Labett, Kan., returned home this morning after visiting his cousin, John Windbigler, for a few weeks. Mr. Windbigler had some fine specimens of Kansas corn which he was showing to his friends here.

Mrs. William Fletcher, wife of William Fletcher, a prominent merchant of Knox, dropped dead early Tuesday morning from heart failure. She had been ill only about a day. She was 33 years of age, and leaves a husband, an aged mother and one brother.

The meeting of the democratic clubs at Indianapolis next week bid fair to give quite an impetus to democratic campaigning in Indiana. It is estimated that something like 50,000 democrats will participate in the grand demonstration. Mr. Bryan is among the noted speakers for the occasion.

Another exodus of Dunkards from northern Indiana to South Dakota is being planned. Rev. Ira P. Eby, a minister of the Dunkard church at North Manchester, is at Poplar Bluff, Mo., where he is negotiating the purchase of a tract of 5,000 acres of land in the southeast part of South Dakota.

Attorney General Taylor, in an opinion, says there will have to be four forms of ballots in each county because of the candidates for county council.

The three candidates at large on each ticket will appear only on ballots made for that particular district. The form of ballots will be alike except as to the names of candidates.

The democrats of Logansport are arranging to give a barbecue, Oct. 18. It is announced from Logansport that Bourke Cockran, Senator Daniels, of Virginia, and Samuel Aleschler, candidate for governor of Illinois, will speak.

At the state committee, Secretary Hawkins said he was not certain that Crokan would speak at any other point in Indiana except in that city.
