MEETING DATE CHANGED.

St. Joseph County Democracy Has Notified Peter J. Krueyer of Willingness to Change.

The date for holding the Thirteenth district convention will be changed from January 8 to January 2, in so much as the St. Joseph county democracy has notified Chairman Peter J. Krueyer that a change in the date of holding the district convention to January 2, in conformity with the call of the state committee would be agreeable. Mr. Krueyer has stated that he would make this change if requested to do so by the St. Joseph county democracy. As that request has been made, Mr. Krueyer will change his call to conform to the plan of the state central committee.

Goshen Democrat Is Right.

In view of the fact that it will greatly facilitate matters and keep the program in order with other districts of the state, it is to be hoped that the St. Joseph county democracy will ask Mr. Krueyer to call the meeting for January 2. Then the new district chairman can go to Indianapolis in person January 5, and participate in the organization of the new state committee as he should. The St. Joseph county democracy can celebrate Jackson day whether the district meeting is held on that date or not. The Democrat has no censure for Mr. Krueyer or anybody else connected with the matter, but it is evident that a mistake has been made and in order to correct matters it would seem that the easiest way is for the St. Joseph county democracy to request Mr. Krueyer to call the meeting at South Bend for January 2. This will probably meet the approval of every democrat in the district. Many democrats from this district desire to attend the Jackson day celebration at Indianapolis.—Goshen Democrat.

We are pleased to state that the St. Joseph county democracy has already decided that the date should be changed and has requested Mr. Krueyer to do so. The matter was taken up with the St. Joseph county democracy by certain democrats of Marshall county and the democrats up there readily discerned that the date should be changed. There is nothing like being regular. Harmony is now assured.

Court Cases.

The case of John L. Thompson and Josephine Thompson vs. Platt B. Dickson, on judgment, was filed by Atty. Charles P. Drummond Monday morning.

The case of Norman E. Davis and John Fabian vs. David A. Swonger. The Marion Manufacturing Co., an Ohio corporation incorporated under the laws of the state of Ohio, for foreclosure of labor lien and for receiver, was filed by Atty. J. D. Chaplin Monday.

An application of an appointment of a guardian was filed by Atty. Samuel Parker Monday in the matter of the alleged unsoundness of mind of Amos Bigler. Petitioner Daniel M. Bigler.

Big Damage Case.

The case of Benjamin Turner, of Plymouth, against the South Bend Construction company and the city of South Bend, has been taken to Laporte on a change of venue. The action is for $15,000 damages, and the trial in Laporte county will be the second hearing of the case. The jury at the first trial gave Turner judgment for $8,000 damages. An appeal was taken to the supreme court where a new trial was granted the defendants on error, and when the case was remanded to the lower court the change of venue was granted.

Death of Lyle Bachman.

Lyle, the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bachman, who reside in West Plymouth, died Monday at 12 p. m., after an illness of three days with diphtheria.

Dr. Eley was summoned to the house last Saturday and seeing that the child had diphtheria, he immediately quarantined the family. The child was buried Tuesday at 10 o'clock at the Stringer cemetery.

Herbert, another son of the family, is reported very low with the same disease.

Attend Poultry Show.

Don't forget to attend the great poultry show to be held Dec. 24 to 28, 1901, in the corner room of the Hoban block, corner Laporte and Center streets. Admission, 10 cents; season tickets, 25 cents. If you have any good birds, bring them along. Entries close at noon Dec. 24 without fail. Have all entries in the hands of the secretary by that time. F. B. CAREY, Sec.

Another Cigarette Victim.

Fred Huggins, of Elkhart, well known as an athlete, died suddenly Tuesday of excessive cigarette smoking. He had been addicted to the habit for years and frequently would arise in the night, take a handful of "coffin nails" and smoke all of them before returning to bed.

L and M Rooms Are Closed.

The school board met Wednesday and decided to close L and M rooms of the Washington school. The little Bachman boy that died Sunday was taken sick with diphtheria at school and in so much as he was a pupil in M room, the board fearing that others may be exposed to the contagion, has decided to close the room for the time being. There are only two and one-half days until the Christmas vacation and it is thought that all danger will be passed by the time the schools open again after the vacation. Miss Mary Kendall is the teacher in L room and Miss Price in M room.

We are not aware as to whether there is danger of a spread of the contagion, but it would doubtless be better to dismiss all the schools at once until after the holidays. Diphtheria is a dreadful disease and every possible precaution should be taken and that precaution should be timely. The board has directed a postponement of the exercises that were to have been given by the pupils of these rooms this week.

Commissioners' Court.

The county commissioners met in a special session Monday for the purpose of considering the application of Clem Sausman, a feeble-minded youth, to examine and approve the bond of Wm. O'Keefe, treasurer elect of Marshall county, and to open the bids and let the contract for the official supplies for the county officers for the year 1902.

On account of the inclement weather the applicant of Clem Sausman could not be present and on account of his absence the board deferred action in his case until the regular meeting of the court.

On account of some other matters Wm. O'Keefe did not have his bond ready and the board deferred action on the same until Dec. 30, 1901.

The bids for the county supplies were let to the following:
Levey Bros. & Co., class 1, $611.96
D. McDonald & Co., class 2, 133.96
D. McDonald & Co., class 3, 224.50
Ball & Co., jail merchandise, 47.00

Proposed Legislation.

Not less than 10,000 church people in Indiana have signed petitions asking congress to legislate against polygamy. Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge have received the documents and had them referred in the regular way. The petitions ask that polygamy be made a crime punishable by the federal courts, and that as one of the penalties a man found guilty be disfranchised and made ineligible of holding any public office.

Burr Oak.

It should be remembered that everybody are invited to participate in the Christmas entertainments in Burr Oak at both the Church of God and the U. B. church.

Dr. Loring went to Plymouth Tuesday on business. He also calculates to make a visit to Oklahoma in a short time.

Miss Lizzie Brownlee Sundayed in Culver with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Myers and children will spend Christmas with friends at South Whitley, Ind.

Wm. Venderweele lost a valuable horse Monday.

David Fetters having sold his farm west of Burr Oak and bought another farm north of Plymouth, moved to same last week.

Rev. Taylor, of Culver, will preach in Burr Oak in the near future. The announcement will be made soon as determined.

Tyner Items.

Samuel Favrett will move to Nappanee and go into the hardware business with his brother, Eli Favrett.

Pearl Miller, grandson of Robert Beagles, Sr., whose parents reside at Gilroy, Cal., had two fingers cut off while working with some machinery in an electric light plant.

Peter Dribeliss has moved on the old Boese farm.

Frank Beard has rented Emanuel Boyer's farm and will take possession in a short time.

Emanuel Boyer has purchased the stock of dry goods and groceries of Yeager & Johnson, of Grovetown.

Mr. Stuck, of Rutland, Marshall county, has rented the Ford farm.

Isaac Miller attended the funeral of his only sister in Ohio last week.

Henry Jarrell is building a sheep barn.

Charlie Haag returned from the West last week.

Hope to Settle Dispute.

The trouble existing in the ranks of the 13th Indiana district democracy on account of the date selected by the district chairman, Peter Krueyer, of Plymouth, for the district convention will probably be settled by Mr. Krueyer immediately. Leading democrats of this county have addressed a communication to the chairman asking him to change the date from Jan. 8, to Jan. 2.

This leaves the matters in Chairman Krueyer's hands and unless he makes a change it is likely he will be further belabored by indignant members of the party not only in St. Joseph county, but all over the district—South Bend Tribune.

Health Board Attention.

The board of health should take greater precaution to guard against the spread of diphtheria. James Bachman, whose children have the diphtheria, was on the streets Wednesday. He says that he changes his clothes after leaving the sick room. This is not sufficient, as the germs of the disease can be carried in the hair as well as the clothing.

State Committee Call Recognized.

As stated in a former issue of the Daily Independent, the date of the Thirteenth district convention is changed to January 2, and will be held in South Bend in strict conformity to the call of the state central committee. The call signed by the state chairman and secretary stands as originally made for the Thirteenth district as well as for the other districts of the state.

Plymouth Boy Gets Prize.

Mr. Lindquist, the blacksmith, has received a letter from his son, John, who is practicing medicine at Lincoln, Ill. He says that at a bazaar given by the Deaconess Hospital at that place he was voted the most popular doctor of Lincoln by a good big majority. He received as a prize, a gold-headed cane valued at $15.

No Basis for Rumor.

It was rumored on the street this morning that Treasurer Elect O'Keefe has selected James Gilmore, Jr., for his deputy. The rumor is without foundation. Mr. Gilmore has not been an aspirant for this position and would not accept, if tendered, as he has a better position with the First National bank.

The Dream Came True.

Charles W. Gearhart, of South Bend, working in a sawmill, caught his coat on a setscrew and was whirled to his death. Last February he dreamed that he would be killed in this manner, and nothing could shake his belief but what the dream would come true.

Coughed Up a Pin.

Louise Engel, aged 14, of Laporte, coughed up a pin, which she swallowed two years ago. The case was a puzzle to the physicians. During the time that the pin remained in her body she was in poor health and was unable to lie on her back.

Donaldson Items.

Sol Miller, of Plymouth, was here Thursday evening.

Jonas Edwards and Ray Bennett were Donaldson visitors Thursday evening.

The masquerade dance, which was held here Saturday evening, was a success and all report a good time.

J. R. Miller, wife and daughter, Mrs. J. T. Stringer, went to Argos Wednesday morning to visit relatives and friends.

Henry B. Hall visited the schools in this town Thursday.

Miss Laura Pense, of near Plymouth, visited at the home of J. T. Stringer Monday and returned home Wednesday morning.

Work is progressing here on the double track. They have begun to lay the ties and rails.

James Edwards, of near this place, has purchased the Burgner property, better known as the Pearson property at this place.

William Kreighbaum, of South Bend, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Welborn, of near this place.

The lodge of this place will give an oyster supper at Russell's hall Thursday evening, Dec. 19. Everybody is cordially invited.

E. E. Jones, of near this place, who has been critically ill, is able to be about.

Messrs. and Mesdames Sherman Tuttle, Louis May and son, Mrs. Houser and Mr. Northcot arrived here Saturday afternoon to attend the funeral of their father, the late Cornelius Tuttle.

years. He was a well-known and respected citizen of this place. The funeral was held at the house Sunday, Dec. 15, at 10 a. m., Rev. Mattox officiating.

John Wolf, Frank Romley and Mrs. Joe English went to Linkville Sunday to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Katie Stuckey.

William Welborn and wife made a short visit at J. K. Miller's Friday.

J. T. Stringer made a business trip to Tyner Wednesday.

Tipperance Items.

The schools in this township close today (Friday) for a week's vacation.

Trustee Joseph T. Wood was confined to his house the first of this week with rheumatism.

Charles Waggoner, of Poe, Ind., is visiting his father, Oliver Waggoner, and other relatives.

John Ritter has rented the Hill farm in Walnut township near the Dunkard church and will take possession in April.

Keck brothers is the name of a new firm in our town. They are engaged in the manufacture of cigars. They use the room adjoining the butcher shop.

H. M. Hatley is clerking for James Vinnebeck at Plymouth.

Nora Gouchenour, of Barron, Wis., is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cole, at Tiptown.

Harry Shearer thinks of moving to South Bend and working in a bicycle shop.

Levi Bybee living in the southeast corner of the township will have a sale of his personal effects the last of this week. He intends to move to Oklahoma and live there permanently, as the climate agrees with his children, who are troubled with asthma. He has rented his large farm to Henry Flora.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

John Nyhart and wife went to South Bend this morning to consult an eye specialist in regards to Mrs. Nyhart's eyes.

The example set by the Linkenbelt Coal company in tendering ten tons of coal for the use of the needy in South Bend is worthy of all praise, and should open the hearts of others. Generosity of this sort affords genuine happiness to those who practice it.—South Bend Times.

The state will pay $317,000 more of its debt January 1, making in all $617,000 that has been paid during the present year. The amount of the state debt that may be paid at any time is $2,286,000. It is expected that this will be paid within a few years, as the revenues are in excess of the expenditures.

British agents are scouring the United States for horses to be shipped to South Africa for use in the war against the Boers. It is said that a $50 horse costs $450 by the time he is landed at his destination. It is claimed that the change in climate does not agree with the horses and that many of them die soon after reaching that country.

Indiana farmers are losing cattle by the hundreds by an ailment known as "runt," once supposed to be due to corn smut, but now ascribed to a germ next to the stalk where the blade joins.

Knox county has added many, many souls to cow heaven and the disease is growing common in other localities. Corn fodder piled in barns does not cause the disease, which is uniformly fatal. It has not become local.

The action of Peter J. Krueyer, chairman of the democratic district committee, in conforming to the date fixed by the state committee for the purpose of choosing a successor to himself, is a happy adjustment of a matter that had given rise to some controversy. He is to be commended for readily complying with the recommendation of those immediately interested. Little differences like these are easily adjusted when the proper course is pursued and a conciliatory spirit is manifested.—South Bend Times.

Telegraphic circles were a good deal excited today over the rumor that Henry C. Payne's appointment to the postmaster generalship might lead to a movement for government acquisition of all telegraphs. Western Union stock advanced two points in Wall street on the strength of the speculation. Mr. Payne has long been in favor of government ownership of telegraph lines, but it is not probable he will be able to promote much of a movement in that line while Postmaster General. This idea has been discussed at various times for fifteen or twenty years, and some sentiment in favor of it has developed, but he would be a bold man who would advocate purchase of existing telegraph lines at the valuation which their owners place upon them.—Walter Wellman in Chicago Record.

Attractive Christmas Display.
Frank Jacob, the grocer, has an attractive candy window and the store is decorated throughout with evergreens. He has an assortment of fruits and candies that is unusual for Plymouth even in the Christmas season. It is such efforts as this on the part of our merchants that make Plymouth a popular trading place for those seeking the best in Xmas goods.
