

that I must have an interview to-morrow, since I am to speak at the evening at Stenway hall, and what shall or shall not say will depend largely upon the result of the interview.

Brooklyn, Tuesday Evening, Jan. 2, 1872. My Dear Mr. Moulton: I send you V. W.'s letter to me and a reply, which I submit to your judgment.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I sent, on Friday of Saturday, a portrait of Tilton to the stars for you; I hope it may suit you.

Monday morning after Tilton had written a campaign in favor of Mr. Gray's election, Beecher discussed with me the position taken by Tilton.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

without justification, for which he had apologized, and by the advice of friends he prepared a card for me to submit to Beecher by his care.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

there are some slight allegations. The paragraph in the paper which was engaged in, and which I have now in my possession, I hope it will pass without further notice.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

THE JUVENILE DEATH-ROLL. INFANT MORTALITY.

A GLANCE AT SOME OF THE CAUSES AND THE MEANS BY WHICH IT MAY BE DIMINISHED.

The reports of the Board of Health of the city, that appear from week to week in the papers, show that during the summer months over one-half of the weekly deaths are of children of the age of five years, and under, and the annual report for 1873 shows that the number of deaths in the city of the ages above was 543.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

PITTSBURG FEMALE COLLEGE.

Elegant Buildings, Well-Selected Course of Study, Thorough Teaching, Eight Departments.

Twenty-eight Teachers, Superior advantages in Vocal and Instrumental Music (twelve teachers), Elocution, Drawing, and other branches. French and German by native teachers.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

BENHAM'S Musical Review.

A 32 page Monthly Magazine. Circulation, 120,000 copies annually.

The Review is devoted to Music, Art, Literature and its readers. It is second to none in popularity.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

MEDICAL SPECIALTIES.

Twenty-five Years Experience. MEDICAL OFFICE OF DR. ROSE.

No. 38 West Market Street, one square south of the North of Basin House.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

MERE MATTER OF ACCIDENT.

and chance, that no law governs infantile life and growth. It is not so in any other domain of nature.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

THE MANNER OF DRESSING CHILDREN.

by which their limbs are exposed or very slightly clad, may be mentioned as another and very common cause of infantile disease.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

CONCLUSION.

If there is any paper or fact supposed by either the parties, or by the committee, to be in any way prejudicial to the further progress upon the subject of your inquiry, I shall be most willing to produce it, if I have it, although I do not believe there is any such.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Kingston's Oswego Starch, wherever placed on exhibition by us in the United States, has received the highest premium, and at the World's Fair in Europe the jury of nations awarded it the prize medal in testimony of the highest grade of merit.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

A FITTING TESTIMONIAL.

A FRIEND'S TRIBUTE TO MISS FLORA HARDING—THE FUNERAL AT CHARLESTON.

Sir: As the sudden and mysterious death of Miss Flora Harding is exciting so much comment and attention from Indianapolis and other journals, a line from one who has known her long and well, may not be out of place at the present time.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

UPON ITS VICTIMS.

at such times under like misfortune. Miss Harding's tastes were literary; books were her companions, and teaching school—a labor she delighted in—was her occupation.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

GOOD HEALTH—HOW TO GET IT.

Take occasionally a few doses of HOLLAND'S German Bitters. It gives tone to the stomach, facilitates the digestion and assimilation of food, and cures indigestion, flatulency, and all the ailments which result from a disordered stomach.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.

My Dear Friend: I send you the only copy I have of my speech at the Academy of Music on Grant, and have marked the passage that you spoke about last night.

HER FUNERAL.

was largely attended at the residence of her step-father, Mr. John Morris, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Bunn, of Decatur, Ill., being the officiating clergyman.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

PERSISTENT INFRACTIONS.

of the vital laws. The function of teething is a natural process, as much so as the growth of the other bones of the body, and in a child healthfully reared is attended with no more disturbance of the system than the growth of horns in the head of the calf.

There is a paragraph in this note which needs a more explicit explanation. I had advised Mr. Beecher, in order that he might show that there was no unkindly feeling between him and Tilton, to publish in the Christian Union a resolution of the Golden Age.

My Dear Friend: I am writing while the train is in motion, which accounts for the apparent drunkenness of this shaken chronography.

My Dear Friend: I can't borrow any money for me now. I have no money at all.