Billy Carroll Again.

A row, which came near being serious in its results, took place at the old George street Engine house, in the Eighteenth Ward, about 2 o'clock to-day. Billy Carroll, the showman, who was assautted at the corner of Sixth and Vine streets last night, and Jim Robinson, son of the candidate for Mayor, drove up in a buggy, when some of the same crowd who attacked Carroll last night assaulted them, throwing a bowlder at Carroll's head, which narrowly missed him. Carroll then drew a six-shooter, cocked it and prepared to shoot, when he was prevented by Robinson, who drove rapidly away. The whole thing occurred in the space of three minutes.
