Two young men from a neighboring town, slightly under the influence of liquor, had their buggy partly demolished Saturday evening by remaining too long on the railroad track when the evening freight wanted to use the right of way for switching purposes. Engaged people should remember, that after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Bennettsville, S. Attacked By A Mob

George K. Howell, who was here from Tyrone, but now of the Indian Territory, was passing through Albia on the south bound Wabash train. While the train stopped at Albia a big pocket book was stolen from Mr. Hill. A couple of parties claimed to be looking for a pair of glasses which they said they had dropped into Mr. Hill's seat. He aided in the search, and when they had gone and the train was pulling out, he missed his pocket book which he carried in an inside vest pocket. He wore his vest unbuttoned and the parties had cleverly relieved him. The train was stopped and the pocket book found in the waiting-room of the depot, but $25 and a gold ring were missing from it and about $500 in drafts and notes was safe. Mr. Hill went his way on the next train feeling glad that he had recovered part of his property. Albia Republican.

According to a press dispatch from Bellevue, Neb., three fishermen are guarding with rifles 160 barrels of whiskey which are being recovered from the bottom of the Missouri river near that place. It is said that this booze deposit has lain for half a century in the hold of a wrecked steambot, which was sunk in 1852. After concealing the old boat under a covering of mud and sand for fifty-three years, the erratic old Missouri river has suddenly changed its course and has brought to light the wreck of the City of New Orleans, the finest boat which ever plied the waters of the lower Missouri. In the hold of the wrecked vessel lie the 160 barrels of whiskey—the oldest stock in the world and worth at the very least $100,000.

And it is good for their elders, too.

Ask your druggist for it.

The scenic railroad of Iowa is said to be the Cumberland branch of the Burlington out of Creston. They call the trains on the line "Jag Specials" because their course is so devious. Drummers get off on one side of Greenfield, sell a bill of goods and catch the train as it winds up the hill on the other side. No one thinks of tying his necktie on that branch. If he lets it alone the train will do it for him.

Cured Hemorrhage of The Lungs.

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake of Wood Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar, and my lungs are now as solid as a bullet. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." L. P. Van Werden.
