MAY BE LAST REUNION OF MEXICAN WAR VETERANS.

Of 78,000 Men Who Comprised Army of Invasion Only 3,000 Are Now Living.

Norfolk, Va., August 23.—What is believed to be the last of the national reunions that will be held by veterans of the Mexican war took place today at the Jamestown exposition. Of the 78,000 men who comprised the army that was sent to Mexico sixty years ago about 3,000 are still living. The average age of the survivors is 86 years and on this account only a handful of the veterans were able to attend the annual reunion this year. The meeting was held in convention hall with Louis F. Beeler, of Baltimore, president of the National Association of Mexican War Veterans, presiding. The association had no business to transact, and the gathering was entirely in the nature of a reunion. The aged veterans were the recipients of numerous courtesies from the exposition management and exhibitors.

Anarchy for Anarchists.

Every criminal is a rebel against government. Every rebel against government is an anarchist to the extent that he rebels. The saloon is the mother of crime. The nursery of anarchy. It not only defies governmental laws enacted for its suppression, but it breeds crime and spreads it broadcast over the sea of humanity like some contagious disease. Every patron of the saloon is a patron to anarchy. Is the mother who gives it suck; is one of the foundation rocks on which it stands. The saloon is inconsistent; it ever clamors for the protection of government for itself but insists in dealing out anarchy for others. When Carrie Nation with her hatchet deals out a little anarchy to the saloon, giving it a little of its own medicine, it is loud in its call for the protection of the government it has so long persisted in insulting and trying to destroy.

Taking the United States over it is estimated that over three-fourths of our taxation for the suppression of crime is caused by intoxicating drinks. So heavy is this taxation that county attorneys and grand juries are compelled to throw out many criminal cases, allowing the guilty to go free, giving anarchy a partial license, in order to relieve the innocent of so great a burden. Now, whereas, liquor and liquor lovers are the main cause of this anarchy they, more than others, should suffer the ill effects of it. When "booze" is arraigned against "innocence" bring it into court. But when "booze" is arraigned against "booze" tell it to go to anarchy where it is so fond for its redress. For instance: Jamie O'Lafferty takes a keg of beer to a public gathering and, as is usual, a big row is generated and Jamie gets his skull cracked with a beer bottle. He is usual goes into court asking as an American citizen, the right of vindication by punishing the perpetrator. The county attorney should reply: "We must first look to the protection of our loyal citizens, those who take decent precaution to protect themselves. Our great state has labored incessantly during the past half century to maintain a government of which you are a traitor. Now to tax the people to enable you to avoid reaping your own sowing would be simply robbery."

Let anarchy have a taste of anarchy. Let our statute books virtually print in letters of blood above the door of each saloon: "Danger, Beware! He who enters here enters at his own risk. This institution exists because of its defiance of governmental law. It is one of the spots on Uncle Sam's domain where anarchy reigns supreme. To enter here is to patronize anarchy. To patronize anarchy is to denounce allegiance to our government. You may expect no redress or punishment for crimes committed in a saloon." The saloon being an outlaw let it have the treatment of an outlaw. A. A. SNOW, Lineville, Iowa.

W. B. Young, of Blue Ridge, Mo., came to Mt. Ayr yesterday morning. He is a brother of George T. Young, a pioneer business man of Mt. Ayr. Mr. Young bought his father and another brother here for burial while George T. Young was here. That was thirty years ago. W. B. Young is the surviving brother of the family and was anxious to know whether the graves of his father and brother were well kept and that was the purpose of his visit. He asked of Hardin Middlesworth to be directed to a man that lived in Mt. Ayr thirty years ago. Major D. B. Marshall was coming out of G. H. Rains' store as the question was asked and was pointed out. Mr. Young went to him and learned that he had acted as pall bearer at the funeral of his father and brother thirty years before. Mr. Young was directed to the cemetery and was most gratefully surprised at the condition in which he found the graves. He called upon Mrs. M. H. Merrill and expressed his appreciation of the work the cemetery association was doing and gave her a substantial evidence of his appreciation in the shape of a contribution to the treasury of the association. He also requested that the half of a lot not occupied by his family be again sold and the money turned into the treasury. Mr. Young stated to the Press reporter that he had found old friends of his brother in Mt. Ayr, and found that the town had made wonderful progress in the thirty years since his visit to Mt. Ayr. He left this forenoon for his home in Harrison county.—Mt. Ayr Press.

Fashion and the Footlights.

It is an open secret that the leading modistes rely very largely upon the stage for the popularizing of the coming modes. Though a style may be said to be created by the modistes and the hallmark of approval given to it by royalty and the court, it is through the instrumentality of the leading actresses that it becomes the fashion of the season. The stage is an excellent background for showing off beautiful gowns, and when the wearers are beautiful women it adds an extra charm to the dresses.—Strand Magazine.

A MISSOURI HOME.

The above illustration shows the cozy home of Mr. Matt S. Stephens, in Dent county, Mo., a few miles from Salem. Mr. Stephens is a son-in-law of Mr. A. S. Ross, of this county, and for a number of years resided in Decatur county, removing to Missouri a couple of years ago, and from the appearance of his home seems to be prospering.

John G. Sears Dead.

The remains of John G. Sears, a well known former resident of this vicinity, arrived here last Thursday night from Nodaway County, Missouri, where he died on Thursday morning as the result of injuries received on Monday night by the upsetting of a carriage in which he was riding home in company with his two sons. It was not thought that he was seriously injured at the time, but his injuries were internal and resulted in his death three days after. The remains were taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Hannah Gatliff 3 1/2 miles west of Lineville, and the funeral was held on Friday, conducted by Rev. O. F. Howard, and the interment was at the Gatliff graveyard in that neighborhood. The deceased was born and raised here but moved away several years ago. He leaves a wife, three sons and one daughter, and many relatives and friends to mourn his untimely death. The bereaved widow and all of his children with the exception of his eldest son, Karl of Wyoming, who could not be reached by wire, were present at the funeral. His brother, Jas. H. Sears, of Smith Co., Kansas, was also present as well as a large number of relatives and former neighbors. He was about 50 years of age.—Lineville Tribune.

Hicks Myers, living about thirteen miles northeast of Trenton, lost eleven head of fat steers Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Myers had changed the steers from a shady pasture to another about an eight of a mile away, in which there were no trees. His boy discovered one dead about noon and Mr. Myers, on arrival at the pasture, found the whole herd closely bunched, trying to get shelter from the burning sun in the shade thrown by their own bodies. He cut out all the yearlings and drove them to another part of the field, but too late to get the herd to shelter before 11 had fallen dead. The steers were worth about $65 apiece and, as they were not insured were a total loss.—Trenton Daily Republican Tribune.

A local storm which visited this part of the county Thursday night done considerable damage to Elmer Lane and Frank Overholtzer, where it resembled a twister for a few minutes. Elmer Lane's barn was unroofed and a door and a window or two was burst in at the house and Frank Overholtzer had nine ricks of hay torn up pretty badly, one with about ten tons of hay in it was moved a few feet without injuring it, the stack being left right side up with care.—Grand River Local.

"Everybody Should Know"

says C. G. Hays, a prominent business man of Bluff, Mo., that Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the quickest and surest healing salve ever applied to a sore, burn or wound, or to a case of piles. I've used it and know what I'm talking about." Guaranteed by L. P. Van Warden druggist. 25c.

It is quite likely that the price of cotton thread will go up an additional cent per spool before many days, making the price 7 cents, says a dispatch from Chicago. One of the large manufacturers' agents received a message yesterday apprising him of the fact that thread would soon increase three cents per dozen to the wholesale trade. The list price is sixty-seven cents and the increase will put it up to seventy cents. Owing to the discounts that the retail dealers receive, they are able to sell all thread at sixty-two cents per dozen spools, but the price of the individual spool sells from six cents up. The consumer gets no discount on anything less than a dozen. All cotton goods are going up and the end is not yet. "If this keeps on" said a cotton buyer for one of the largest department stores in the city, "silk will be staple and cotton the luxury."

An unusual card of thanks was left at the office of the Atchison Globe: "I did not issue a card of thanks when my husband died, but now that three months are passed I wish to have one printed. I desire to thank, not those friends who came in when he lay dead in the house, and bustled around arranging the chairs and flowers, and answering the door, but those friends who have come in since the parade was over, and who have sat with me in my loneliness when they might be with happier people elsewhere. And I desire to state that few of those busy before the parade have been to see me since it was over. I am no longer in the limelight, and am forgotten."

Hundreds of people yearly go through painful operations needlessly, because they never tried Man Zan Pile Remedy. It is put in such a form that it can be applied right where the trouble lies. It relieves the pain and inflammation. It is in any form of piles. Price 50 cts. Sold by W. C. Stempel & Co.

The law forbidding the marriage of divorced persons within a year after the divorce caught a couple in Osceola this week. Mr. B. F. Vannatta, from near Hopeville, and Mrs. Elizabeth Vannatta from Murray applied at the clerk's office for license to wed. They had been married before, years ago and were divorced, since which time Mr. Vannatta had improved the interim by marrying again. This later venture did not prove agreeable and just lately he was divorced from this wife also. Then he bethought himself of the first Mrs. Vannatta and he recalled many fine points about her. It was not difficult to procure her consent, and the couple, now 63 and 61 years old, came for license. But sufficient time had not elapsed since the last divorce and they were refused. It is said that hand in hand they departed for Missouri where the laws is not so tormented mean, and are now probably happily married.—Osceola Democrat.
