Crown.

It begins to look as if we were not to have much winter this time.
A party was given a week ago last Friday evening at the P. C. Morgan home in honor of Miss Iva Briggaman, the Crown school teacher.
There will be preaching at Crown chapel next Sunday at 11. A good crowd is expected as these eleven o'clock services are well attended when the weather is good.
Abe McVey received a letter last week from his brother Frank, in which he was told of the marriage of Marshall Cesler. "Marsh" as we all called him, formerly lived near Crown and has many friends in this community. He had never been married, although he is 62 years old, and it will be glad news to all his old friends to hear that he has joined the matrimonial ranks. We did not learn the name of the "lucky" woman but extend to them our hearty congratulations on behalf of the people of Crown.
The entertainment and box supper given by the Crown school last Friday evening was a success in every way.
Last Sunday the Garber family held a reunion at the home of F. A. Garber. There were sixty-one in attendance and a lively time was enjoyed by all. A bounteous dinner was served and the day was spent in social chat and in singing old time familiar songs of childhood days. The following were in attendance from a distance: Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Shy, of Hazen, Arkansas, Fannie John and daughter Hazel and F. W. Garber and family of Cheyenne, Wyoming, Mrs. Jessie Woodmansee and daughter Georgia of Lamoni and M. L. Garber of Des Moines. Such gatherings as this will be remembered as some of the bright spots along the pathway of life.

Funktown.

This is sure some fine weather for the last of January, but winter isn't over with yet for some time, said the ground hog for he saw his shadow, and that is a pretty good sign for more cold weather.

Fred Rodman of Chicago, is visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. S. Brannaman.
Glen Crees spent a few hours at Hembrey's Sunday.
While out hunting Monday morning Donald Crees had the misfortune of getting kicked in the face with his shot gun, the but end of the gun striking him square on the nose, and starting the blood pretty freely. A friend, Ralph Baker, who was clearing a field not far away, came to his rescue, thinking him badly injured, but guess it was nothing serious as Mr. Crees is still alive and getting along nicely.
John Baker borrowed Cyrus Crees' big sod plow the other day. Wonder if he is trying to rush the season a bit.
