

ESTABLISHED 18

LEON, IOWA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1916.

VOLUME LXIII, NO. 10.

TOOTH DOCTOR HERE

Southwestern Iowa Dental Association Held Annual Convention at Leon Tuesday and Wednesday.

The annual meeting of the Southwestern Iowa Dental Association was held in Leon Tuesday and Wednesday, and it was one of the best meetings ever held by this association.

The first session was held at the K. of P. hall on Tuesday afternoon, being devoted to a school of instruction conducted by Dr. R. H. Volland, of the Dental School of the State University at Iowa City, and many new things in dental work were shown.

Tuesday evening the dentists and their wives attended a banquet served at the New Hotel Leon, landlord Bowsher exerting himself to make it a success and his efforts were crowned with success, the visitors stating it was one of the finest banquets they had ever attended.

Wednesday morning was devoted to table clinics, the session being held at the K. of P. hall, and was one of great benefit to the dentists in attendance.

At the annual election of officers held Tuesday evening the following were elected for the coming year:

- President—Dr. L. W. Lewis, Shenandoah.
Vice President—Dr. R. C. Logan, Elliott.
Secretary—Dr. D. R. Dudley, Mt. Ayr.
Member State Executive Committee—Dr. J. W. Rowell, Leon.

The following dentists were in attendance:
Creston—Dr. L. E. Stiles and wife, Dr. M. F. Steever, Dr. F. M. Davis, Dr. L. D. Risenburg.
Shenandoah—Dr. L. W. Lewis, Dr. J. W. Van Buskirk, Dr. E. R. Stealy.
Iowa City—Dr. R. H. Volland.
Lamoni—Dr. W. J. Mather, Dr. J. S. Sheehan.
Villisca—Dr. F. M. Kelsey.
Elliott—Dr. R. C. Logan.
Mt. Ayr—Dr. D. R. Dudley and wife, Dr. C. C. Lawhead.
Clearfield—Dr. C. J. Swan.
Kellerton—Dr. J. M. Haveley and wife.
Osceola—Dr. E. W. Paul.
Lineville—Dr. H. S. Engle.
Garden Grove—Dr. V. R. Whinnery.
Leon—Dr. J. W. Rowell, Dr. W. R. West.

Representatives from wholesale dental supply houses from Omaha, Des Moines and Keokuk were present with a fine display of supplies.

The local dentists, Dr. J. W. Rowell and Dr. W. R. West were in charge of the local arrangements and were highly complimented by the visitors, as they left nothing undone to show them a good time while they were in Leon.

H. B. BRACEWELL Democratic Candidate for Congress

Mr. H. B. Bracewell, of Corydon, the democratic candidate for congress in this district, spent several days in Decatur county last week and made the acquaintance of a large number of voters. He held meetings at Lamoni and Decatur City and his speeches at both places were well received by attentive hearers. It will be impossible for Mr. Bracewell to see but a small part of the voters in the district before election, and we want to urge upon our readers the importance of electing him to congress. If President Wilson is re-elected, as he will be, it is of vital importance that he have the support of a democratic congress in order to carry on his program of reform and secure the passage of new laws in the interest of taxpayers.

Mr. Bracewell is a splendid speaker, a good lawyer, and one of the best posted men on national issues in the state. He would make an ideal congressman, and would go to Washington unhampered by dictations from the special interests. No man stands higher in the estimation of the people of his home county than Mr. Bracewell, for they recognize in him a man who would never cast a vote for any measure which was against the best interests of his constituents. Do your part in sustaining President Wilson by sending a democrat to congress from the Eighth District, and vote for H. B. Bracewell for congressman.

The Leon Savings bank is prepared to make some good farm loans at reasonable rates.

Official Action of Presbyterian Church Concerning New Building.

The members of the First Presbyterian church of Leon met at the Baptist church on Tuesday evening, to consider the plans and specifications for their new church building to replace the old church which has been torn down. It was decided that the new church will be built of brick, strictly colonial in style, the dimensions being 54x72 feet, with straight entrance facing the north. The interior of the church will be of the most modern arrangement, and to help provide for the social interests of the young people of Leon, a gymnasium, shower baths, and other conveniences will be installed.

The church arranged further that the building and finance committees begin and execute the work of the building of this church at such time as they think best. The sense of the meeting, however, was to complete the basement before cold weather. The arrangement of the basement was left to the Ladies' Aid Society to work out to their own convenience.

The following committees were appointed:
Finance—Thomas Teale, S. A. Gates, Francis Varga, Ed Smith, Dr. F. A. Bowman, G. B. Price, Geo. T. Ogilvie, W. E. Ammon, John Frazier, V. R. McGinnis, John S. Parrish, David Ironside and Gurley George, with the pastor ex-officio.
Building—Thomas Teale, Dr. H. R. Layton, F. S. Stewart, Stephen Varga and T. W. Colby.

Floyd Brown Awarded Silver Cup.

When the base ball season opened last spring C. A. Cherrington, the druggist donated a beautiful silver cup which was to be awarded the member of the Leon base ball club who secured the highest batting average during the season. For several months George Moyes, who pitched for Leon, led the batting average, but was finally passed by Floyd Brown, and when the averages were figured up at the close of the season Floyd Brown stood at the top with an average batting record of .396, and was this week presented with the silver cup by Mr. Cherrington. The following is the batting average of the players who competed for the cup:

Charles Powers, of Kellerton, was found lying dead on the railroad track near Togo station last Thursday evening.

Mr. Powers was a county road foreman for Ringgold county and was working with a gang of men near Lamoni. Thursday evening he started to walk down the track to Togo to telephone for some supplies, and a short time later was found dead by parties who came along the track. Mr. Powers was about 55 years of age, and had been a sufferer from heart trouble for some time, being under the care of a physician at the time. Coroner Layton was notified, but after learning the facts, Mr. Powers having died from heart disease, decided that an inquest was not necessary. The deceased had resided at Kellerton for a number of years and was highly respected.

Speaking Dates for F. A. Garber.

Frank A. Garber, democratic candidate for representative, will speak at the following places. Come out and hear what Mr. Garber has to say. He will tell you what you can expect from him if he is elected to represent you in the next legislature:
High Point, Tuesday evening, Oct. 24th.
Woodland, Friday evening, Oct. 27th.
Decatur City, Saturday evening, Oct. 28th.
Baker school house in Bloomington township, Tuesday evening, Oct. 31st.
Grand River, Thursday evening, November 2nd.

Capt. J. D. Brown Operated Upon.

Capt. J. D. Brown, who has been seriously ill at his home in this city for several weeks, underwent a crucial operation which was performed last Thursday morning by Dr. B. L. Elker, assisted by Drs. H. R. Layton and J. W. Robinson. The operation was a successful one and he has been getting along extra fine since, and hopes are now entertained that he will recover, which will be good news to his many friends all over southern Iowa.

Young People Married at Omaha.

From the Omaha Daily News, of Oct. 10th, we learn that a marriage license was issued in that city that day to Clifford S. Woodard, of Decatur City, and Miss Madge McMorris, of south of Leon, two well known young people of this county. The news of their marriage came as a surprise to their friends, and upon their return they will receive the usual congratulations, for both are very popular among a large circle of friends.

Death of Mrs. Lew Thompson.

Mrs. Lew Thompson, of Davis City, who had been seriously ill for several weeks, suffering from cancer, passed away at her home Sunday evening, and was buried at Davis City Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Thompson was a sister of G. W. Spicer, of Leon.

A NEW MASONIC HALL

Work Commenced on Fine New Lodge Room for Grand River Lodge No. 78, A. F. & A. M.

For a number of years there has been talk of a new Masonic hall in Leon, and at last the dream is to come true. Material is being placed on the ground and work will commence at once. Grand River Lodge No. 78, A. F. & A. M. has bought the right to build over the new Mullinix block at the corner of Main and Commercial streets. The second story will be 40x80 feet, containing an auditorium 30x46 feet, with 16 foot ceiling, reception room 15x38, ante room 10x19, Tyler's room 10x10 and a hallway 5x38 feet. On the third floor will be a dining room and kitchen and the dining room will be 31x38 feet, which will provide a fine place for lodge banquets, something which has been sorely needed.

The new building will cost between $6,500 and $7,000, and will not be built by contract, the building committee of the lodge having employed F. C. Mullinix to superintend the erection of the building. Several car loads of brick and the big steel joists have already been received, and work of laying brick will commence at once, it being hoped the building can be completed before cold weather. While the new lodge room is being built by the Blue Lodge, it is expected that the other Masonic bodies, the Chapter and Knights Templar will arrange to occupy it jointly with the Blue Lodge.

The new lodge building will be a credit to Leon, and will add greatly to the appearance of south Main street, being located just across the street from the New Hotel Leon building.

Good Show at Osceola Friday Night.

Kate Douglas Wiggin, whose delightful heroine of her books "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" and "New Chronicles of Rebecca," which have been fused into the New England comedy "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," which will be staged at the opera house at Osceola, Friday night, Oct. 20th, claims there is only one bit of autobiography in the book or play. It was an incident of Mrs. Wiggin's school days when she was Kate Douglas Smith and lived with her parents near Hollis, Maine, her childhood home. It was in a little district school house and the happening had escaped Mrs. Wiggin's memory until years afterward she met the teacher who asked her if she recalled the day when she had been told to conjugate the verb "to know." She got along very well until she came to the subjunctive mood, when her lips began to quiver and tears welled up in her eyes, and when she reached the words "if they had known," she broke down completely and ended with the sobbing exclamation, "oh, it's such a sad, sad verb I can't bear to say it." Her imagination had overcome her sense of the present and her heart was filled with the idea that "life would have been kinder to them, whoever they were, if they had only known." It is such bits of life as this that make Mrs. Wiggin's play a delight and a lesson to people who have the privilege and pleasure of seeing it.

Stands High in Church Membership.

The 1915 Iowa census gives the church membership for each county, and it will be news to many of our readers to learn that Decatur county stands second in the ninety-nine counties with the greatest percentage of Protestant church membership according to the population. Decatur county has 43 per cent of population who are church members and only one county in the state has a higher percentage, that being Bremer, which has a percentage of 45. Ringgold county has a percentage of 37, Union 29, Clarke 31, Lucas 24 and Wayne 24. The churches of Decatur county have a membership of which they may well be proud. The two counties which have the smallest percentage of church members are Dubuque and Scott, each of which has only 11 per cent. Decatur and Bremer are the only two counties in the state having a percentage above 40.

A Narrow Escape.

Mrs. H. J. Close, of Kansas City, who was visiting in Leon last week, had a very narrow escape from serious injury at the northwest corner of the square last Friday afternoon. She was crossing the street when an auto driven by two children made the sharp turn and Mrs. Close was struck by the fender of the machine. Seeing she could not get away, she clung to the fender until the machine was stopped, and she escaped with slight bruises. Some of the auto drivers are still pretty reckless about turning corners, and then it is unlawful in Iowa, for any child under fifteen years of age to drive an auto on a street or highway, even if they are accompanied by their parents or other person.

Had a Finger Broken.

Marion Beckwith, one of the electricians in the employ of the Leon Electric Co., met with a painful accident while assisting in moving a heavy rheostat at the power house last Thursday. In some manner his right hand was caught under the heavy instrument between a bolt head and the foundation and the little finger was badly mashed and broken, and the injury will keep him from work for some time. The Leon Electric Co. carry workmen a compensation insurance on all their employees and Mr. Beckwith will receive pay while he is off duty.

"Stunt Feat" Pleased.

The "Stunt Feat" presented at the opera house last Thursday evening under the direction of Mrs. Gretchen Myers Coen, of Creston, for the benefit of the Associated Charities of Leon, was greeted with a full house. Over fifty persons took part in the cast, the program consisting of musical numbers, drills, tableaux, minstrel acts, etc., and they were all good. Owing to the large number in the cast it is impossible to mention each act. Mrs. Coen is a splendid director and to her efforts was due the success of the performance. In order to decide which three acts were considered the best by the audience, slips of paper were distributed and each one was requested to write their choice of three acts, and it was announced that the three acts selected would be presented at the matinee at the Idle Hour on Friday afternoon. The three selected were the monologue, "Soap," by Little Bill Aiken, the minstrel act by Ansel Barry, Lester Hutchinson, Lloyd Smith and Leslie Grimes, and the wooden shoe dancing by Miss Cecil Grimes, and a chorus of girls, Misses Alma Kindblade, Maurine Penniwell, Barbara Penniwell, Ruth Shields, Margaret Shields and Mildred Merwin.

The farce act presented by Charles Horn and Miss Nancie Kemp, and the quintette by Mrs. J. A. Caster, Mrs. Gretchen Myers Coen, Dr. J. O. Woodmansee, Lester Hutchinson and Lloyd Smith, were close seconds, both being extra good. In fact the program throughout was a good one, and every act was heartily applauded, and well received by the big audience. Little Bill Aiken, however, was the star of the evening, and just so.

The Associated Charities received about $40 as their share of the entertainment, after dividing with Mrs. Coen and paying all expenses, and the money will be spent for charitable work.

Allerton 7—Leon 7.

The Leon High School boys played the second game of the schedule at Allerton last Saturday. Leon scored a touch down and kicked goal in the first quarter of play. The score stood 7 to 0 until the last quarter. With the ball in Leon's possession on Allerton's ten yard line the Leon center passed the ball far over Scott's head and across the goal line. Scott picked up the ball, fumbled it, and Allerton fell on it for a touch down. They kicked goal and on account of the fluke the game ended in a tie, 7 to 7.

The Allerton team was composed of nine veterans and outweighed the Leon team twenty pounds to the man. This aggregation and the supporting cast presented a rather aggressive front for a bunch of kids, eight of whom were new to the game this year. Allerton had spring practice and had announced in the state papers their expectation of becoming champions of southern Iowa.

On Friday of this week Leon High plays Lineville on the local grounds. This aggregation is coached by Mendenhall, a former star of Iowa University. They have been winning from some of the strongest Missouri schools and will give Leon a hard battle.

Revall One Cent Sale Biggest Yet.

The three days one cent sale at the Revall drug store of Bell & Painter last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, was the biggest sale they have ever had, the business exceeding their expectations and on a number of articles the entire stock was sold out before the sale closed. They sold over fifteen hundred pounds of coffee, six thousand envelopes, 212 tubes of tooth paste, and other advertised articles in proportion. These one cent sales are put on twice a year, the manufacturers standing a part of the loss of selling the second article for one cent, and the people have found out that they are able to secure real bargains at these sales. Bell & Painter are sure hustlers, and they were a happy but mighty tired bunch when the sale closed Saturday night.

Special Manual Training Meeting for Rural Teachers.

There will be a special manual training meeting for rural teachers held at Decatur on Saturday, Oct. 21. This is held under the direction of the State College at Ames, and is the first of seven such meetings to be held at Decatur during the year. All rural teachers who can reach Decatur are urged to attend. There is no charge for instruction except cost of the materials used. Such work is planned as can be used at once in rural schools. Prof. C. B. Woodstock of Lamoni, will have charge. Two sessions, 9 to 12 a. m., 1 to 3 p. m.

TWENTYFIVE YEARS AGO

Items Taken from the Files of The Reporter Published a Quarter of a Century Ago.

The new wagon bridge over Grand River at Davis City, was completed the first of the week. It was dedicated on Wednesday. It was built by Joe Leeper, the boss bridge builder, and is a credit to the builder. Davis City feels very proud over it.

R. G. Benton informs us that he has killed 84 rattlesnakes on his farm southwest of Decatur City this year. His little boy was bitten by one and in less than an hour they had killed eight snakes within a short distance of where he was standing when he was bitten. Mr. Benton says the only way he can account for so many is that parties owning raw land near his farm have fenced it to pasture this year, and thinks the cattle drove the snakes from this wild land.

Dr. Layton made quite a drive last Sunday. He left Leon at 8:15 in the morning and drove his team to Grand River, where he was joined by Dr. Bone with his team. They drove to Wirt over in Ringgold county where they met Dr. Maxwell with another team and were driven out four miles in the country to visit Mrs. Huling, arriving there at 12:15. They started to return at 3:30 o'clock, got to Grand River at 5:30, and Dr. Layton was home again before church was out in the evening, having ridden close to 75 miles since breakfast.

John and Virge Penniwell, Jake Warner, Horry Long and Geo. W. Wadsworth packed their camping outfit and accompanied by their dogs and guns, started Monday for Lake Waubonsie, out on the Missouri river bottoms for a couple of weeks duck shooting. The boys promised to send us some ducks, and we will never believe they killed any if we do not feast on wild ducks. (We are still waiting for the ducks.—Editor)

Last Saturday afternoon about 2 o'clock the boiler of a saw mill owned by J. C. Lewis at Garden Grove, exploded with a terrible report. The mill was located at the rear of the opera house. Two little boys, Harold Wilson and Ethan Caster, were playing near by when the explosion occurred and were blown quite a distance, both being covered with mud and badly bruised. It was thought at the time there were three boys and the water was drained from the pond, expecting to find the third boy dead, but luckily he had left the vicinity a short time before the explosion. The proprietor, Mr. Lewis, was quite badly scalded, and the boiler was blown clear across the street, a distance of 200 feet, while the smoke stack was blown 300 yards away. The explosion was caused by a lack of water in the boiler, which had been considered dangerous for some time, and the people of Garden Grove were not surprised when it did blow up.

Marriage licenses were issued the past week as follows:

- Geo. W. Culp 24 to Ruth Bennett 18.
Henry J. Bryant 23 to Mettie J. Boyd 24.
Albert, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Perdue, died at the home of his parents in Leon Wednesday. He was 22 years of age, and had been a sufferer from lung trouble for some time.
Frank Craig, who has been a faithful compositor in The Reporter office for some time, left Monday for Elk Point, S. D., where he has secured a good position in the Elk Point leader office.
Mrs. Dr. H. R. Layton and Miss Abbie Fraser attended the national convention of the P. E. O. society at Fairfield last week, as delegates from the Leon Chapter.

Decatur County Boy Defeats Harrison County, Mo., Poultry Breeders Again.

W. W. Moore, of Pleasanton, who breeds Single Comb Rhode Island chickens, defeated the Harrison county poultry breeders with his Red and Buff Cochins, also with his Indian Runner Ducks, at the Ridgeway fair, winning 1st and 2nd S. C. Red cockerel, 1st and 2nd S. C. Red pullet and 1st pen, 1st on Buff Cochin cockerel and 1st and 2nd on Buff Cochin pullet, and 1st on Indian Runner Ducks, the pair. This makes the second time this fall that he has defeated them as on Sept. 8th at the Harrison County Fair at Bethany, Mo., his S. C. Reds won 1st, 2nd and 3rd cockerel, 1st, 2nd and 3rd pullet, and 1st pair of Indian Runner Ducks, making a total of sixteen ribbons won at the two fairs. He certainly has some fowls that are worth showing.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks, Weather Prophet, Died at His Home.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks, publisher of Word and Works and Irl R. Hicks' Almanac, considered the most noted "long distance" weather forecaster in the world, died at his home in Wellston, adjoining St. Louis, last Wednesday. His death was due to pneumonia. He was 71 years old. He was a veteran of the Civil War, having fought on the Confederate side and was a member of the Methodist ministry. He retired from the ministry in 1859. He accumulated a fortune through his publications. Hicks' Almanac was a household word in the homes of many throughout the rural districts of the country, and it is said that circuses arranged their traveling programs, guided by his weather predictions.

IDLE HOUR SPECIALS.

Paramount Feature Plays Again Being Presented—Two Extra Good Ones for Friday and Monday.

The Idle Hour theatre resumed the special Paramount feature plays this week, the first one being shown Monday night when Marguerite Clark played a big audience. From now on Paramount pictures will be shown, and on the regular programs hereafter four reels instead of three will be shown. The last episode of "Peg o' the Ring," will be shown this evening, and the next serial, "The Shielding Shadow," positively the greatest serial ever produced will be commenced on Thursday evening, Oct. 26th.

Friday evening Elsie Janis the international star, will appear in "Nearly a Lady," written by herself. What can't Elsie Janis do? After seeing her wonderful lariat dance with the cowboys in her new Bosworth Incorporated, photo comedy, "Nearly a Lady," that is the first question that arises. Mimic, singer, dancer, author, Elsie Janis is gifted with the ability to assimilate any new pursuit and make herself so the master of it that she outdoes those who have been at it for years. In "Nearly a Lady," the Montana cowboys, headed by Art Accord, the famous rider, demonstrates some of these bewildering dances with Elsie Janis looking on. When they are finished she frankly doffs her riding skirt and uncomfortable riding breeches and proceeds to do the lariat dance she has just seen. With toes tripping prettily in perfect time she dances inside the whirling rope which by means of her supple wrist, all the time describes a flying hoop around her like the hoop of a crinoline. And the marvel of it is that her dance is far more expert than those of Art Accord and his boys, who are genuine cowboys, bred and brought up on ranch and fange. "Nearly a Lady," the third of the film comedies Elsie Janis has played for Bosworth Incorporated, is her favorite. Filled with action of a new kind and carrying a pretty love story it quite justifies her preference.

Matinee at 3 o'clock, first night show at 7:15. Prices 10 and 15 cents. On Monday, Oct. 23rd, the celebrated comedian Sam Bernard will make his first screen appearance as "Poor Schmaltz," a hilarious comedy, produced by Daniel Rohman and the Famous Players Film Co. In obtaining the exclusive motion picture services of Sam Bernard, the world's most famous eccentric comedian, the Famous Players Film Co., has secured one of the most notable acquisitions to the screen ever effected. Through the media of his long list of celebrated stage successes, Mr. Bernard has made hundreds of thousands laugh. With the wider latitude of the screen, millions will now be enabled to follow his side-splitting antics and his inimitable methods of comedy portrayal. The subject selected for Mr. Bernard's introduction to the motion picture public, "Poor Schmaltz," presents him in the hilarious role of a German wig maker who becomes the principal agent in a series of excruciatingly comic adventures, and it is certain that this characterization will rank with the popular star's greatest comedy creations and be recorded as one of the foremost travesty triumphs of the screen.

Matinee at 3 o'clock, first night show at 7:15. Prices 10 and 15 cents.

Mrs. L. M. Kob.

Anna, daughter of Abraham and Hannah Wimmer, was born in Henry county, Indiana, Dec. 11, 1847, and died at her home in Decatur county, Iowa, Oct. 8, 1916, aged 78 years, 10 months and 23 days. She was married to L. M. Kob, March 25, 1857. This union was blessed with five children, two boys and three girls, the boys and the husband preceding her in death. The daughters, Mrs. S. H. Duffield, Mrs. J. B. Kerner and Miss Jimmie Kob were present to witness the going out of a beautiful life of service for her Master and those by whom she was surrounded. She, with her husband, united with the Church of the Brethren more than fifty years ago. Her husband was called to the ministry which greatly increased her responsibilities in the home and church, but she never complained, but always bore her part of the burdens cheerfully and lived true to her Master until death. Besides her children, she leaves eleven grandchildren, twenty great-grandchildren and a host of friends to mourn her departure. Funeral services were held at the Franklin church, conducted by F. A. Garber, interment in the nearby cemetery.

Raising Sunflowers for Chicken Feed.

Isaac Norman, of southwest of Decatur City, this year raised a big crop of mammoth sunflowers on his farm. He planted a tract and cultivated it like any other crop, and has a large quantity of seed harvested which he will use for chicken feed. He says it makes the finest kind of chicken feed and produces a big yield, the chickens doing extra well on this feed.

The election tickets are now being printed. Under the new absent voters law, application can be made to the county auditor by any voter who will be absent on election day, for an absentee's ballot after Tuesday, Oct. 24th.

The democratic county candidates are all working hard to be elected. Their friends in every part of the county should get to work for them and the entire county ticket will be elected from top to bottom.
