A Friend.
What is a friend? I will tell you. It is a person with whom you dare to be yourself. Your soul can go naked with him. He seems to ask of you to put on nothing, only to be what you are. He does not want you to be better or worse. When you are with him you feel as a prisoner, for you have been declared innocent. You do not have to be on your guard. You can say what you think, express what you feel. He is shocked at nothing, so long as it is genuinely you. He understands those contradictions in your nature that leads others to misjudge you. With him you breathe free. You can take off your coat and loosen your collar. You can avow your little vanities and envies and hates and vicious sparks, your meanness and absurdities, and in opening up to him they are lost, dissolved in the white ocean of his loyalty. He understands. You can abuse him, neglect him, berate him. It makes no difference. He likes you. He is like fire that purifies all you do. He is like water that cleanses all you say. He is like wine, that warms you to the bone. He understands. You can weep with him, laugh with him, sing with him, pray with him, through and underneath it all he sees, knows and loves you. A friend, I repeat, is one with whom you dare to be yourself.

Waist High

Road Beam One-Third Mile Long

The New Osgood Lens is a one-piece lens of twelve prisms that direct all the light outward and downward. None thrown into the air--always below waist-height.

Result--74% more light on the road as compared with a plain lens; 91% greater road light as compared with a lens of ground glass.

These figures are based on exhaustive tests made by recognized authorities--including the Armour Institute of Technology, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the American Automobile Association.

Give the New Osgood a trial and see the vast difference for yourself. Sold at ordinary lens prices.
