The kind of paint is more important than the color

In these days of paint uncertainties you cannot afford to buy paint in a haphazard way. Now, if ever, you should know what the paint you buy will do.

Avoid paint failures; buy one of the standard brands of paint—Lowe Brothers High Standard, for instance.

Nothing has been put into High Standard Paint to cheapen it. The same Lowe Brothers quality is in every can just as in years gone by.

Of course, you can buy cheaper paints, but you haven't that assurance of beauty, wearability and economy you always get in good old High Standard.

Ask for color card.

Five Real Reasons

why you should

Screen With "PEARL" Screen Wire

- 1—DURABLE. PEARL Screen Wire is an exceptional rust-resister. This is due to the no-chip, non-peel metallic coating which is a secret with the Manufacturers.
- 2—HANDSOME. PEARL is the best looking as well as the best wearing screen.
- 3—SANITARY. PEARL meshes are smooth and offer no lodging place for dust or dirt. It's a clean screen and stays clean with little care.
- 4—EASY ON EYES. PEARL after a short exposure, turns an invisible gray shade which offers practically no obstruction to the vision.
- 5—ECONOMICAL. PEARL requires no paint, no repairs. It is, and has been for years, the most satisfactory screen wire made.
