Iowa's Part in the War.

Osceola Boy to Assist in Building Big War Plant.

According to a report in the Chicago Daily Tribune a $70,000,000 ordnance plant will be built by the government on the Island Neville in the Ohio River near Pittsburg.

The contract has been let to the United States Steel Corporation of Pittsburg. For several years Vivian Beard, the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Beard of Osceola, has been employed by this corporation as an engineer of steel construction. He has now been assigned by his employers, with eight other experts, to serve as directing chiefs in constructing and operating the big munitions plant which according to plans is to be one of the largest in the world, rivaling the Krupp plant in Germany.

It is estimated that nearly a year will be required for its completion, but gun construction will be started before it is done. All the fourteen inch and sixteen inch guns, and the larger caliber howitzers and mortars will be manufactured at the Neville plant.—Osceola Sentinel.

COUNTY CONVENTIONS

Democratic and Republican County Conventions Select Delegates and Complete Nominations.

The democratic county convention convened at the court house at 11 o'clock last Saturday, and the attendance surprised everyone, as it was not expected that many delegates would attend, yet the court room was filled. The convention was called to order by county chairman M. F. Springer, who announced the committee had selected Hon. E. A. Garber of Center township as temporary chairman. On taking the chair Mr. Garber remarked these were busy times and he would make no speech and on motion O. E. Hull, of Leon, was named as temporary secretary, and W. H. Blair, of Lamoni, assistant secretary.

It was moved and carried that the chairman appoint a committee of three on resolutions, chairman Garber naming Hon. Heman C. Smith, of Lamoni, J. E. Daughton, of Richland, and E. Cozad, of Morgan, as the committee. It was moved and carried that the roll of townships be called and one member from each be named as committees on permanent organization and to select delegates to the state convention, the following being named as the committees:

- On Permanent Organization—Bloomington—James Woodmansee. Burrell—Thomas Butcher. Davis City—Frank Osborn. Center—W. H. Snyder. East—Wayne Gammon. Decatur—Leroy Shelton. Fayette—Clarence Skinner. Leon 3rd Ward—C. E. Hurst. Leroy. Long Creek—M. F. Thompson. Morgan—W. H. Cozad. New Buda—J. E. Poush. Richmond—W. H. Young. Woodland—E. H. Carver.

To Select Delegates to State Convention

- Bloomington—Roy Nofstger. Burrell—Fred Bruner. Davis City—Fred Hensch. East—W. H. Hoffman. Eden—Frank Cox. Decatur—E. Vere Roberts. Fayette—G. W. Blair. Franklin—C. A. Luce. Garden Grove—G. M. Russell. Grand River—Al Biggs. Hamilton—E. C. Hollister. High Point—John Reynolds. Leon 1st Ward—John Osborn. Leon 2nd Ward—George Hamilton. Leon 3rd Ward—S. E. Benefield. Leroy. Long Creek—Horry Redman. Morgan. New Buda—J. M. Howell. Richmond—Joe Brown. Woodland.

On motion the convention then adjourned to meet at 1:30 p. m. Afternoon Session.

The convention met promptly at 1:30, the committee on permanent organization reporting and recommending that the temporary organization be made permanent, the report being adopted.

Chairman A. Garber made a short address thanking the convention for the honor conferred upon him, and for a few minutes spoke of the world wide war, and the strange things which are happening in political world, politics being for the time forgotten and everybody bending every energy to win the war for democracy. His remarks were timely and he was vigorously applauded.

Patriots of all parties have forgotten petty differences, and with one accord are supporting our president in our fight against the common enemy. The qualities that the going to count for most in this campaign are patriotism and efficiency, and not party loyalty.

President Wilson has critics, as Washington and Lincoln had critics, but in every case they will be found to be disappointed position hunters or ignoramuses.

The man who is so full of the gall of political bitterness that he cannot give credit to whom credit is due is a curse to his country, and should be relegated to the profoundest depths of political loneliness.

Some people talk loudly of sacrifice and patriotism, but they have given financial support to the government in this time of need. I do not think these good bonds and stamps that I have bought, my contribution to the various war organizations, my compliance with food restrictions, or the time spent in helping in these things, should be classed as sacrifices, but I miss the boys who are relatives and friends, who have played in my yard and sat at my fireside, but above all the fathers and mothers who have given flesh and blood to stand between his country and the hell of German steel and fire and savagery known what sacrifice is.

It has been said that we will need every ounce of strength our country possesses to win the war—I do not believe it—but it would be foolish for us to try to win it with both hands in our pockets.

The time is ripe for the far-seeing statesman to look ahead to the time when the war shall be over, and to avert if possible any great upheaval which might happen when the days of reconstruction shall come. If in that day the great heart of democracy shall fail to hear the cries of the down-trodden, and the people of the world shall have souls and nerves that can suffer and despair and weary, it will be time for it to fold its tent and disappear over the burning desert of oblivion.

The convention got down to business, the committee on resolutions presenting the following which were unanimously adopted:

We, the Democrats of Decatur county in convention assembled hereby unreservedly endorse the administration of Woodrow Wilson and his present cabinet as being the equal of any administration the world has ever known.

It is with just pride that in this hour of world tragedy we pen our

INCREASE NUMBER CALLED FROM IOWA.

General Crowder Summons 1,100 More Iowans for July Draft, Making Total of 19,019 for Month.

An increase of 1,100 Iowa men in the number to be drafted into the national army under the July 22 call is required in an order from General Crowder received by Adjutant General Logan. This increases the total from 17,829 to be sent under the July 22 call to 19,019.

These additional men will be sent to Camp Gordon at Atlanta, Ga. This will make 6,480 Iowa men to go to Camp Gordon in the July 22 call instead of 5,292, the number originally given out.

General Logan has received another induction order giving opportunity for 300 registered men to volunteer until July 5 for special training as auto mechanics. These men will be sent to the University of Texas at Austin, Tex., on July 25.

Inquiries are being received at General Logan's office from local boards over the state regarding their quotas under the July 22 call. General Logan states these can not be made up until after July 1, as there are a number of induction orders most of which do not close until July 1.

Unfulfilled Service Flag.

Last Sunday evening the Presbyterian church unfurled their service flag with a delightful and appropriate service. Seventeen stars for the boys in the service, and a triangle for the former pastor who is in the Y. M. C. A. work, adorned the flag.

Addresses were made by Mr. S. A. Ghas, Mr. James Evans, and by the pastor of the church, Mr. Roswell Wright of New York City, famous as a counter-tenor sang a delightful solo. Solos were also sung by Miss Faye Rhodes, Miss Josephine Coder, little Miss Dorothy Goodman, and Miss Florence Gates. The choir rendered a beautiful anthem, and the boys' choir, which is rapidly becoming famous, rendered a special song.

The church was filled at an early hour and the gallery had to be opened to accommodate the crowd. Much interest was manifested, and the closest attention was given to every number on the program.

The following are the names of those represented on the flag, other names may and will be added as the occasion offers.

The Saturday Night Crowds.

An item in the Leon Reporter called to mind the throngs of crowds that are in Washington every Saturday night. And we are glad of it, but the merchants are so rushed that they cannot always take care of the trade.

A week ago Saturday night, although it was a big band, although at Kalona, Washington was so full you could not get along the streets of the square. Every Saturday night seems worse than the one preceding. The automobile has a lot to do with it, or all to do with it. People can come 50 miles easier than they can formerly with the horse drawn vehicle.

Man is a gregarious animal, whatever that is. Folks want to get together and talk things over. Country people are very sociable during the week, and when Saturday night comes they like to come to town and see what the other farmers have been doing, and merchants say it makes it hard, because they will not do their trading early, but wait till they are done.

But habits of life are changing. Folks come a long ways, and that is making Washington a better town than it ever has been before.

And why not? Why shouldn't the farmers come 30 miles or 40 miles, to a good, live town like Washington, "the cleanest city in Iowa."

We are glad they do, and Leon is glad and every other town is glad, because it means a better understanding, and when farmers learn what a good town Washington is they will not buy from the mail order houses, but leave their money all at home.—Washington Democrat.

Monroe Salisbury at the New Theatre Saturday.

Monroe Salisbury that great delineator of western parts, will be the special attraction at the New Theatre next Saturday in a stirring picture of the great big production, one of the best western pictures that the Bluebird Corporation has made this year and it is a smashing big hit everywhere. Don't miss this picture Saturday. The admission will be 6 and 15 cents, which includes the war tax.

Ideal Harvest Weather.

No one ever saw more ideal harvest weather than this section is enjoying and the farmers of Decatur county are mighty busy in the wheat and hay fields, the wheat being sown in fine shape and many reports of extra heavy yields are being made.

TWENTYFIVE YEARS AGO

Items Taken from the Files of the Reporter Published a Quarter of a Century Ago.

A cow owned by Jimmie Johnson was attacked by hydrophobia Monday, and for a while owned that part of the town, as everyone was afraid to go near her. Finally Web Sanger and a double barreled shotgun got together and tackled the bovine and she soon bit the dust. It is not known when the cow was bitten but it is supposed the same dog did it that bit Shrewsbury's horses.

The following marriage licenses were issued the past week: J. W. Brown 21 to Hattie Overholzer 21. Edmund Sherard 20 to Lydia Smith 20. M. N. Clum 20 to Estella Keene 18.

Larkin Miller 21 to Cora Blackburn 19. J. W. Toney 27 to Rosa B. Ferguson 20. C. H. Samson 21 to Ida L. A. Herrold 19.

The little three year old son of Charley Akers created quite an excitement Monday afternoon by wandering away from home. His mother was greatly alarmed, and the neighbors all turned out to assist in the search. The little fellow was finally found down by the Q depot, where we suppose he was looking around to see if Charley was paying too much for fat hogs.

Will Warner sold 395 acres of his farm in Franklin township to Bismark Lake of Story county at $29 per acre.

Miss Eva Rhea went to Chicago Saturday to visit the World's Fair. Aunt Betty Loving is reported to be very low and her death may be expected at any time.

Butler Ellis, of Des Moines, came in Saturday to spend a few days with relatives in this vicinity. The law of Jackson, who has been doing the State of Colorado for some time, arrived in Leon Monday.

Miss Maude Creighton went to Des Moines Monday where she will visit a couple of months with friends.

Miss Libbie Gammill, of Frontier county, Neb. came Monday for a visit at the home of her uncle, M. A. Gammill, in this city.

Mrs. Ben Reeder and daughter, of Olathe, Kansas, came Friday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Farquhar.

Fred Corbett, of Emporia, Kansas, arrived yesterday for a two week's visit with his grandfather, J. B. Lumbeck and family.

Can We Do It?

The fourth Liberty loan will call for at least six billions of dollars. There will be some shaking of heads. There will be some questions as to whether we can do this thing or not. It is not that those who ask the questions will be less active in the campaign after it shall have been begun. But they are of the kind who ask questions, who want to feel sure that they are right and that they can accomplish what they set out to do.

It means $60 per capita. Sixty dollars for every man, woman and child in the land. Can we do it? There is never a doubt that it can and will be done. The fact now that the work has been systematized, that the workers have been welded into an effective organization, and have been thoroughly drilled, it is going to be easier to raise those six billions in October than it was to raise four billions a month six weeks ago. The thing will be done with less hard work, and will be done more swiftly, than was the case with the third Liberty loan.

You remember the experience of the athlete, who began with comparatively small weights and eventually became able to handle enormous weights. Practice makes perfect. It was easier to put over the third Liberty loan than to make a success of the second. We have grown to strength and in will power and determination in the meantime, and the fourth, while the biggest loan to the present, is going to be easier to handle than any of those that preceded it. And that will be the case, especially, if we all consider our plain duty now, and get ready for that big loan. Everybody must begin to save immediately and to prepare himself, so that he will be able to do his full share next October, and that means much more than the $60 per capita.—Burlington Hawkeye.

Leon Deserves to be Well Represented.

A pictorial history of "Iowa's Part in the World War" is being published by the Chicago Herald and Examiner in its Sunday edition. Commenting upon it the Iowa City Daily Press says: "It seems destined to play an important part in the perpetuation of the name and fame of the Hawkeye State."

Each Sunday an editorial in the Herald and Examiner's Iowa section will be devoted to recording the deeds of one Iowa town or city. Leon's record entitles it to a place among the first localities thus honored, and to this end we urge our readers to call to the attention of the editor of the Chicago Herald and Examiner Leon's record in the war and to send him pictures of our boys and of women and men who either are enrolled in their country's service or who have been giving their loyal efforts in other ways to advance our nation's cause. Let us boost Leon. It deserves it.
