BLIND 50 YEARS
Sight Restored by Dr. Weber

Mr. John G. Redinbaugh of Logan, Iowa, an old soldier of the civil war, now 73 years old, had an experience showing the help he received in an apparently hopeless case. He says: "About four years ago my right eye went blind with cataract. I had lost the sight of my left eye during the war fifty years ago, so I was helpless. I went to Omaha to one of the best oculists and he operated on my right eye. I stayed in the hospital for five weeks; had severest pains, but the result was a failure. I returned home and was advised to go to Dr. Weber, who often comes to Logan. He examined my eyes and said the right eye could not be helped, but Dr. Weber said he could help the left one that had been blind fifty years. This seemed almost too good to be true, but Dr. Weber treated the eye and operated on it at the hotel and my wife did the care of the eye afterward at home. I had no pain and my sight is restored."

(Signed J. G. Redinbaugh.)
