Thousands Wasted on Worthless Stocks!

Farm folks of Iowa have lost thousands of dollars, buying stocks they knew nothing about.

In many cases the savings of a lifetime have been squandered.

WALLACES' FARMER
 Good Farming; Clear Thinking; Right Living
 A Weekly Journal for Thinking Farmers will publish, beginning with the issue of February 20th, a most important series of articles, written by Mr. E. B. Wilson, president of the First Trust & Savings Bank of Des Moines. Among the subjects he discusses are the following:

- What Makes the Sky Blue?
- Why the Stock Salesman?
- Why Buy Promoted Stocks?
- What is a Stock Holder?
- Take Counsel Before, Not After.

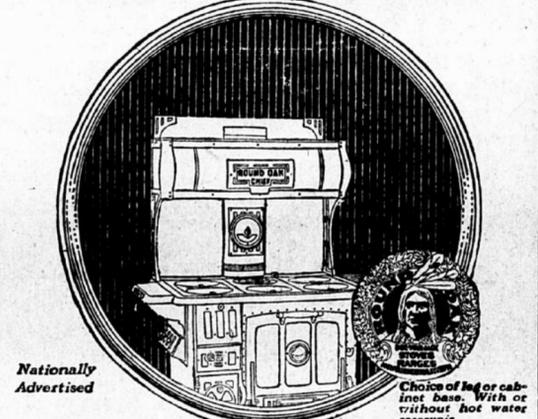

Mr. Wilson, as a member of the Legislative Committee of Iowa Bankers Association, and through articles in the press, has been active in opposing the promotion of "blue sky" companies.

Don't be afraid of an opportunity getting away from you. It is always easy to buy, but not so easy to sell. Just wait and read these articles before investing your good money. They bring out many things you may not know or have not thought of before. They may save you hundreds of dollars.

Get a copy of Wallace's Farmer this week—read these articles over with the whole family. The boys ought to have this information—it may be worth big money to them some day.

Wallace's Farmer sells on its merits alone, $1.25 a year or $3.00 for three years. Subscriptions ordered this week will receive Mr. Wilson's entire series of articles on investments in stocks. Orders may be placed with the local subscription Club Raiser in almost every neighborhood, or sent direct to
