NEW ARRANGEMENT FOR FIRE ALARMS

West Keokuk Hose Reel Will Not Have to Come to Sixth Street Station for Every Fire Call.

TERRITORY IS DEFINED

Will Not Respond for First Alarms in Eastern and Northern Parts of Town.

The city council passed a resolution today that will be heartily applauded by the firemen at the West Keokuk engine house. The resolution states that hereafter the hose reel at the West Keokuk station shall not respond to first alarms for any fire in the territory north of the central line of Palace street or west of the center line of Ninth street. The reel, however, will have to answer any second alarm in the above named territory.

As it is now, on every alarm turned in from the district described, the West Keokuk reel is taken to the Sixth street station and remains there until the truck has returned. This run is usually for nothing and the reel is called to the central station some times two and three times a day when the truck goes out on flue fires.

The council's action is the result of complaints made by merchants and residents of West Keokuk that through the old arrangement a large territory is left unprotected in case of a fire.

The council also passed a resolution announcing the appropriations for various expenditures for the fiscal year beginning April 3, as required by state law.

MAKING PLANS FOR BIG SUNDAY SCHOOL

Westminster Presbyterian School Will Have Haldor Lilienas to Direct Singing.

The attendance at the Westminster Sunday school has increased every Sunday during the evangelistic campaign and it is hoped that the coming Sunday will show a still greater increase. Mr. Haldor Lilienas will lead the singing and will sing a solo. The newly elected officers for the year will be installed on Sunday morning.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Phantom Witness," three reels, is the motion picture play at the Orpheum tonight. The cast is Kathryn Adams, Edwin Stanley, William Burt and Sam Niblack.

A miserly man, guardian of a girl, soon to be married, has had charge of his ward's property so long that he regarded it as his own.

The girl's fiancée was the district attorney. She often came to the court room. Suddenly she died.

Her guardian had been very solicitous regarding her health. But there was the very significant fact that she bought the poison herself.

No one had any reason to suspect the apparently heartbroken uncle, and a verdict of suicide was brought in.

As the district attorney sat alone in the court room the spirit of his sweetheart appeared to him, and told him the true story of her death. Her guardian had played upon her fears by placing rats under the flooring of the house. Nervous and terrified she had readily accepted the old man's disavowal, repatriation and real punishment of the submarine commander are the strongest actions expected by even the most sanguine administration men. Others are hopeful a settlement of the whole submarine issue may be brought about as the price of maintenance of diplomatic relations.

ered at the white house to consider the situation.

The evidence in the hands of the government it is said, is conclusive, though its exact nature is not revealed. How large a part is displayed by the report of military and naval attaches on their investigations at Bologna, is not known.

The state department had no official word substantiating the Berlin report that Germany desired further details regarding the Sussex case and it is hinted such a request, if made officially, would not be looked upon kindly.

The attitude appears to be that the one thing now expected from Germany is a declaration of her intention in regard to the Sussex case, based on the fact that one of her submarine commanders was guilty.

It has been indicated so strongly in recent days that the government is preparing to break off relations in the event proof against Germany is conclusive, that many officials do not see the possibility of Berlin declaring herself in a way that will avoid this rupture.

suggestion that she go to the drug store and buy a drug to dispose of them, and then he contrived to slip part of the drug into the glass of water.

An inquiry was instituted, but all witnesses were positive that the girl had committed suicide until the old guardian was called to the stand. The merciless cross examination of the district attorney surprised and terrified the guilty man. Facts concerning the girl's death which he thought no one else knew were in the possession of the relentless prosecutor. It seemed to the murderer that the dead girl stood beside him as her sweetheart hurled question after question at him. Finally, terrified and cowering, the guilty wretch was imprisoned.—Advertisement.

Song Festival Tonight.

Another big song and musical festival by Keokuk's foremost song and musical artists, comprising Guerdon Colvin, Dan Agne, Kenneth Whetstone and Clyde Martin, is slated for the Hippodrome theatre tonight. This festival will in all probability be more brilliant than the first entertainment that these superb artists rendered at this theatre last Monday. Kenneth Whetstone and Guerdon Colvin will sing new songs tonight and it is safe to state that these two clever artists will perform more brilliantly than heretofore as they have been rehearsing their act for the past four days.

The lights and shadows of modern stage life are vividly shown in the latest World Film Corporation success, starring the always charming and captivating beauty, Alice Brady, which bears the alluring title of "The Ballet Girl." New York life and the spirit of Broadway are infused throughout "The Ballet Girl," leading to its dramatic moments striking impressiveness and to the scenes played in lighter vein a sparkling vivacity that enchants.

"The Ballet Girl" is to be shown at this theatre tonight in addition to the song festival. Make sure to be in attendance. First show starts promptly at 7 p. m., second at 8:15 and last at 9:30. Admission 5 and 10 cents.—Advertisement.

LIQUOR APPLICATION HEARING CONTINUED

John Brogenzer Wants Permit Transferred—Suit for Divorce is Filed in District Court.

Hearing of the application of John Brogenzer to have his permit to sell intoxicating liquors for medical use, transferred to No. 30 North Fifth street from No. 13 North Sixth street, has been postponed until a later date. The hearing was set for this week. Brogenzer was granted a permit to sell intoxicating liquors for medical purposes on January 5, 1916, at No. 13 North Sixth street. He shows to the court that the expiration of his lease on this building forces him to move, and he asks for a change in the permit.

A suit for divorce has been filed by Pansy Stice vs. Arthur Stice. Cruelty is alleged as grounds for the action. Plaintiff asks for decree of divorce, restoration of her maiden name of Garret and for the custody of a minor child, nineteen months old.

Beer Parties Legal.

COUNCIL BLUEFFS, Iowa, April 6.—In freezing Frank Miller, arrested on a charge of having a "beer party" in his home, Judge F. A. Campbell held that form of entertainment to be perfectly legal in Iowa, even though the state is "dry." The only thing that can rob the occasion of respectability and bring it within the proper notice of the law is the presence of a minor at the party, the court held.

Hamilton Gate City

Hamilton, Ill., April 7

One of the most notable society events of early April, was the marriage of Miss Blanche Durand and Samuel Stewart Carlisle of Burnside, Thursday afternoon at the home of her mother Mrs. Lucy Durand. The ceremony, which was read by A. L. McArthur, was witnessed by only the immediate relatives and intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shepherd of Adrian were the matron of honor and the best man.

White hyacinths and ferns were used for decorations. The bride was becomingly dressed in white, messaline with shadow lace trimming. A wedding supper was served immediately after the ceremony. The bride who has grown to womanhood in this city, is a capable girl with a large circle of friends. Many social affairs have been given in her honor the past two weeks. The groom is associated with his father in the elevator business in Burnside and is one of the substantial business men of that little city. Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle left on the evening Wabash for a short trip, after which they will be at home to their friends in Burnside.

An informal leap year dance was enjoyed by a number of the young people Tuesday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall. Turner's orchestra furnished the music.

The Hamilton Music club held an interesting meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Edward Agnew. A spring and bird program was given and greatly enjoyed by those present. Those on the program were Misses Golda Brant, Leslie and Mary Hastings, Hazel Cuedden, Valentine Dadant, Daisy Hosford and Earl Wood. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Neal Daugherty.

The Current Event club will have an open meeting Saturday at the home of Mrs. Ben Matthis, at which the M. F. S. and the P. E. O. societies will be special guests. Dr. Hoover of Carthage will speak for the ladies on "Siberia; Its Past and Future."

Long Commission Co., Grain Letter. [Furnished by Long Commission Co., 403 Main. Telephone 100.]

Wheat—A very irregular market prevailed in wheat, early prices being sharply higher and a quick break of about 2 cents occurred, after the April government report. The report showing a marked decrease in conditions since December. The total being 9.4 per cent as compared 3.5 for the ten year average. An indicated yield of 495 million bushels of winter wheat is probably too high, because the most reliable reports indicate an abnormal loss in acreage due to poor seed and a late start last autumn. While there will doubtless be reports of a temporary bearish nature enough to cause some quick setbacks in prices the general situation, both as regard winter and spring wheat will eventually prove bullish.

Corn—There was a strong undertone to the corn market which the majority of local traders used for profit taking the gradual absorption of offerings and some covering of shorts who sold early, brought a sharp upturn to the highest prices of the day. While cash demands do not seem to be urgent, there is little corn offered and the market easily rallies. There seems no good reason to expect corn prices lower. The poor crop and wastage of the past season.

Oats—Oats were held in check by reports of increased acreage and fairly satisfactory progress in seeding in central Illinois. Receipts continue small and prospects are for a further decrease in the visible supply on Monday. The buying side looks best on moderate breaks.

Horse and Mule Market. ST. LOUIS, April 6.—Horses—Southern trade is dropping off as values during the day were plainly the decline. While demand at present for southern stock continues to be fairly good, it is not sufficient to justify the amount of stuff that is coming in, and were receipts would proportioned to the demand, that trade would continue quite profitable.

Big horses suitable for eastern buyers are arriving slow. The demand for that type is the strongest it has been in many months, but dealers cannot get sufficient material to supply the many eager requests. The market for that line of stock is fully up to, if not above, those of year ago.

Foreign grading is slackening up, probably due to the inability of the allied powers to secure transports for their supplies. The Belgians are doing nothing on the market this week, while both French and Italians are buying lighter than common.

Heavy draft, extra $150@180. Eastern chinks $140@180. Southern horses, good $70@100. Southern, plain $40@60. Southern, common $100@200. Choice saddlers $50@80. Plugs $5@8.

Mules—prices were steady with those of a week ago and in the market owing to lighter receipts, is in better shape than it was this time last week. The demand does not seem particularly continued to any type of mule, but more to the quality, all good mules finding a ready outlet at fair prices.

16 to 16 1/2 hands $250@275. 15 to 15 1/2 hands $125@150. 14 to 14 1/2 hands $75@100. 13 to 13 1/2 hands $45@60. Plugs $25@30.

the food problem in the central empires.

The apparent withdrawal of the early German demand for an indemnity, was regarded in London as the greatest concession suggested in the chancellor's speech. It was made at the risk of harsh criticism at home. The Germans had been led to believe in previous statements from the government that a large part of the burden imposed by huge war loans, would be lifted from their shoulders when the allies were forced to pay great sums of money at the conclusion of peace.

"EASY STREET" IS NAME SUGGESTED FOR BRIDGE ROAD

How does "Easy street strike you, as the name for the new street which will connect the bridge viaduct with Main street.

Perhaps it would be well to add that the reference is to any grade of the street, not to any opinion.

"Bridge street" is another name suggested for the approach. "Easy street" has been suggested several times as the moniker for this short stretch of roadway, and perhaps the council will adopt the name when the time comes to christen the new highway.
