Orin Heyward Electrocuted While Working on Transmission Line at Hulls, Illinois, Yesterday.

BODY TO HANNIBAL, MO.

Walked Into 11,000 Volt Circuit Despite Warnings From Fellow Employees—Keokuk Lineman Burned.

Orin Heyward, a lineman in the employ of the Mississippi River Power company, came into contact with 11,000 volts of electricity while working on the transmission line at Hulls, Ill., yesterday morning, and died at 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon from the injuries received.

The body was taken to Hannibal, Mo., where it will be held, awaiting word from relatives. Mr. Heyward was about thirty years of age and had been in the employ of the water power company for several months.

He was considered a competent, experienced workman and his friends are unable to understand how he came to take the fatal mistake that ended his life.

Mr. Heyward, with a force of eight or ten other men, was at work on the transmission line that runs from the dam here, near the sub power station at Hulls.

Into 110,000 Volt Circuit. He was working on a temporary platform attached to one of the towers or supports of the transmission line. The power had been turned off on that part of the line on which the men were working.

It seems that Heyward walked over the platform into dangerous territory into a 110,000 volt circuit. This happened at 8:30 o'clock on Sunday morning.

Death did not result until 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Officials of the water power company stated today that they were at a loss to know why Heyward invaded the dangerous territory. He did it in spite of warnings that were given him.

L. E. Dickinson, an employee of the water power company who resides here, was an eye witness to the accident. He stated that Heyward was warned.

As soon as the accident happened, medical aid at Hulls was summoned and everything possible done to save the injured man's life. The fight was a vain one, however.

There had entered his body 110,000 volts of electricity and it is surprising that he was not killed instantly.

The body has been taken to Hannibal and will be held there until it is claimed by relatives. Heyward had been working in the Hulls territory for some time. Since he has been employed by the water power company he had been living at various places along the route of the transmission line.

His friends here will all be sorry to learn of his terrible death.

Keokuk Man Hurt. Grant Midman of 1912 Palean street, this city, was burned on the arm by molten metal which fell at the time of the accident.

YOU CAN HAVE PINK CHEEKS

What causes the color to fade from pink cheeks and red lips? In a word it is thin blood.

When the fading color in cheeks and lips is accompanied by a loss of brightness in the eyes and an increasing heaviness in the step, the cause is to be sought in the state of the blood.

A hundred causes may contribute to the condition of thin blood that is known as anemia. Overwork, lack of out-door exercise, insufficient rest and sleep, improper diet, these are a few of them.

The important thing is to restore the blood to normal, to build it up so that the color will return to cheeks and lips.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the great blood builder and invigorator. They begin at once to increase the red corpuscles in the blood and the new blood carries strength and health to every part of the body.

Appetite increases, digestion becomes more perfect, energy and ambition return.

A booklet "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. if you mention this paper.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes, $2.50.

AMUSEMENTS.

Marguerite Clark Tonight. For the last showing tonight the Grand offers Marguerite Clark, peerless among screen stars, and the beloved of all theatre goers, in her newest and the most beautiful picture of her career, "Out of the Drifts."

Large St. Bernard dogs, used in rugged mountain countries, and larger than the dainty little star, with the picturesque grandeur of Alpine surroundings forms the background for Marguerite Clark's appearance in this notable Famous Players-Paramount picture, "Out of the Drifts," a tale of the eternal snows, of avalanches, dizzy heights and yawning chasms.

But the battle against the elements is not the only one in which the adorable Famous Players star is pitted against a powerful adversary. She is a simple, unsophisticated little shepherdess whose innocence and beauty arouse in a dissolute visitor at the village which is her home, the lowest impulses of his nature.

But the very ingenuousness which leads her into this trap proves her salvation, for it in turn awakens a sense of shame and repentance in the man, who, as a result thoroughly changes his mode of life and makes himself worthy of her truest love.

Although the environment of "Out of the Drifts" is different from anything in which this star has ever appeared on the screen, it retains the same irresistible charm and the unforgettable personality with which Miss Clark invests every role which she assumes.

Father John's Medicine is not a patent medicine, contains no injurious drugs, but is a pure food medicine, for those who are weak and rundown.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women, who immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can't get feeling right, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and refreshing, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is just as important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

How Physiologists Regard Coffee

In a recent article, Dr. W. A. Evans, editor of the "How to Keep Well" column of the Chicago Tribune, says:

"In order that no misunderstanding may arise, I should say that physiologists regard Coffee, Tea, Tobacco and Whiskey as drugs in the same sense as Opium and Cocaine are. From coffee at one end of the line to cocaine at the other, no pot has the right to call the kettle black."

The average cup of coffee contains about 2½ grains of caffeine, a habit-forming drug—not enough in one cup to seriously harm. But, when used regularly, it is for many the cause of sleeplessness, nervousness, heart trouble, mental and physical fatigue, and a host of other complaints.

POSTUM

on the other hand, is a pure food-drink made of roasted wheat and a little molasses. It tastes much like coffee, but contains no caffeine nor other injurious drug.

Postum comes in two forms: The original Postum Cereal, which must be boiled; 15c and 25c packages; and Instant Postum, a soluble form that produces the beverage instantly—a level teaspoonful to a cup of hot water; 30c and 50c tins. Both forms are equally delicious, and the cost is about the same—one-half cent per cup.

Even a ten-day trial will place the average person far enough away from coffee troubles to prove
