A real bargain in King Plumbing Co's window.

The Sunday school of Trinity church is so crowded for room that the officers have been trying to devise plans to provide more room. The primary department with an attendance of from 150 to 200 is cramped into one little room. To relieve the cramped condition upstairs the Ruthaan class has been built across and a partition has been built across the large basement room dividing it into two large rooms for the accommodation of the Young Men's club and the Ruthaans.

IDAHO WOMAN TAKES INTEREST IN FIGHT Former Montrose Resident Wants to Help Hawke's; Women Get Equal Suffrage.

A former resident of Montrose, now of Boise, Idaho, Mrs. Grace Johnesse Workman, is interested in the question of equal suffrage for Idaho. She sends a letter to The Gate City in which she tells some interesting things about the equal suffrage movement in Idaho, especially touching on the death of Frank Steunenberg, the martyred governor, who was born in Keokuk.

Following is her letter: "I am now a resident of Idaho and a voter, but I was born and raised in Montrose, Lee County, Iowa, and feel a deep interest in the Iowa suffrage campaign and would like to contribute my little effort toward your success.

The martyred governor, Frank Steunenberg, who signed the amendment which gave Idaho women the ballot, was born in Keokuk. Now I believe I can secure an original copy of the first suffrage bill in this state, or at least a certified copy, with the seal of the state attached; can also obtain a large picture of the lamented governor; newspaper clippings relative to his tragic death; clippings about the suffrage campaign in Idaho, and possibly a few pictures of voting places in Boise on election day, where women not only vote, but in the majority of cases, act as judges and clerks at elections.

It occurs to me that a display of these, tactfully arranged in a prominent window on the eve of the suffrage election, might arouse local pride and perhaps win votes. "Please advise me at once if this material could be used and its care and safe return guaranteed.

"My husband when a member of the second session of the Idaho state legislature, introduced the first equal suffrage bill, which was defeated by one vote, but a similar bill was carried at the next session and Idaho took a forward step in the onward march of civilization.

"Yours for the cause, "GRACE JOHNESSE WORKMAN."

RUNAWAY BOYS FROM HERE ARE SENT HOME

Burlington Officials Find Two Tearful and Hungry Lads and They Sent Them Back.

Two runaway boys from Keokuk, who were hiding in a box car in the railroad yards, were picked up last night by Special Agent Aschoff and placed under the care of Police Matron Ransom according to the Hawk-Eye. Both were quite young, one giving his name as John Brown, ten years old, and his companion, Frank Hogan, only two years older.

In some manner or other, according to their story, they fell in with a bunch of tramps in Keokuk who persuaded them that the life of a hobo was the real thing and by means of many glowing promises got the youngsters to go with them. The party climbed into an empty box car at noon and landed in Burlington at about six o'clock last evening. Upon arriving here the tramps left the car and it was during their absence that the boys were found.

At the police station both kids professed to be repentant and hungry and were loud in their tearful demands to be returned to their mothers. After a thorough and much needed cleaning up Mrs. Ransom placed the youthful travelers on the 11:20 train for Keokuk, after exacting a promise that in the future they would stay far away from any place that even looked like a tramp. And it is a safe guess that after the coming interview with their parents, Johnny and Frank will be more than willing to keep this promise and for a short time will have a decided aversion to sitting down.

Daily Stock Letter. NEW YORK, May 13.—New York Evening Sun financial review today said: Little naturally was expected of the stock market today in consequence of the widespread derangement of the city's business occasioned by the great preparedness parade, and the early dealings were highly professional with activity centering largely upon specialties and pool and clique issues. First prices were generally higher in a continuation of the movement which characterized yesterday's closing half hour.

Activity was fairly well distributed among the various specialty groups, but as the trading advanced the motor issues, particularly Maxwell, Studebaker and Willys Overland, moved further to the front

O'DONNELL CASE REVERSED: SECOND TRIAL IS ORDERED

Iowa Supreme Court Holds That Keokuk Man, Convicted of Murder, Have Another Chance.

NOT ENOUGH EVIDENCE

Jurists Seem to Think Circumstantial Evidence Not Sufficient to Warrant First Degree Penalty.

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 13.—Mathias Martin O'Donnell of Keokuk, convicted at Fort Madison of the murder of his wife, Inez, and sentenced to hang, will get a new trial, the state supreme court today handing down an opinion reversing the lower court and saying "evidence does not justify conviction of murder in the first degree."

The case is remanded for re-trial. O'Donnell was sentenced to hang last fall, but an appeal of his case stayed the execution, the first in Iowa since the Junkin execution for the Ottumwa murder eight years ago. Inez O'Donnell, the slain woman, was found nude, groaning in the basement of their Keokuk home from injuries from which she later died. Most of the evidence against O'Donnell was circumstantial, based upon
