of men was out searching for a short circuit on the company's transmission line to Warsaw. About half way between Hamilton and Warsaw a tree was found that had blown over, and some of the wet limbs touched the wires. This made a short circuit, and considerable current was lost whenever the wind blew the branches close against the wire. Light and power service was uninterrupted. The short circuit was detected by delicate instruments at the substation which indicated trouble some where on the Warsaw line.

The annual convention of the Allen Endeavor league will be held in Day-enport June 27 and 28. Rev. D. E. Butler, superintendent of the Keokuk district, will attend. Speaking of the district, will attend. Speaking of the meeting, Dr. Butler said:

"This gathering of the young pe ple of my race is preparatory to our biennial young people's congress to be held in Nashville, Tenn., in August, the second of its kind ever to be held—the first being in Atlanta, Ga., August, 1914. "Our conference embraces, the states of Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and the two Dakotas.

"Our annual report for 1915 show-ed that within these confines the combined enrollment of young people was 5,526.

"The distinct society organizations, number 112, while the amount of money administered by them was $5,508.31. The work of these organiza-508.31. The work of these organiza-tions is along missionary, educational and social service lines.

"The Christ idea and the spirit of our common country is carried to them and they co-operate in the work of human betterment, for this is the day when every life counts in its in-fluence upon the community at large. "Our rising young must render to God and the people a broader and a better service, and the voice of duty calls us to so labor that they may have both the capacity and the will. "A world of credit must be given to the public press because of the in-fluence it has wielded in our behalf. It has secured for us the hand of help. Kept back the hand of hindrance and told us that to be great, we must first be good." Rev. Butler will conduct a Young People's league meeting at Rethel church, Seventh and Morgan streets, a process whereby real lager beer is now furnished in concentrated form in small packages.

The process of reducing milk and other liquids to a powder by evaporation has been known for years, but this is the first time that beer has ever been successfully offered to the public in this highly concentrated form. And now anyone may have, in his own home, anytime, anywhere, a lager beer. This new discovery contains all the ingredients necessary, having the same foam and sparkle as the Best Brewery Beer. Just add water and a little sugar and you have a beer that is really better tasting, more healthful, and superior in many ways to the usual brewery lager. This new discovery is already being used and welcomed by thousands of families in wet as well as dry territory, because of the excellence of the brew, and because it can be shipped anywhere by Parcels Postright to your door-step. The cost of this lager beer has been reduced so low that it is now considerably less than a penny a glass. Write today, or send this coupon to Mr. A. S. Shuh, at 4190 Third Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, for an interesting account of his discovery and his free trial offer.
