IOWA CENSUS IS PUBLISHED

Nine Hundred Pages Will be Extent of Volume Edited by Ora Williams.
DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 22.—The Iowa state census 1915 will be published and ready for use in about ten days. The book will be for free distribution, so far as the supply will go. It is expected there will be quite a demand for the book, especially when its contents are known.
Ora Williams, editor of the Census, sent the last "copy" to the printer today for the book, being the last part of the index, which of course remained to be printed. Neither could the preliminary or discussion and analysis part of the book be completed until after all the tables had been set containing the vast statistical matter gathered by the census enumerators of the state. Now it is all finished.

And as for the big free street parade, a feature that will never grow old in public fancy and popularity, the display of the John Robinson shows is reported to challenge comparison.

The Eye-Pee club of the Commercial league tightened their grip on first place Saturday, by defeating Hulskamps, while the Kay-Bees, hitherto reckoned as a good bet for champs, were losing to the Wye-Dunn team. The Kay-Bees claim they are not beaten yet, and that they will cop both the postponed games, which they have yet to play with the Hulskamp team. They will then have a postponed game to play with the Eye-Pee team, which will decide the championship.

Much interest centers on the finish of this close race in the mercantile organization, and large crowds witnessed Saturday's games.

The score in the Eye-Pee and Hulskamp game follows:

[By H. C. Hamilton, United Press Staff Correspondent.]
FORREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 22.—The challenge round for the doubles championship of the United States is the outstanding feature of the opening day's play in the national tennis tournament today on the courts of the West Side Tennis club here. The match, which will be contested between Maurice E. McLoughlin and Ward Dawson, challengers and Wm. M. Johnston and Clarence J. Griffin, champions, is scheduled to begin at 3:30 p. m.

In the singles play, the first round of which opens this morning, the recognized stars have little to work against. About the only match in which any of the ranking players is given strong opposition is that between Willis E. Davis, of California, and Joseph J. Armstrong, of Philadelphia.

Karl H. Behr, of New York, and Conrad B. Doyle, of Washington, expected to play an interesting match. Kamazaki, the Japanese crack, is pitted against Stanford Geer, Jr., a Hoosier Falls entrant. He is expected to have little trouble.

This morning dawned dark and cloudy and early a slight rain began to fall. Little hope was held that the sun would come out before, but preparations for the matches were not halted.

Fighters Tuned Up. CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 22.—With the fifteen round battle for the featherweight championship at Cedar Point between Johnny Kilbane and George Chaney only a week off, today found both fighters tuned up to the "proverbial pink" pitch.

Chaney has trained hard since he arrived here. In fact, he has juggled the gloves so frequently during the last two days that he will take a vacation today as a precaution against going stale.

Kilbane, however, was out on Edgewater Boulevard on schedule time yesterday in a heavy sweater. Yesterday his training consisted of "work" at the dining table only.

Yesterday's hero: Lew McCarty. After having played all year with the Dodgers and helping them to the top of the National league, Lew was sent yesterday to the Giants.

Fred Merkle, who went to the Dodgers in exchange for McCarty, played a big part in the Brooklyn victory over Cincinnati. He made two hits.

Cobb took a day off and played with a semi-professional team as a first baseman. He hit safely twice and perpetuated a pair of errors.

The Yanks ran down to Cleveland for Sunday and came home with one more defeat checked against them.

Otis Lambeth had revenge for that twelve inning defeat he recently was handed in New York. He allowed the Yanks four hits.

Nick Carter, Cub recruit from Indianapolis went to the rescue of the Dodgers when he twirled a victory over the Braves while the Brooklyn club was trimming Cincinnati.

George Chappelle is coming back to the big show. He will join the Braves, but the Boston club didn't pay $18,000 for him.

Rain prevented the Cards from trying to push the Phillies farther down. "Crucial series" is with us again today. The Browns will battle the Red Sox in Boston and the Tigers will tackle the Yanks in New York.

Benny Kauff got a home run—in Dayton.

Moha Tackles Giant. NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Bob Moha, smallest of the light heavyweights, tonight will tackle Joe Cox, the Missouri heavyweight, in a scheduled ten round bout here. Moha will concede the Missouri giant nearly seventy pounds. Moha will be gaining into the face of an adversary who is six feet four inches tall, compared to his own five feet four.

White Lights Alluring. CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The bright white lights are more alluring than Missouri's simple farm life, declared Ever Hammer, Chicago lightweight today.

Hammer started training for his fifteen round bout with Johnny Dundee of New York at Kansas City, September 11, on a farm at Ethel, Mo., but fled back to Chicago.

Will Have Places. CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Bob Simpson, University of Missouri hurdler, and Artie Mucks, Wisconsin shot put man, will have places on the middle western team which will compete in the national championship track and field meet at Newark, N. J., September 8-9. Names of fourteen of the team were given out here today.

Among others on the team are Sherman Landers, Oregon, Ill., pole vaulter, and Harold Pogue, Illinois university broad jumper.

British firms that have been forced by war conditions to employ women as traveling salesmen report that the work of the female "drummers" is entirely satisfactory.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 22.—Ferdie Welsh, lightweight champion, and Charley White of Chicago who hopes to wrest the title from Briton in their scheduled twenty round contest here Labor day before the Hundred Million Dollar club, today started on the last week of training grind after a one day let up Sunday, after some light road work, both men cut out the gym training and took sight-seeing trips through the Rockies.

White's featherweight and lightweight boxing partners have not been able to stand the terrific mauling of the Chicagoan, so Leo Johnson, welterweight, and Mexican Jack Torres have been added to the White forces.

Welsh has not been half so hard on his sparring partners and while he mixes it freely with them in the training bouts, they have not yet yielded for help. Welsh does his stiffest work with Jim Flynn, the Pueblo heavyweight, wrestling to help his endurance.

The big stadium where the bout will be staged is practically completed. The contractors declare everything will be in fit shape by the middle of the week and the boxers would have a chance to take a few workouts in the ring so they can get accustomed to the light.

The most brilliant array of noted actors ever assembled for one photoplay are featured in this marvelous production.

Among those most prominent are Robert Mantell, Genevieve Hamper, Stuart Holmes, Claire Whitney, Walter Miller, Jane Lee, Genevieve Blinn, Ethel Bruce and Henry Leone. Genevieve Hamper who enacts the role of the "Spider" in this play, has the distinctive honor of having the most beautiful face in the world.—Advertisement.

A photoplay with a story of absorbing interest, a modern-day theme, is the Thos. H. Ince photoplay "Not My Sister," which has its final showing at the Grand tonight. Bessie Bariscale and William Desmond are costars in this excellent production and on the same program will be a comic two act Keystone farce in a comic two act "Not My Sister," the Triangle-Ince feature, is an artist's model. In a moment of abandon, she yields to the advances of her employer, Michael Arnold. As the years pass, her secret remains undiscovered, and she becomes the happy wife of John Marshall. But Arnold comes again into her life. He wants her sister Ruth to pose for him. Grace, in fear that Ruth will suffer her own fate, accompanies her. This arouses the jealousy of Marshall, who threatens to kill Arnold. But arriving at the studio, gun in hand, Marshall finds that Ruth, who has been attacked by Arnold, stabs him to death. Circumstantial evidence points to Marshall as the murderer, and he is brought to trial. The outcome is thrilling and unexpected.

Tomorrow the Grand offers a very amusing and highly entertaining five act Paramount comedy, The Smugglers, in which Donald Brian is featured. On the same program is an especially interesting reel of the very latest events told in motion pictures by Hearst's News Pictorial.—Advertisement.

Are You Going to the Circus. The advance billing announcing the scheduled appearance here on Tuesday, August 29, of the John Robinson Ten Big Shows, is being posted and from now until the opening time of the entrance to the main tent, this familiar query, as old as the proverbial hills, will be on the tongue of about every small boy and little miss, and grown ups as well, in Keokuk and its environs.

The attractions offered this season by the John Robinson circus, now on the eighty-ninth annual tour and coming here for the first time in many years, are said to be high class and as the Robinson outfit is called in the billing matter, are reported to fairly team with feature acts that have been culled from the world's leading amusement marts, regardless of effort and expense. The old John Robinson slogan, "Get the very best entertainment that money can buy," appears to have been almost religiously observed this season by the show management and with very satisfactory results.

From the famous Nelson family of acrobats, the Uylene Troupe of Japanese equilibristas, the eminent equestrienne, Madame Bedini, and her snow white equine performer, "Firefly," the noted Melrose and Meers, and the Connors duo of bareback riding
